JOSEPH SIBLEY'S ONSLAUGHT UPON GENERAL SMITH

Compares Him With Herod and Timour, the Tartar King.

ASKS PRESIDENT TO CASHIER HIM

Facts Admitted in Court-Martial Trial Impossible of Justification.

A KANSAN DEFENDS FUNSTON'S EXPLOITS

Both the Oleomargarine and Chinese Exclusion Bills Finally Pass Both Houses of Congress and Are Sent to the President for Signature.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.

Two important measures were today sent to the president for his signature, the oleomargarine and the Chinese exclusion bills. Both passed the conference stage and were favorably acted upon by both houses of congress this afternoon in their present shape.

In the house, during the discussion of the agricultural appropriation bill, Representative Sibley roundly denounced Gen. Smith for his order to make the island of Samar a "howling wilderness." Mr. Sibley declared that Gen. Smith's method is not our kind of civilization and that this was not Christianizing the world. Mr. Sibley was applauded time and again during his remarks, and as he concluded the applause was deafening.

Mr. Sibley said he had been an expansionist and defended the policy of the administration in the acquisition of the Philippines. Duty and honor, he said, justify our position there. The commercial welfare of the nation demand that we should control that archipelago, which stands as the gateway to the oriental world. He then continued:

Like Another Herod.

"When I have heard the statements made that we were cruel in the conduct of that war, I have thought, perhaps, the partisan was speaking; but when I have read, as I have within the past 48 hours, that a general wearing the uniform of the army of the United States, one who stands under the shadow of our flag, issues orders, not to conciliate a province, but to leave it a howling wilderness and to kill all above 10 years of age, then it seems to me that humanity must have marched backward for 18 centuries and that Herod again appears.

"I have read of Timour and Tartar; I have read of Achilles; I have read of the Saracene scourge, but I thank God that since the tragic scene on Calvary, it has taken 18 centuries to produce a Smith.

"I have read of the 'water cure.' I believe that was exaggerated. Can any man whose blood pounds in his pulses, any man who has read his Bible, or who has been reared at the knee of a Christian woman, justify the perpetration of such cruelties upon another man who wears the guise and the image of his Creator? And yet we hear this man attempting to justify acts by which men are pumped full of water, as nearly to drown them, and then brought back to life by thumping them over the stomach with the butts of muskets. This is not civilization; that is not Christianizing the world.

Not the General Rule.

"I am thankful that these are sporadic cases. Against that, as a man who belongs, I hope, not alone to the Republican ranks, but to the whole brotherhood of man the wide world round, I want the members of this house, on this side of the chamber and that, to voice their protest and against all such measures. (Applause.)

"A friend of mine said a few minutes ago, 'Oh, you had better wait and hear his defense.' I hope the president of the United States will have the courage, upon what the man admits, to discharge him dishonorably from the service that he has disgraced. (Applause.) He admits that he issued the order to leave the province a howling waste and a wilderness, and to kill all above 10 years of age, the innocent with the guilty. That man never ought to be permitted to stay in the service of the United States until the sun goes down. He is a disgrace, not alone to the party, but to every man who ever wore the uniform of the United States, and he is a blot and a disgrace to our present civilization.

"Wait and hear what his justification may be! That man does not live who can justify such orders. (Applause.) I care not how adroitly his lawyers may frame their plea, or how subtle he their reasoning, the fact admitted by his own mouth, that he issued such orders, is sufficient for the hope that there is the courage and the patriotism and the humanity and the Christianity at the other end of the avenue that will not let him wear the federal uniform 24 hours hence."

A Kansan Defends Funston.

Mr. Curtis of Kansas made a brief, but fervent defense of Gen. Funston against the criticism to which he had been subjected. "The people of Kansas," he began, "are proud of the brave and daring record of gallant Fred Funston. (Applause on the Republican side.) He has been criticised for an act which for daring of conception and execution ranks with the greatest feats of arms. He captured the new George Washington—Aguinaldo."

The conferees on the Chinese exclusion bill reached a complete agreement on the bill. It strikes out that portion of the senate bill limiting the extension of all existing laws to the life of the present treaty and re-enacts them so far as not inconsistent with treaty obligations until otherwise provided by law, and extends the laws of our island territories, so far as applicable. It allows Chinese to enter for exposition purposes and retains the provision regarding certification in the Philippine islands.

Who Made a Great Speech in the House Yesterday.

QUAY DECISION AGAINST ELKIN NIPPED FUSION

Democrats and Independents Had Planned to Capture State and Both U. S. Senators.

A WARNING LONG AGO

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 29.—"Senator Quay advised Attorney General Elkin not to be a candidate for governor this time, as far back as January 1, 1901. This was two weeks before Senator Quay was re-elected to the United States senate. He told Mr. Elkin at that time that he could not and would not support him."

The foregoing statement was made to The Gazette correspondent by a Republican leader, one who has been a lifelong friend of Col. Quay and whose word is accepted as absolutely reliable. Corroboration is to be found in a statement made by Senator Quay at the Hotel Stratford in this city on April 16, the day upon which Quay and Elkin met, and Elkin was advised to withdraw from the fight. That evening the senator said:

"I advised Elkin long ago not to be a candidate. I also told him I would not be for him. Witnesses were present, one of whom was my son, Dick."

Violation of Precedent.

The gentleman I have quoted said:

"I spent the afternoon of January 13, 1901, with Senator Quay. This was the Sunday prior to his re-election. The next governor was frequently considered. I asked Senator Quay if he was going to support Elkin. He said he was not. He added that he had, two weeks before, informed Elkin that it would not be wise for him to be a candidate. He said he told Mr. Elkin that in the history of the commonwealth a member of the governor's cabinet never had succeeded his chief as governor. He very firmly told Mr. Elkin that if he continued his candidacy it would be against Quay's advice. This disposes of the accusation by the friends of Elkin that Quay has acted unfairly by the attorney general."

Checkmated a Fusion Plot.

Another Republican leader today informed your correspondent of the reasons which prompted Senator Quay to express his disapproval of the attorney general's candidacy. The Democrats and independent Republicans, regarding Elkin's nomination as inevitable, had reached an agreement for an aggressive fusion campaign. Millions to back the scheme were available. The Democratic state convention was to nominate for governor Judge Harman Yerkes. The selection of candidates for lieutenant governor and secretary of internal affairs was to be submitted to a committee to confer with the independent Republicans, who were to be permitted to name men for second and third place. It was understood that the independents would recommend Coray for lieutenant governor and some western Republican, a veteran of the civil war, for secretary of internal affairs.

The fusionists not only felt certain of electing Yerkes governor, but they were counting upon control of both branches of the legislature and the election of the two United States senators.

Col. Guffey and John Wanamaker, the principals in the proposed movement, were the selected candidates for the senate.

The details of this scheme were submitted to Quay in Washington on April 7, three days before he came to Philadelphia and advised Elkin to quit.

WORK OF COTTON PICKING SIMPLIFIED

The Invention of a Pittsburgher Can Accomplish the Labor of 20 Colored Men.

JACKSON, MISS., April 28.—The first regular contract ever made in the world to pick cotton by machinery has been closed at Greenville, and the crop on the plantation of Morris Rosenstock will be harvested that way. The plantation of Rosenstock is in Washington county, and is one of the largest in the south. Five machines will be used. The value of the machine is at once apparent when the statement is made that it will pick 3,000 pounds a day, while a negro seldom exceeds 150 pounds.

The cotton picker is the invention of Angus Campbell, a Pittsburgher. He has been working on it for 10 years and has so perfected it that it will work wherever it is possible to work a reaper. The machine has stood two years' field tests, and in every instance comes up to the claims of the inventor.

THE COLOMBIANS AFTER THE SCALP OF U. S. MINISTER

Bogota Government Pronounces Hart of Wheeling Persona Non Grata at That Capital.

WILL LIKELY STAY HOME

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., April 28.—Charles B. Hart of Wheeling, United States minister to Colombia, has been declared persona non grata by the Bogota government. Official notification has been given to the president that Colombia finds herself unable to longer treat with Mr. Hart, and she desires that another citizen of the United States be accredited as minister in his place.

Recognizing the undoubted right of Colombia to insist upon having in her capital a diplomatic representative agreeable to her, the president probably will not permit Mr. Hart to return to his post.

Colombia's objection to Mr. Hart is based primarily upon her belief that he has been giving assistance to the insurrection. That government also has transmitted charges arising out of difficulties which the minister has had with his landlord, and the connection of Mr. Hart's son with a business firm in Bogota.

Mr. Hart arrived in Washington a few days ago on leave of absence. He called at the White House and state department, and explained to the president and Secretary Hay from his point of view the facts of the trouble. Officials of the administration are disinclined to speak about the charges made against Minister Hart. It is learned, however, that the Colombian authorities believe that the American legation has been used by the insurgents for getting information.

Mr. Hart is now at his home in West Virginia and will return to Washington to further consult with the president and Secretary Hay. He is eager to be allowed to return to Bogota on the expiration of his leave of absence. The administration has no wish, however, to force upon Colombia a man who may not be agreeable.

Willing to Extradite Kratz.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.—The state department has had some correspondence with the government of Mexico respecting the case of ex-Councilman Kratz, a fugitive from justice from St. Louis, charged with bribery. The man, at the department's instance, is locked up at Guadalajara, but as the offense with which he is charged is not by treaty subject to extradition the department has been trying to procure his delivery to Missouri as a matter of comity.

RECORDER BROWN REMAINS SILENT ON STATE ISSUES

Republicans Want to Know Where He Stands.

COURT HOUSE IS SILENT, TOO

Denial Is Made There, However, That Von Bonnhorst Was Overlooked.

WHERE WAS GOV. STONE ON SUNDAY?

Indications Point to the Fact That He Stole Quietly Into Pittsburgh and Had an Interview With the Present Head of the City Government.

Republicans over the county want to know what disposition is to be made of the state delegates. They think that City Recorder J. O. Brown and the court house officials, who are supposed to control, should make known whether they intend to support John P. Elkin or some other candidate for governor.

There have been numerous guesses about what Brown intended to do, but not a word has come from him. As the party generally is interested, humble workers in the ranks thing that Brown should break his silence, even if it is to say that he intends to do the best he can with the delegates.

Rumors were thick yesterday. According to one report Brown and the county officials, with the exception of County Recorder Von Bonnhorst, had held a meeting Friday morning and decided to turn all the delegates, outside of Allegheny and the Sixth district, over to Elkin. This is denied by Fred W. Edwards and Von Bonnhorst.

The next story floated was that ex-Senator Flinn, J. O. Brown and John P. Elkin held a long conference Saturday. Senator Flinn was out of the city from early morning until evening. It may be that J. O. Brown saw Elkin.

Gov. Stone Was Shy.

There appears to be some truth in the third story. It is that Gov. W. A. Stone spent Saturday night and Sunday in Pittsburgh. Stephen Stone, son of the governor, declines to say whether his father was in the city. It is probable that he saw J. O. Brown. Inquiry at the latter's home Sunday afternoon brought the information that the recorder was in town. Sunday night it was said that Brown's name appeared on the Waldorf-Astoria hotel register in New York. If Brown did see the governor, he no doubt made him believe that Elkin would get the delegates.

Brown knows that Stone does not dare remove him, because a ripping at this time would hinder rather than aid the candidacy of John P. Elkin. Stone has to be kept in the background. The linking of his and Elkin's names would be suicidal to the "plow boy."

When Stone was asked in Harrisburg last night if he was in Pittsburgh Sunday he said:

"I have nothing to say."

Stone was absent from Harrisburg Sunday and did not reach his office until yesterday morning.

Must Line Up "Court House Hill."

Whatever Brown does in relation to the delegates he has to have the co-operation of the men on Court House hill. If he wants to control the city delegation he has to have the O. K. of Arch Mackrell and others. When he gets into the county Fred Edwards and other court house men have to be consulted. With Brown playing a lone hand he could control an extremely small percentage of the 76 delegates. Even though William Flinn is out of politics, his counsel and advice are daily sought. He will have a say in the disposition of the delegates if he so desires.

When the report was started that the court house crowd, exclusive of von Bonnhorst, had turned in for Elkin, it

SOL SMITH RUSSELL
The Actor Who Died Yesterday in Washington.

SOL SMITH RUSSELL HAS PASSED AWAY IN WASHINGTON HOTEL

The Famous Comedian Is Dead From Hiccoughs After Long Illness.

ESTATE WORTH $2,000,000

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., April 28.—Sol Smith Russell, a gentle and genial comedian who has driven away the cares and troubles of thousands of American playgoers, died at the Hotel Richmond this afternoon at the age of 54. It was the end of an illness of over two years, which Mr. Russell bore with patience, never once complaining, never once making life anything but cheerful for those about him.

Mr. Russell had been suffering from paraplegia and was only able to go about in a wheeled chair, but the immediate cause of death was a prolonged attack of hiccoughs, which in his weakened condition he was not able to sustain. When the end came there were present at Mr. Russell's bedside, his wife, his only daughter, Miss Lillian A. Russell, and Frederick G. Berger, for many years the actor's manager and partner.

Mr. Russell was able to go out on Thursday morning and as usual, during good weather, was wheeled about the parks in his chair. On Thursday night a decided change for the worse occurred, and it was seen that his death was a question of a few days only.

Suffered Intense Pain.

Dr. Gardner, his physician, was in constant attendance. Mr. Russell suffered intensely and to alleviate the pain was the physician's only hope.

During the last few hours he was unconscious, the heart ceased its action almost entirely, and breathing gradually grew weaker and weaker. Robert E. Russell, a son of the comedian, will reach Washington tomorrow from Minneapolis, and Mr. Russell's brother, Charles E. Russell, of Kansas City, is expected. The funeral will be held in this city and the interment at Rock Creek cemetery. It was Mr. Russell's wish that he should be buried in this city.

Mr. Russell was considered one of the wealthiest actors on the American stage, his real estate holdings including many properties in Minneapolis. The total value of the estate is said to be more than $2,000,000.

A Favorite in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Russell was one of the most famous actors in America and for many years has enjoyed the reputation of presenting

RECORDER BROWN'S SCHEME IS SHOWN TO BE ONLY BLUFF

SYNDICATE GOT STREETS

Since the warehouse syndicate has succeeded in getting the streets at the Point from the city, without any compensation, Recorder Joseph Owen Brown's pet scheme to remove the freight tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad from Liberty steet to Duquesne Way, where they were to be elevated, has been practically abandoned. The railroad company has secured permission from the city to replace the old tracks with new ones of the most improved order.

The work of replacing the old tracks on Liberty street with new ones was begun a week ago, and it was practically admitted yesterday by prominent railroad officials of the Pennsylvania company that the proposed scheme of Pittsburgh's executive head had been killed. In fact little or nothing has been heard of it since councils gave away the desired streets.

While none of the officials seen on the matter would allow the use of their names, it was stated that the change of the tracks now under way would settle the idea of elevating and removing them to Duquesne way. Several months ago when Recorder Brown organized his famous municipal improvement committee he advocated that the tracks be removed from Liberty street to Duquesne way and be elevated.

Sincerity Was Questioned.

It was said at the time the scheme was suggested that the recorder was not serious in advocating this improvement in his message to councils, his opponents asserting that it was done only to aid the warehouse syndicate in securing free the streets in the Point district.

It was also stated at the time that it would be impossible for the city to compel the Pennsylvania railroad to remove its tracks, and this point was brought out more clearly yesterday when the officials seen said that in the charter of the railroad there was a franchise granting the company the use of Liberty street for its tracks, and that the city was powerless to compel the company to remove them.

A prominent official in the engineering department of the company said yesterday afternoon: "We have commenced replacing the old tracks in Liberty street with new ones, and it will be some time yet before the work will be completed. The new improvement is being made as a matter of necessity.

Fine Roadbed Going Down.

"When the old tracks were laid along Liberty street many years ago the tracks were the best known to railroads at the time. The old flat rail has been discarded by the best roads some time ago, however, and the rail known as the girder rail is now being used in its place.

"This is the rail we are laying at present in Liberty street, and it is the most up-to-date rail that can be purchased in the market today. This girder rail is being laid on cross ties, which makes a better roadbed all around, and when the new track is laid it will be one of the most solid street pieces in use by the Pennsylvania in any city in the United States.

"The change was first ordered two years ago and all preparations were made at that time to make it in a few months. The new rails were ordered and have been in storage in Pittsburgh for over a year.

"It was proposed by some of the higher officials to make the change last fall, and this would have been done at that time had it not been for the improvements being made at the Union station when the tracks were being elevated. This postponed the work until late in the winter, and the city refusing to permit the streets to be torn up until spring, the new improvements had to be postponed until the present time."

Work Progressing Rapidly.

A portion of the new track has already been laid between Sixth and Seventh streets. Carloads of heavy ties and crushed stone are being used to make a solid bed for the new tracks.

The new rails are being put down much deeper than the old ones, and will permit heavier trains to be run along the street. The wishes of the merchants along the thoroughfare have not been consulted.

To prevent any possible stop to the work the new track rails are being laid as fast as the old rails are taken up.

MACHINE PLAN WILL OBSTRUCT ALL BUSINESS

In Defiance of Law Select Council Decides on Separate Committees.

ALL DEPARTMENTS WILL BE TIED UP

President John S. Lambie Refused to Recognize Regular Joint Committees.

MATTER WILL HAVE TO GO INTO COURTS

Ring's Refusal to Acknowledge Fair Defeat Has Resulted in a Fearful Muddle in Councils and Paralysis of All Municipal Legislation.

Pittsburgh councils are in a hopeless muddle. The courts will eventually be compelled to disentangle the knotted skeins. The attempts of the few holdover machine members of select council, headed by President John S. Lambie, to trample on the will of the people as expressed February 18, is the cause of the condition of affairs. The rule of ruin policy of the machine had strong exemplification in select council last night, and as a result the new councils have not yet been able to do any business, and the future looks dark.

The latest scheme of the discredited machine in select council is to have separate standing committees, composed of machine members of the select branch appointed by John S. Lambie, dictated by John Upperman, and to report only to the select branch, and to which all business coming to the branch will be reported. The intention is to ignore the charter ordinance, the violation of which has caused the machine adherents to hold up their hands in horror, and which they are giving as the excuse for the extraordinary action of last night.

Defied a State Law.

The new ideas of the machine were placed in practice last night when President Lambie refused to recognize the reorganization of the committees on public works and bridges, and when Select Councilman John Murphy of the Twentieth ward introduced a resolution which recited many grievances, and finally provided for separate standing committees to be composed of select councilmen alone, to be appointed by President Lambie, and to report only to select council. This was passed in defiance of the fact that an existing state law says that the presidents of councils in cities of the second class shall appoint joint standing committees to consider the business of both branches of councils.

The trouble over this matter began when the clerk called the roll for the reports of committees. R. H. Douglas, the chairman of the committee on public works, arose to his feet and addressed the chair. President Lambie lost his temper and his glasses at this moment. He was unable to see Mr. Douglas, and had to ask to see Dr. W. D. O'Brien, who sat further back in the chamber, and who reported the organization of the committee on sanitation.

Lambie's Vision Was Bad.

Again Mr. Douglas addressed the chair but Mr. Lambie only saw James J. Booth who reported that the committee on libraries had elected him chairman. Again Mr. Douglas spoke, and this time with emphasis.

"Well, sir!" said the president. It is usually customary to address the members on the floor by his ward number, but Chairman Lambie by this time was so angry that he forgot the usual amenities.

Mr. Douglas then handed to a page the report of the organization of the committee, also stating the rule which the committee had adopted to make its reports to select council. Mr. Lambie ruled it out of order, but Mr. Douglas fought for an order, compelling the clerk to make a minute of the presentation of the report. He finally was able to accomplish this and sat down well satisfied.

W. E. Lang had a similar experience when he made the report of the organization of the committee on bridges. Mr. Lambie glared at him even more fiercely than he did at Mr. Douglas, and if possible gave added force to his sneers. He ruled this report out of order, and John Upperman arose to a point of order when Mr. Lang made a motion that the business of the committee on bridges be taken up. The chair decided that the point was well taken, and Mr. Lang sat down after getting a ruling that the clerk make a minute of his report.

Then Mr. Murphy called up his resolution, which is as follows:

Murphy's Ordinance.

Whereas, An ordinance was heretofore passed by select and common councils providing for the appointment of certain joint committees, some of which were to report to select and others to common councils, and it is now declared by a majority of the members of common council, both in interviews in the public prints and by their actions, that it is not within the power of the preceding councils to pass any ordinance or adopt any rule binding upon a succeeding council; and

Whereas, The action taken by common council will have a tendency to retard the progress of legislation and cause conflict from time to time, by reason of the powers of the committee heretofore appointed being questioned; and

Whereas, The usual procedure in parliamentary bodies is that each branch have its own committees, and it is not desired by select council to have the proceedings of the council conducted otherwise than according to law and regular parliamentary procedure; and

Whereas, It is in conformity to law and regular parliamentary procedure that each house have its own standing committees; therefore be it

Resolved, That it shall be and is hereby made the duty of the president of the select council, upon the passage of this resolution, to appoint from the members of select council the following standing committees of select council, viz.: Finance, public works, police, safety, charities and corrections, fire, street corporations, surveys, health and sanitation, parks, bridges, libraries.

The resolution then provides that the president shall be a member of all standing committees, and in addition the committee on finance shall have six members, the committee

Rebuilding of Pennsylvania's Line Down Liberty Street.

...s answers, 12 members; the committee on li... 2 members; and all the other committees, 9 members each, all from select council. Following this the duties of the committees are laid down exactly as fixed in the past for the joint committees, few only changes being in language, made necessary by the fact that papers can only be referred to a committee by the select council, instead of by either branch, as in the past. The chairmen of all committees shall be ex-officio members of all the sub-committees appointed by them. One-third of the committee on surveys shall constitute a quorum; in all other committees a majority of the members is required. The resolution concludes as follows:

"All bills, ordinances, resolutions and orders shall be reported by the chairman of the committee to which the same have been referred, to select council. All reports shall be signed by the chairman and attested by the clerk.

"All bills, ordinances, resolutions and orders introduced into select council shall be first referred to the proper standing committee in select council, and all ordinances, resolutions or orders coming from common council shall be referred to the proper standing committees of select council before action shall be taken by select council on the same."

Mr. Murphy is the select council member from the Twentieth ward. He is a holdover member. His does not represent the sentiment of the people of his ward, who voted overwhelmingly at the February election for reform, and against machine methods. Should he be a candidate, two years hence, his retirement is assured.

Act Is Illegal.

After some debate the resolution passed by a vote of 19 to 14 and at the next meeting of select council Mr. Lambie will make his appointments unless he reads certain very pertinent legislation, including the act of 1868, which will show him that his action is illegal, and will result in absolute stagnation in all the departments of the city government.

The deadlock between select and common councils will then be complete. It will be impossible to do business. The departments will have nothing to do. The salaries of officials and employes are provided for in the annual appropriation ordinance and few of them are likely to worry. But the great mass of the people will know what to do to destroy the last vestige of the machine rule, which can be partially accomplished next spring.

The startling action of the machine majority in select council was the topic of debate in the corridors of city council for several hours after the branch adjourned. Members of common council heard of it with interest and no little amusement at the straits to which the machine is reduced.

Citizens Observe Law.

President Crawford of common council said: "We are proceeding according to law on this side of City hall and intend to do so. We appointed members of joint standing committees because the law of 1868 says we shall do so and this law has never been repealed. The reform element organized the committees and changed the rules with regard to the branch to which certain committees shall report, as we had a perfect right to do. Each council can make its own rules and the councils which died on the first Monday of April had no right to say what rules we shall follow.

"We refer our business to the joint standing committees, as the state law says we shall do, and we take up this business again when the committees report. We shall continue to do business in that way in conformity with the existing law. We shall do business here according to law and if the ring majority in select council wants to tie up city business that is their privilege and we are not responsible. Whatever business comes to common council will be transacted with dispatch and without fear or favor. We have nothing to do with the erratic actions of the ring majority in select council.

Douglas' Plain Talk.

R. H. Douglas, who led the reform forces in select council, said after the meeting: "When Mr. Lambie ruled my committee report out of order I had nothing further to say. If he and his machine majority want to obstruct the city business and tie up the departments, that is their privilege, so long as they have the majority in the branch. But the action of the machine majority in decreeing that select council shall have separate committees is clearly contrary to law, and could not stand for a minute in the courts.

"The idea that each branch of council have separate committees was all right up to the passage of the Wallace act. The law of 1868 and 1873 expressly provided that the presidents of councils shall appoint joint standing committees for the consideration of business. Let the machine majority go ahead, however. They will get their rebuke from the people in due time. The reform element is conforming to state law in every particular and is only resisting the attempt of the old councils to dictate rules for the present councils."

Important Measures Tied Up.

There are many measures tied up now in councils that are badly wanted by the people of the various wards. There are a great many street ordinances and these are always of great interest to property owners. Unless some agreement is reached these will be held up for months. Common council can take up no business that is messaged over by select council, because that branch will not recognize the regular standing committees, and thus the action is contrary to law. Measures messaged over from common council may get through after the separate machine committees have finished with them. There is little question that the matter will ultimately get to the courts, where the entire matter will be settled for good and all. Meanwhile the interests of the city suffer at the hands of the machine, which is courting another rebuke.

Chairman W. E. Sankey of the bribery investigating committee was granted an additional two weeks in which to prepare his whitewash report.

Warm Fight in Select.

The select council was called to order by President John S. Lambie. On the call of wards a few minor resolutions, including one for the erection of an ice plant at Marshalsea, were presented, and when the Twentieth ward was reached Councilman John A. Murphy arose and presented a resolution which, on its face, is illegal, but which Mr. Murphy later declared is intended to facilitate the transaction of public business. This was the resolution providing for the appointment of standing committees. The resolution is printed above. Mr. Murphy moved that it be adopted as read, but R. H. Douglas raised the point of order that, on the call of wards, no debate on measures proposed was permissible. President Lambie decided that the point was well taken. Mr. Douglas wanted the resolution referred to the committee on legislation, but was declared out of order.

T. O. Atkinson presented an ordinance providing for the acquisition by condemnation proceedings of property extending from the south end of the Twenty-second street bridge to Carson street, making an approach to the bridge 100 feet wide.

Chairmen Were Turned Down.

Mr. Lambie soon had the first opportunity to announce his opinion on the recent action of the councilmanic committees in choosing their own chairmen instead of those carefully selected by President Lambie. W. D. O'Brien, chairman of the joint committee on health and sanitation, reported the organization of the committee, saying that he had been instructed to do so by the committee.

Mr. Douglas, chairman of the committee on public works, which, under the charter ordinance, is supposed to report to common council, but which, under the new order of things, reports to select council, arose and announced that he wished to report the organization of the public works committee. He handed the paper up to the chair, but it was ruled out of order.

W. E. Lang got up to report the organization of the committee on bridges and two ordinances and a resolution from the committee. He also was ruled out of order.

Resolution Was Passed.

Mr. Murphy's resolution for the appointment of standing committees of select council was then taken up again. He said it was not necessary to explain why the resolution was introduced, as the events of the evening had shown that there must be some way of expediting public business. At the request of James J. Booth, the resolution was read again and was then adopted by a vote of 19 to 14. Mr. Lambie will appoint the committee today. Mr. Murphy moved that all measures referred by the select council to the joint committees be recalled, and to Mr. Douglas' remark that the committee on public works had acted on some ordinances and that therefore these could not be recalled, Mr. Lambie responded that he understood the rights of legislative bodies to recall their measures from committees.

Mr. Murphy moved the reconsideration of a resolution requiring the director of public works to enforce an ordinance of the borough of Birmingham, requiring the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railway Company to maintain a passenger station at South Nineteenth street. The resolution was rejected at the last meeting of select council. It had been introduced at the instance of residents of the South Side, who desire to prevent the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad from taking away the station. The action of select councils in rejecting the resolution was in effect a permission to the railroad company to do away with the station.

W. E. Sankey, chairman of the bribery investigation committee, said that his committee was not ready to report. He promised to report at the next meeting.

Little Done in Common.

Common council did little. The committees on surveys and finance furnished the only business, and it was of a routine nature.

The committee on finance reported an ordinance providing for the letting of the contract for printing the city controller's annual report, which was passed finally under a suspension of the rules.

The following ordinances affirmatively recommended by the survey committee were also passed: Establishing the grade on Colwell street, Harding alley, Thora street, Reyner alley, Rosetta street, Jordan alley, Graham street, Lamb alley, Artemus alley, Asterisk alley, Comrie alley, Dennison avenue, Gypsum alley, Overman alley, Mathews alley, Mellon street, Morgan street, Wilkens street and Wichita alley; vacating Mint alley; repealing an ordinance relocating Elmer street.

On the call of wards the following new papers were presented and referred to the proper committees: Ordinances authorizing the construction of 15-inch pipe sewers on Plymouth street, from 70 feet south of Grandview avenue to Well alley; Hoosac street, from 100 feet north of Neeb street to Donegal alley; Falcon alley and Kirkpatrick street, from 150 feet west of Kirkpatrick street to connect with branch sewer on Rose street; Olney alley, from Orion street to sewer on Ajax street; Twenty-third street, from Mulberry alley to Allegheny river; establishing grades on Cowan street, from Southern avenue to Prospect street; Gray street, from Southern avenue to Prospect street; Norton street, from Cowan street to Sandwich street; Hall street, from Gray street to Cowan street; grading, paving and curbing of Downing street, from Dickson street to Pennsylvania railroad tracks; authorizing the letting of a contract to J. H. Ward & Son for grading Batavia street, from Oakwood to J. H. Ward & Son's property; opening Griffin street, from Dewitt street to Maple plan of lots; dedicating James alley, from St. Clair street to Mellon street; Mellon street, from Hampton street to Bryant street; Melba place, from Cable place to an unnamed alley; repealing an ordinance locating Sandusky street, from Black street to Colombia street; petitions for the exoneration of the Kingsley House association from the tax assessment, and the reduction of taxes assessed against the estate of John Scully on lots in the Fourteenth ward.

Annual Police Inspection.

The annual spring inspection of the police of the First district will take place today at 2 o'clock in Bluff street. Capt. P. A. A. Brown will command the drills and all the police officers will be present.

THE WEATHER.

SHOWERS.

The confiding young women who hurried down town late yesterday afternoon attired in buttercup bonnets and gauze dresses, and the young men who ventured out with last season's low shoes with doubtful soles—all on account of the yarn spun by the weather man on what "Old Sol" intended to do for Pittsburgh—had a reckless time of it and tripped back home slightly mournful, but with experience that is valuable. It was a little warmer yesterday, but the sun studiously hid itself and before dark it had begun to rain. As the evening wore on the rain became more insistent, as though it had come to stay and the weather man promptly sent out a bulletin that rain would be the main feature of the program today. If his prediction is as accurate as it was yesterday it will be propos to appear in June costume. However, he insists that the indications locally are for rain at intervals during the morning and a slight clearing during the afternoon, with a somewhat higher temperature. Yesterday the mercury reached 70 degrees at 2 o'clock, at 3 it was two degrees lower and by 8 o'clock it had dropped 10 degrees.

SOL SMITH RUSSELL HAS PASSED AWAY

original characters in a quiet, unobtrusive manner and with artistic talent that was inimitable. He was a great favorite in this city and never failed to play here to the largest receipts of any theatrical star in the country. For 30 years his annual visit was the feature of the theatrical season and it has been greatly regretted by his admirers that for the past four seasons they have not seen him on the stage.

It would take several volumes to tell half of the trials he went through before he rose to anything like fame and fortune. He was born in Brunswick, Mo., June 15, 1848. He was the son of Charles Elmer and Louisa Matthews Russell. His father, a native of Salem, N. J., was a tin peddler, who afterward turned itinerant doctor and preacher. His mother was a daughter of Edwin Matthews and a native of Cincinnati. He was educated in the common schools of St. Louis, Mo., and Jacksonville, Ill.

Parents Objected to Drama.

He had a great fondness for the drama although he was kept away from the theater by his parents, and his passion in this regard was only gratified surreptitiously, through the generosity of one of his uncles, Sol Smith, who was an actor at that time, and for whom he was named.

Mr. Russell's first connection with the stage was when he was a small boy. He had witnessed the production of "The Savage of the Rocks of Borneo," and after organizing a company among his school friends, he attempted to produce the play in a cellar. It failed, Mr. Russell used to say, because the boy who played the savage became involved in a row with another boy and broke up the show.

When the civil war broke out Mr. Russell enlisted as a drummer boy at the age of 13 in the federal army, but left the service at Cairo, Ill, in the latter part of 1862, at the age of 14 years, to take up the stage as a profession. He made his first professional appearance as a negro girl in "The Hidden Hand" at a salary of $1 per week. His first experience on the road was on a western tour with Spaulding's Swiss Family Bell Ringers, and then he joined the Berger Swiss Family Bell Ringers—great attractions at that time—and his impersonations of eccentric characters and his remarkable imitations of John B. Gough attracted considerable attention.

First Appearance as Star.

In 1867 he was connected with the stock company at W. E. Sinns' Arch Street theater, Philadelphia. The next three years he was engaged as a monologue entertainer in variety theaters, and in 1871 he appeared in New York at Sina Edwin's theater. In 1874 he joined Augustin Daly's company, and while a member of this organization played Trip in "The School for Scandal" and Collinder in "Masks and Faces," besides several other like characters.

In 1880 Mr. Russell first appeared as a star, opening in Buffalo in "Edgewood Folks," a play specially written for him. The play lasted five years, making solid his reputation as a star. Frederick Berger started out as his manager, and in a short time Mr. Russell was a full partner in the company, which was decidedly successful financially. The play was presented over 1,500 times and at each performance Mr. Russell sang seven songs and made 10 changes of costume.

In 1885 Mr. Russell accepted the position of leading man of the Boston Museum Stock Company, succeeding William Warren. This continued for one season and in 1888 he again traveled as a star in "The Country Editor" and "Felix McKusick;" in 1887 in "Pa;" in 1889 in "Bewitched;" in 1890 in "A Poor Relation," by Edward Kidder, and "The Tale of a Coat," by Dion Boucicault, remodeledby Clyde Fitch into "April Weather." His most prominent plays since then have been "Peaceful Valley," "The Rivals," "The Heir-at-Law," "Uncle Dick," "A Bachelor's Romance" and "Gaon, John Grigsby."

Mr. Russell's last appearance in this city was in January, 1898, when he presented "Hon. John Grigsby." During the week he played for the Press club benefit, presenting on that occasion, as a special attraction, "Valentine's Christmas," the only time it was ever given here.

Mr. Russell's home was in Minneapolis. In 1876 he was married to Miss Alice Adams, a daughter of the late William T. Adams of Dorchester, Mass., who wrote under the name of "Oliver Optic" so many stories for boys.

RECORDER BROWN REMAINS SILENT

was naturally in order to learn whether Mackrell and Edwards were in accord with this program. They deny in the most positive language that any meeting was held or that anything had been done toward turning the delegation over to Elkin.

Edwards Skeptical.

"I do not believe that such action has been taken," said Mr. Edwards, "and if it has, without the knowledge of Mackrell and I, we will not go along with it. In my opinion the delegates from this county will go to the candidate whom the Republicans consider best fitted for governor."

Mr. Mackrell was just as certain that nothing of the kind had happened. He said that there had never been any attempt among the organization candidates to leave von Bonnhorst out of any consultation. He knows of no attempt to turn the delegates over to any particular candidate.

The machine men realize that they have the delegates of the county in their control. They also realize that they are confronted with an uncertain political situation. They are ready to deal. Exclusive of Allegheny there are 31 delegates and it is the hope of the machine to turn these votes in for the gubernatorial candidate that will win. For several years Allegheny county has been voting for straw candidates. This time the old organization wants to go along with a winner. If J. O. Brown were to tell his plans, the above is undoubtedly what he would admit. He will risk his official head to be in line with the successful element in the next state convention.

Committee Meets Tomorrow.

The Republican committee will meet at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. It has been decided that the primaries will not be delayed and that no attempt will be made to adopt the Crawford county system of nominating. It will be decided to hold the convention on Monday, June 9, instead of the day following.

Senator M. S. Quay was in Pittsburgh for several hours yesterday. He will return today and will probably go to Washington tonight. Shortly after his arrival at the capital there may be a conference, at which a candidate for governor will be brought out. The indications are that an eastern man will finally win the nomination.

Senator Quay saw several county leaders yesterday. He had a talk with Col. S. M. Jackson and D. B. Heiner of Armstrong. Friends of Elkin think that they may be able to capture the Armstrong delegation, but it is quite likely that the delegates will follow the leadership of Mr. Quay.

Controller John H. Brown of Greensburg saw the senator. It is understood that plans for securing an anti-Elkin delegation from Westmoreland were discussed. James S. Bescom is counting upon turning these votes over to Elkin.

Westmoreland Probably With Quay.

Westmoreland is near the bottom of the roll call in the state convention and if Senator Quay needs the eight votes from there he will probably find them with him.

J. O. Brown drifted toward the entrance of Duquesne hotel several times yesterday afternoon, but each time he found some newspaper men there and wandered down the street. Allegheny county men who called were Francis J. Torrance, Robert Pitcairn and Judge W. D. Porter. The latter may be a candidate for congressman in the city district. His friends are urging him to announce.

W. H. Penn, county chairman of Washington, saw Quay. He is the personal friend of Congressman Acheson, and the Beaver county trouble was the subject discussed. Unless the Beaver people allow Acheson's name to go before the voters in the primaries, Washington will probably break the harmony agreement and put forward ex-District Attorney Parker as a candidate for senator in the Washington-Beaver district.

Judge Harry White of Indiana visited Quay. The judge said that the call was purely social. White is supporting Elkin.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Is the Only Medicine That Can Promptly and Permanently Banish All Wasting and Dangerous Diseases.

It Restores Lost Health When Physicians Pronounce Your Case Incurable.

If, in springtime, sick people—young and old—act with promptness, wisdom, and decision, suffering, agony, and misery would never be carried into the summer months.

To delay the work of banishing disease, regulating the nerves, purifying the blood, and restoring perfect digestion is a serious mistake.

When the blood is sluggish, impure, and poisoned, when the nervous system is unbalanced, when digestion is deranged, and the appetite poor and variable, be assured your condition is critical, and calls for instant attention before the summer months bring additional dangers.

At this time the use of Paine's Celery Compound will do a marvelous work for every run down, sick, and diseased man and woman.

Its life giving work first commences with the blood, which is made clean and pure; then the nerves are quickly set in order, digestive vigor is fully restored, the appetite is made natural, sleep is refreshing, and the desponding heart is made light and joyous.

It is well to bear in mind that Paine's Celery Compound owes its origin to the most distinguished physician that this American continent ever produced, and his marvelous prescription is publicly indorsed by our best and ablest physicians.

If all sufferers who have been disappointed in the past will promptly start with Paine's Celery Compound, they will be astonished and delighted with the speed with which this wonderful remedy is able to call a halt to wasting and dangerous diseases. It is now making tens of thousands well and strong, and fitting them to enjoy the summer months, which, to the well and strong, are pleasurable and happy.

The Lace Robes at One-Fifth Off.

A discount of 20 per cent on Robes, just as the season has arrived when they can be effectively worn, was such an unusual piece of news that the response was immediate. More Lace Robes sold yesterday than for a good many days collectively. And all on account of 20 per cent less.

A good assortment still on hand ready for those who were not here yesterday. And the 20 per cent discount still holds good.

Lace Robes or embroidered Robes as you fancy.

Porch and Lawn Furniture.

Don't let the choosing go by until just the time you want the furniture most. You're bound to have the furniture, you know—wouldn't do without it. Why, then, buy it now, and be done with it.

By the way, we'll hold it for you, if you're not ready. Deliver any time you say.

Rockers with varnished maple frame and reed seat, as low as 85c.

Arm Chairs to match rockers, $2.25.

Settees to match rockers, $7.

Settees with rockers, to match rockers, $7.50.

Squat Rockers with arms, seat and back of woven reed—$2.50.

Rustic Rockers, rustic Arm Chairs, rustic Swings, rustic Settees, and lots of other rustic pieces, not at all expensive.

Canton Chairs, those remarkably comfortable affairs from China, are shown in several styles.

For very high grade porch furniture see our collection of reed and willow pieces.

A-Swinging in the Hammock.

We have the best kind of a stock, and it's a big one.

Everything good and nothing bad.

Any colors in the way of combinations that people like—the hammock requisites—pillows, ropes, stretchers.

Prices are 50c, $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2, and by quarter and half-dollar jumps to $5.50.

Lawn Swings of Steel and of Wood.

Where there are children these swings are inestimable when it comes to healthy amusement.

They are portable—easily set up; just as easily taken down.

Rather ornamental, too, for either lawn or veranda.

Seat four persons, and the sweep is very broad.

Those of wood sell for $7.

Those of steel sell for $15.

Swing in operation, 4th floor.

"Kin-Hee" Coffee Pot,

the capital coffee pot that makes instantaneous coffee—and makes it so palatable that you'll wonder how it accomplishes the feat.

We said last week that the daily demonstration would cease Saturday. But so many women told us that we ought to keep it on the boards another week that we consented.

Step to the Basement and have a cup of coffee, and at the same time watch the young man brew it. The brewing is the most interesting part.

Black Silk Jackets.

Silk jackets, thanks to the couturieres of Paris who dictate Fashion, are the best, quiet, little styles of today.

More true of the Eton than some of the other styles.

Price $10.

Very smart 27-inch Box Coats of black taffeta—unlined—finished with stitching of black and white.

Price $10.

Monte Carlo Coats.

Black Taffeta and Black Peau de Soie.

Not quite so long as a three-quarter coat, but long enough to be in the extreme of fashion.

They have the advantage of sitting well on any figure—and we know of no silk garment so effectively fashionable for the drive or for evening wear than these same Monte Carlo Coats.

Choose either the lined or the unlined ones, or the plain or the trimmed ones.

$25 and along to $75.

Pictures Half.

Some of our choicest unframed pictures. Subjects for all rooms.

House-cleaning means a rearrangement of pictures—and also a replenishing of the collection.

In the Picture Department of the mezzanine floor we are selling quite a lot of unframed subjects for half prices—among them imported oleographs—18x25 inches—selling regularly for $12—selling now for $6.

Perhaps you have frames which you value as heirlooms. We can furnish you a suitable canvas and the cost won't be so very much. Or vice versa—you may have the picture and want the frame. Either way, see us.

Don't Help the Moths

by letting furs lie around.

Bring us your furs and let us put them in storage. The cost includes insurance against moths, insurance against fire—in fact insurance against any hurt at all.

We can store them so much better than you can—for we have a place specially prepared for that purpose.

Summer is also the best time to have furs adjusted to next Winter's styles. We know what the style will be and can make the changes and have your furs ready when wanted in the fall.

COURT TURNED DOWN MANY IN THE BOROUGHS

Retail List Shows Many Licenses Refused in Towns and Country.

SDOERS WERE PUNISHED

The Judges Were Hard on Applicants Who Had Not Obeyed the Rules Against Late Hours and Serving Women and Minors.

The judges of the liquor license court last night handed down the list of licenses refused and held over in the townships and boroughs. Fewer licenses were granted this year than last year. A good many of those who got a license last spring were refused this time, the court apparently thinking that they did not deserve another one. Saloonkeepers in the boroughs and townships, who sold liquor to women, and did not observe the hours enjoined by the court have found their punishment in the refusal of a license.

Homestead Cashier Dying.

James Ramsay, cashier of the Homestead National bank and one of the best-known young men in that borough, is lying at the point of death at his home in Dickson street, and no hope is entertained for his recovery. Mr. Ramsay was stricken with typhoid fever about weeks ago and suffered a relapse on Sunday. Mr. Ramsay is engaged to be married to a prominent young lady of Allentown, the date of the wedding having been set for early in June.

NEW COMPANY WILL COMPLETE THE BELT LINE

Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad and Coal Company Was Incorporated.

WILL DEVELOP MUCH COAL

Nominal Capitalization Is Only $1,000, but It Will Require $10,000,000 to Finish Present Plans. Classification Yards Planned.

The Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad and Coal Company was incorporated at Harrisburg yesterday with nominal capital of $1,000. This is understood to mean a great belt line system for Pittsburgh. The known active interests in the company are F. F. Nicola, Charles Donnelly, the banker, and T. N. Barnsdall, the oil operator. Some time ago they purchased from John S. Scully and others 12,000 acres of the undeveloped coal properties nearest Pittsburgh and the West Side Belt Line. The consideration was approximately $5,000,000.

The Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad and Coal Company will organize with capitalization of probably $10,000,000 to take care of the heavy investment that will be involved to complete the West Side Belt Line and to install plants for the development of the high-grade coal.

The new interests have James H. McRoberts as their engineer and through his office contracts have already been let which will extend the West Side Belt Line to Clairton, the new town created by the enterprise of the Crucible Steel Company of America, which, through the St. Clair Steel Company and the St. Clair Furnace Company, subsidiary corporations, is now completing a great system of furnaces and steel works.

Runs to Clairton.

At Clairton the Crucible interests have arranged for a terminal railroad system of their own, and have already let the contract to the American Bridge Company for a modern double-track steel bridge across the Monongahela river connecting the terminal railroad system of the steel company with both the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston branch of the Pennsylvania railroad system.

From time to time there has been printed in The Gazette information as to the letting of contracts which will provide for the extension of the West Side Belt Line to Clairton. Already the grading is under way for the line, double-tracked, for 12 miles out from Sawmill Run. Clairton is what is known as Central Point in the scheme which now seems destined to defeat a new seaboard trunk line for Pittsburgh. This is the designation of the Varney syndicate which was among the bidders for the Western Maryland railroad.

To Girdle the City.

It is expected that the Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad and Coal Company will provide the link for the long-sought belt line for Pittsburgh. Its property on the Ohio river at Sawmill Run is an important vantage ground, and it may be that a bridge across to Allegheny would, with a connection with the Pittsburgh & Western, the Pittsburgh Junction, the Monongahela Connecting and the Panhandle, provide the belt line system.

The Nicola interests have a large portion of the Point district at their disposal under a plan to create a great warehouse system there. It has been reported, but not authenticated, that options on some of the important properties there have been allowed to lapse. A connection across the Ohio to Allegheny and then another to the Point district would dove-tail the schemes.

The Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad and Coal Company has taken offices on the twelfth floor of the new Peoples Savings bank building.

One of the important plans of the company is for a great classification yard just beyond the West End, where the company has sufficient surface property, and a system of 300 miles of trackage may be constructed. Plans for this have been considered.

The Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad and Coal Company was chartered through "straw" incorporators, Owen S. Cecil of Allegheny and John S. Wendt and John M. Freeman of Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH SPEECH CRITICISED IN LONDON

The Globe Becomes Wrathy Over Secretary Shaw's Reference to the Union Jack.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, April 28.—The Globe is exceedingly wrathy over the speech of Secretary Shaw of the treasury department delivered at the Americus club banquet in Pittsburgh. The Globe is disturbed by the portion of Secretary Shaw's speech which refers to the "transfer of sovereignty of the Pacific ocean from the Union Jack to the Stars and Stripes."

After quoting the speech, the Globe continues:

"We are not greatly concerned either for the threat or the crude vulgarity which causes Mr. Shaw to apply it to a particular power; but, what impresses us with a sense of American decadence is the manner in which the absurd speech was received. Were an English minister in Mr. Shaw's position to make a similar allusion to a foreign power all the chancelleries of Europe would be convulsed. But England heeds it not a whit and the rest of the world shrugs its shoulders and talks about diplomacy in shirt sleeves."

SCALE ADOPTED BY AMALGAMATED

LAST YEAR'S WAGE SCHEDULE TO REMAIN IN FORCE.

Convention Sustains President Shaffer and Minority Report Is Not Presented. Organizer Flynn Returns to Wheeling and Wants a Hearing.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WHEELING, W. VA., April 28.—Today was a busy day for the Amalgamated association. Two interesting events occurred. One was the partial ratification of the wage scale committee's report and the other was the return of Thomas H. Flynn, the Federation of Labor organizer, to renew his request to be allowed the privilege of replying to President Shaffer's attack upon the organization of which Samuel Gompers is the head.

The convention this morning took up the report of the wage committee. The official report given out by the press committee was that the entire scale as reported by the wage committee had been ratified with a few "slight alterations." What the "slight alterations" were the press committee refused to divulge.

The ratification of scales is another victory for President Shaffer and his policy. It was he who originated the idea of signing the scales in advance and had the policy sanctioned by the executive board. The press committee denies that a minority report was filed. It is true, however, that one was contemplated, and if it were not presented it is because the anti-Shaffer people decided to drop the scheme at the last moment.

The new scales as ratified are practically the same as those effective last year. They will be in force until July 1, 1903. No conference with manufacturers will be necessary after the convention. The scales with the independent mills will be signed by the district vice presidents.

Organizer Flynn's return today has stirred up much ill-feeling among the dominant Shaffer element, and it seems assured he will not be given the privilege of the floor to defend his chief. Flynn's friends threaten to hire a theater and give their alleged "inside history" of the Gompers-Shaffer controversy if the convention declines to grant a hearing.

There is some uncertainty as to whether or not Gompers will come to Wheeling. A Washington special says:

"Mr. Gompers stated today that he knows nothing of the revival of charges against him by President Shaffer. He says he disposed of certain allegations against him at the recent meeting of the federation at Scranton, and he cannot understand how such charges can be again brought forward. But if he should be assailed by anybody he is quite willing to go to Wheeling or anywhere else and meet his accusers."

BATTLE BETWEEN HEBREW WORSHIPERS

Trouble Between Followers of Rabbi Ashinsky and Rabbi Zirertz Goes to Court.

The trouble which has been brewing in the congregation of the Hebrew synagogues Chaverine Brial Israel, in Washington street, for the past six months reached a climax on Sunday afternoon in front of the synagogue of the Children of Jacob in Franklin street. A general fight occurred between the warring factions, and as a result five members of the latter congregation are under bail for a hearing before Alderman James R. Connor on a charge of disorderly conduct and assault and battery. It is probable that warrants for the arrest of others, including several well-known Hebrew merchants, will be sworn out today.

The friction started with the choice of Rabbi N. Ashinsky to succeed Rabbi L. Zirertz in the synagogue Chaverine Brial Israel. The latter had been pastor for eight years, and conducted the service in Hebrew, which was objected to by many of the congregation, and they established a new synagogue, called the Children of Israel, in the old Sixth Presbyterian church in Franklin street.

Sunday afternoon Rabbi Ashinsky, with his congregation, went to the Franklin street synagogue for the purpose, it is claimed, of explaining their position in the matter. The followers of Rabbi Zirertz, however, refused to listen to them, and harsh words and blows quickly followed, until a small-sized riot was in full sway, fully 100 people taking part.

One woman, Mrs. E. Davidson, was seriously injured and several others are said to be under a doctor's care as a result of the battle. Several policemen arrived on the scene while the fight was in progress and finally succeeded in dispersing the crowd.

Yesterday Arian Alsomovitch went before Alderman Connor and made informations charging Victor Silverman, Charles Miller, G. Augperhep, Mrs. M. Kominski and Alexander Silverman with assault and battery and disorderly conduct, claiming that they had been leaders in the fight. The hearing will be held on Wednesday.

KAISER IS EAGER TO SEE MORGAN, GERMANY'S FOE

Everybody in Berlin Asking If the Yankee Banker Will Visit That City.

GERMAN LINES MAY POOL

American Invasion Creates Almost a Panic on the Stock Exchange. Canadian Pacific Forced to Boycott the Beaver Steamships.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by New York Herald.)

Berlin, April 28.—The German steamship lines also are preparing to form a pool. The North German Lloyd and the Hamburg-American have buried the hatchet, while the directors general, Herr Wiegand and Herr Ballin, are working hand in hand to preserve the prestige of the two chief German lines.

The fact that the stock of both the big German lines has not responded to the announcement that a working agreement has been effected with the American-English combination, it shows that not much faith is placed in financial circles in this understanding. The "American invasion" has created almost a panic on the local exchange.

Everybody is asking "Will Mr. Morgan come to Berlin?" Several weeks ago a report was received that the combination manager intended to come here to inspect new fields for conquest. It is understood that in event of Mr. Morgan's presence in Berlin he will receive an invitation to call on the kaiser, who is eager to see the latest "Napoleon of finance." The kaiser has professed great admiration for Mr. Morgan as a financier, but it is also known that he regards him as Germany's most formidable commercial foe.

LONDON, April 29.—The Daily Express asserts positively that the shipping combine has forced the Canadian Pacific railroad to boycott the Beaver line of steamers by the threat that if the railroad fail to comply with the combine's demand no emigrant carried on any ship under the control of the combine would be allowed to travel over the Canadian Pacific.

LONDON, April 28.—The Shipping Gazette this afternoon says: "While it is perfectly true that the White Star line has not been sold to the American syndicate, and that the present owners of shares retain their holdings, we are authoritatively informed that there will be an exchange of shares for those of the new company. In this way the financial interest of the White Star in the combine will be established. The two great German companies, on the other hand, will make no similar exchange of their shares for those of the new company; but they will enter into an agreement, binding them for ten years and renewable for another ten years, by which their co-operation is secured."

WOMEN SCOLD A TRIO OF RULERS

WILLIAM II., EDWARD VII. AND ROOSEVELT INCUR DISPLEASURE.

Sabbath Desecration Charged Against These August Personages by Women's National Alliance—Daughters of the Revolution Come in for a Share.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 28.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt, King Edward VII., Emperor William, Gov. Odell of New York, Princeton university, the Daughters of the Revolution, and numerous other persons have been censured for Sabbath desecration at a meeting of the Woman's National Alliance held in this city today.

It was decided to send an official protest to the Daughters of the Revolution, now holding its annual meeting at Denver, because the daughters traveled on Sunday, April 20. The protest will include a reference to the published itinerary of the daughters which contemplated a trip to the Garden of the Gods April 27.

Mrs. Darwin R. James, honorary president of the society, who presided, proposed that a letter of remonstrance be sent also to Princeton university to protest against a recent baseball match on Staten Island in which he said the university team had a part.

Among other events of recent occurrence against which the alliance took exception were the starting of Gov. Odell on his southern trip on Sunday; the return of President and Mrs. Roosevelt to Washington on Sunday; the sailing of the Meteor on Sunday and King Edward's attendance at a Sunday concert.

The action of a Bucknell college baseball pitcher who refused to play on Sunday was commended, as was also a Young Women's Christian Association Home for Girls, which refuses to allow boarders to receive [illegible] on Sunday.

TORNADO KILLS SEVEN.

Glenrose, Texas, Visited by Storm. Forty Persons Injured—Business Houses Demolished.

DALLAS, TEX., April 28.—A telephone message to the Dallas News from Morgan, Tex., says a tornado passed over Glenrose, a small town in Somervell county, between 5 and 6 o'clock this evening, killing seven persons, injuring 40 more and demolishing much property.

The Dead.

The names of the injured are not obtainable at this hour. One-third of the business houses of the town were demolished. Assistance has been sent to Glenrose from Morgan, but it will be morning before anything like definite particulars can be obtained.

M'MURTRY'S PURCHASE.

Another Notable Addition to the Steel Millionaire Colony in New York City.

NEW YORK, April 28.—(Special.)—Another Pittsburgh millionaire has appropriated a portion of the wealth he has made in the steel industry to purchase a house in Fifth avenue, opposite Central park. George G. McMurtry, president of the American Sheet Steel Company, is the buyer, and his dwelling has cost him at least $250,000.

Mr. McMurtry is a director in the American Can Company, and also in the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway Company. He was president of the American Sheet Steel Company, which has a capital of $55,000,000, before it was swallowed by the United States Steel Corporation, and he still holds that office.

WHAT A SAMPLE BOTTLE OF SWAMP-ROOT DID.

To Prove What the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of "the Gazette" May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

W. F. Lohnes, a prominent business man of Springfield, Ohio, writes the following strong endorsement of the great kidney remedy, Swamp-Root, to the Editor of the Springfield (Ohio) Republic:

Springfield, Ohio, Feb. 21st, 1901.

"Having heard that you could procure a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, free by mail, I wrote to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle and it was promptly sent. I was so pleased after trying the sample bottle that I sent to the drug store and procured a supply. I have used Swamp-Root regularly for some time, and consider it unsurpassed as a remedy for torpid liver, loss of appetite and general derangement of the digestive functions. I think my trouble was due to too close confinement in my business. I can recommend it highly for all liver and kidney complaints. I am not in the habit of endorsing any medicine, but in this case I cannot speak too much in praise of what Swamp-Root has done for me."

(W. F. Lohnes.)
43½ West High Street. W. F. Lohnes.

The mild and extraordinary effect of the world-famous kidney and bladder remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

EDITORIAL NOTE—If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the famous new discovery, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful remedy, Swamp-Root, sent absolutely free by mail, also a book telling all about Swamp-Root and containing many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women who owe their good health, in fact their very lives, to the great curative properties of Swamp-Root. In writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say that you read this generous offer in The Pittsburgh Daily Gazette.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Piano Bargains Attract Many Purchasers to Hamilton's

The way people are responding to our announcement of used pianos at greatly reduced prices shows that customers are glad of the opportunity to save money.

However, it's one thing to save money and another to get a thoroughly good piano. But you can do both at this sale.

Any person can see that the prices are away below regular—and all who are familiar with the names of the best pianos before the public will admit that this lot is exceptional in every particular.

The rush is on, and we advise you to come without delay.

It is only natural that such instruments should be bought eagerly by music lovers. The opportunity is particularly attractive to those who have children learning to play, just as it is attractive to persons who require a piano for practice purposes.

Please bear in mind that the majority of these pianos have been used very little. They have been put into good condition. Some are practically as good as the day they left the factory, but as they come under the head of "used" pianos, it is our invariable policy to sell all such at a big reduction to effect a quick clearance.

The lot represents an accumulated stock that has been growing since the winter sales.

PRICES RANGE FROM $100 UP.

The list includes such pianos as the A. B. Chase, Fischer, Hamilton, McPhail, Cable, Mendelssohn, Haines, New England, Capen, Winthrop, Howard, Hallet & Cumston, Opera and others.

When we tell you that the sale of such instruments as these is a matter of pride with us, you know what to expect. And we assure you that we have pride in only standard makes. No difference how fastidious you are, you can find a bargain here this week that should be a source of gratification for years to come.

SALE OF USED ORGANS FROM $15 UPWARD.

We have added a lot of used organs to make this sale the more interesting. Persons who care for organ music, and many thousands do, welcome this opportunity. The list of names is a notable one, as in the case of the used pianos, and includes the following: Hamilton, Monarch, Burdett, Estey, Chicago Cottage, Clough & Warren and others.

Monthly payments if you prefer.

Klaw & Erlanger's Troubadours in "The Liberty Belles" came to the Alvin last evening and revealed qualities which aroused vivid expectation in the first act, only partially fulfilled them in the second and dashed them completely in the third. It seems cruel to say this in view of the fact that the effort that came to grief was made by as pretty and dainty a group of young women as one might wish to see. There is no distinguished and overpowering beauty in the lot, but they are all delicate Dresden china sort of girls, who win your sympathy and admiration without in the least making an effort to do so. To have a half dozen of these beauties revealed to you for the first time in the cozy and suddenly glory of lace nightdresses in the sanctity of their bedrooms is a shock, but a delightful one, for though you discover later that one of them, the prettiest, is in pink pajamas, there is never any reason for a further shock of any kind. The scene in the dormitory of a girls' boarding school is unique and under some circumstances might be daring, even for your modern musical skit that dares most anything, but there is such an air of natural schoolgirl innocence and fun about the frolic of the "Belles" that one would have to be over finicky to criticise. Besides this first act, which is fetching in the extreme because of its qualintness, the "Belles" have some delightful entertainers among their number who do things and sing songs singly and in groups in the most entertaining way. There is Sandol Milliken, who is quite a pretty little woman, as well as an actress of delicate and charming grace. Etta Butler, the erstwhile vaudeville mimic, looking prettier than of yore, gives a few imitations and gives them well. Then there is Augusta Glose, who is an inimitable singer in a sweet little voice better suited for parlor entertainments. Added to these were first Pauline Chase, she of the pink pajamas, who is a fluffy-haired, cute little creature with big blue eyes and surprisingly revolving feet, a dancing fool, and a lisping girl and a stammering girl and a dozen other girls who only looked pretty and kicked their dainty ankles in the air in the most bewildering fashion. Of the male members of the cast there are very few of them. Harry Gilfoil, was easily the star. His remarkable imitations are well known and whenever he was on the stage the interest was at top notch. Gilfoil has broadened his repertoire of imitations wonderfully since his first attempts in the days when he played a senile old man in one of the Hoyt farces. He comes very nearly capturing all the honors of the "Liberty Belles" so far as encores go. Johnny Slavin is funny in a droll sort of way. Harry Davenport is a good actor, but cannot sing, though one of his songs, "De Trop," made an immense hit. There is no chorus in "Liberty Belles" after the old style, and no tights, but then the latter were not missed much. As to Harry Smith's libretto the less said the better. Possibly the "Liberty Belles" in this respect is a shade less foolish and inance than some of its predecessors. The music, much of it by Aime Lachaume, who directed the orchestra, is best described as "tripping," without distinguishing characteristics, though a little melody, with chorus, "The Lesson Book Song," won a number of hearty encores. "Liberty Belles" is a typical modern musical vaudeville entertainment, better only as its cast is more gifted in a variety of entertainment than some of the other entertainers in trivial concoctions of like caliber and model. The audience was a large one, but after the first act much of the applause came from the outer fringes. After the night noises and the pink pajamas we had only Gilfoil, and he is a host in himself. Gilfoil and the pretty girls, but even beauty is beginning to clog; we get so much of it in the musical comedy.

Grand—"House That Jack Built."

William Stahr, a Superhanger	Wm. Ingersoll
Mr. Dooley, a Detective	John Waldron
Percy Hunting	Wm. Yeranes
Doctor Jack	Wilton Taylor
Medford Madison	Wm. Yeranes
Percival Eggerton	Wm. Yeranes
Gen. Hio, an American	Thomas Meighan
Herman	Dennie Harris
Dobson	Willis Martin
Mr. Mountjoy	Joseph Wiseman
Hester	Sarah Truax
Mrs. Dooley	Alice Gale
Florence	Amelia Gardner
Mrs. Mountjoy	Marion Fallon
Lady Linton	Anna Barclay

George H. Broadhurst's farce comedy, "The House That Jack Built," is machine made down to the ground, but there are no end of laughing situations and the audiences that saw its production by the Grand Opera House Stock Company yesterday were kept laughing almost continually. Mr. Broadhurst's material gave out at the end of the second act and all it goes to make up the third and last act is an afterthought. Happily, Miss Anna Barclay, by a clever piece of character work as a "vaudeville artist," saved this interpolated conclusion and came very near capturing the honors of the production, so far as the stock company was concerned. Her impersonation of the star vaudeville performer who has an unlimited slang vocabulary and a superabundance of nerve, was one of the cleverest pieces of mimicry we have seen for a long time.

From a position of only semi-importance in the cast, and with only 10 minutes' time on the stage, Miss Barclay demonstrated unlimited abilities in this peculiar "tough" character. Her lines were well in hand and to this she gave a quiet assurance of manner and an emphasis of slang that brought roars of laughter from the audience. The entire company played with him when they kept well within sound of the prompter.

Mr. Ingersoll does the low comedy with great spirit, and his "Willie Stah" is a finely humorous character. Miss Alice Gale won fresh laurels in character work, giving a delightfully natural portrayal of the eccentric Mrs. Dooley. Her brogue was intensely amusing and she played with a thorough understanding of the humorous possibilities in that role.

It is too bad that several times during the most amusing situations the loss of lines marred the work of the players, though the defect did not prevent an effective performance as a whole, from Mr. Waldron, Mr. Aobe, in an absurdly funny part of a lisping lover, Wilton Taylor, Miss Truax, Miss Gardner, Mr. Eggenton, Mr. Meighan, Mr. Wiseman and Miss Fallon, who did a cute little Japanese character with great success, and Dennie Harris, whose few moments as a German valet proved afresh his talents in odd character roles. The farce is impossible of description, being one of those silly concoctions that were made by Broadhurst to be laughed over during the hour and forgotten immediately thereafter. The staging was thoroughly adequate, the transformation trick in the second act, when a room is supposed to be papered in two minutes, being especially good. Mr. Radin and his orchestra won a number of encores, while the company good-naturedly responded to a half dozen curtain calls.

Bijou—"On the Suwanee River."

Jack Torrence	Allan Bailey
Col. Clayton	Harrison Stedman
Frank Clayton	Fred Truesdell
Judge Hawk	Lawrence Atkinson
Caleb Croc	Lew A. Warner
Kinks	Fred Truesdell
Maj. Halstead	Harrison Stedman
Dora Mascon	Katrine Miller
Mrs. Judah Hawk	Kate Weston Cherry
Aunt Lindy	Stella Mayhew

More than the usual interest attached to the performance of Stair & Nicolai's southern romance, "On the Suwanee River," which was seen at the Bijou last evening. Breezy bits of plantation life, interwoven with a wierd tale of love and villainy, made the four rather short acts full of interest, merriment and pathos. The happy-go-lucky life of the plantation negro is brought out vividly and the war-time overseer is a type too often true to life. The plot of the play is a story of a beautiful girl made blind by the nervous shock resulting from a murder, betrothed to the son of a planter as a means of saving their property from the cruel greed of the miserly overseer who has got it his clutches during the war; the final villainy of a fortune-hunting pair who seek to marry the miser to the girl and thus save her fortune for them, and the girl's rescue repeatedly from the cruel fate prepared for her, left the audience no room for complaint. The miser, Caleb Croc, otherwise known as Lew A. Warner, is one of the best types that has appeared on the Bijou stage this season. Decrepit in body and gnarled in mind, he displays all the grinding greed of the hated money hoarder, and assisted by his nondescript secretary, Fred Truesdell, who is another old man worthy of praise, Stella Mayhew as Aunt Lindy, the colored mammy, was a great hit. Black or white, for the crowd was kept guessing, she manifested all the traditional cunning of her race, and in her droll plantation melodies brought down the house. The blind girl, Kathrine Miller, is the picture of pathetic suffering. Not the least amusing of the cast was Judge Hawk, the authority on law and hog Latin, who easily put the much-quoted sophomore out of business in his attempt to air his learning. A jolly good feeling pervaded the audience throughout the entire performance, speaking well for the company's first appearance.

Empire "Kidnaped In New York."

Mr. Dooly	Barney Gilmore
Arthur Bivingway	Sherman Wade
Signor Mazzeotti	Albert Edward
Giovania	Fanny Pearl
John Clark	Harry Montgomery
Jack	John Williams
Schutzenwurst	Harry M. Price
Henry Brandon	Robert Wilson
Mr. Newman	M. B. Scott
Park	Major Laird
Mary Menton	Regina Donnelly
Birdie Dufleue	Mina Shirley
Mrs. Clark	Ada Wagner
Mother Hogan	Mrs. Thayer
Cullera	Lillian Shirley
Baby Clara	Baby Virena

A large audience greeted Mr. Barney Gilmore and an excellent supporting company in Howard Hall's sensational melodrama, "Kidnaped in New York," at the Empire theater last night, and went away deeply impressed with the excellence of a play that is full of "heart interest" as well as laughs. The story of the play is drawn from the incident of the kidnaping of baby Marion Clark some years ago and, abounds in startling situations. Mr. Gilmore is easily the star of the cast and does some clever comedy work as Mr. Dooly, detective and newspaper correspondent. The specialties are all fine and brought a number of curtain calls for the participants. One of these, a song, "Taking a Picture of Baby," by Mr. Dooly and the little child actress, Virena, caught the fancy of the immense audience and was followed by a half dozen enthusiastic encores. The play as a whole is one of the best of its class seen at the Empire. The audience was very large and interest never flagged from the rise to the fall of the curtain.

Duquesne—Vaudeville.

Ezra Kendall, upon answering the third curtain call at the Duquesne last evening, stated that this is the first week he has given the monologue he used at the performance. There is no need for the apologies he made for any roughness that might be found in the lines, for his new line of talk is quite up to his standard. Especially amusing is a description of three persons getting their photographs changed, while trying to wash in a Pullman car, which suddenly enters a tunnel.

Miss Camille D'Arville, who enters the week with the advertisement of a $50,000 damage suit for the alienation of her affections, sings, acts, dresses, most admirably, and several recalls were her reward. Charles Grapewin and Miss Anna Chance appear as Mr. and Mrs. Pipp in their well-known sketch, "The Awakening of Mr. Pipp." Although a novelty in this city, having been seen here only a few months ago, there was plenty of interest awakened. The great appreciation of an auditor who broke into roars of enjoyment over the acting of Mr. Pipp on the morning after, attracted almost as much attention and furnished as much enjoyment as the sketch itself. Rosaire does some excellent balancing work on the wire. Laura Bennett and Sallie Stembler have a comedy sketch. Miss May Walsh and Miss Adelina Roattino sang. Clayton White, Miss Pauline Taylor and Marie Stuart give a sketch of New York life and the entertainment ends with the customary kinetograph pictures.

Academy—The Utopians.

Good singing and a lot of new songs of the popular order are the best features of T. W. Dinkins' "Utopians" at the Academy this week. Beside the Empire City quartet the company boasts of several singers with voices that would do credit to many organizations more pretentious in operatic effort. An added feature to the vaudeville bill is a female impersonator, billed as the "Great Richards, the Male Soubrette," who deceived most of the audience, even after he removed his wig. As act by the Jocelin trio, called "Pictures in the Air," is one of the prettiest acrobatic acts on the road. The comedy features of the olio are Reynolds and Pearce in "Beauty and the Beast;" Klein and Clifton, in songs and dances; Washburn and Topack in a funny turn named "The Sporting Editor." The burlesques are much better than the average, in all departments, the rendering of the musical numbers by the girls being especially good. Kay was also in comedy business of Messrs. Pearce, Topack, Klein and Reynolds.

First Orchestra Night.

The first of the season's series of "pops" took place at Duquesne garden last night. The attendance was rather small but the auditors made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in numbers, demanding and receiving encores which practically doubled the program. The orchestra has just returned from a most successful western tour which was begun almost immediately after the close of the regular orchestra concerts. Last night's program, which was divided into three parts, allowing two intermissions, showed a mixture of classic and popular selections, the choice for the former falling upon those which are best and most widely known, thus bringing the entire concert entirely within the range of the most ordinary capacity for music.

The program opened with Herbert's "Festival March," composed for the celebration of the 12th anniversary of the Auditorium in Chicago, and receiving its first Pittsburgh rendition last night. In style of composition and no less in the manner of its rendition last night, it approached as near the standard of brass band music as is possible with an orchestral composition, waking echoes in the garden which were left undisturbed even by the Metropolitan orchestra recently ensconced therein.

The overture "In Bohemia," by H. H. Hadley, performed at one of the orchestra concerts some time ago, was also played and following the encores brought forth by this, came Rubinstein's Melody in F, coupled with "The Flatterer," by Chaminade, the orchestration of which is by Herbert. These two numbers were the most warmly received of the first part of the program. A sort of medley from Faust closed the first division of the program; in this Henri Merck played the great tenor solo.

For the second part of the concert two numbers from a Stahlberg's suite "Die Brautschau," recently played for the first time at one of the orchestral concerts, were programed, likewise a 'cello solo by Mr. Merck and an excerpt from "Die Meistersinger."

A Tschaikowsky march, Nevin's lovely "Narcissus" and Herbert's "American Fantasie" figured in the last part.

For tonight the list is as follows:

March, "Our Native Land" (From "The Singing Girl")	Herbert
Overture, "William Tell"	Rossini
Ballet Music from "Tesanors"	Rubinstein
Waltz, "Weiner Blut"	Strauss
INTERMISSION.
Traviata Fantasie	Verdi
Violin Solo, Mr. Luigi von Kunits.
Cavalleria Rusticana	Mascagni
(Intermezzo Sinfonico)
"The Trumpeter of Sackkingen" (Behuet dich Gott, es war so schoen gewesen. (Trumpet Solo, Mr. Sam. Finkelstein.)	Nessler
Tannhauser, Overture	Wagner
INTERMISSION.
Coronation March, from "Die Folkunger"	Kretchmer
Fantasie, from "The Fortune Teller"	Herbert
Aragonaise, from "Le Cid"	Massenet
Viennese March	Schramel

PRESBYTERIANS HAD A PROSPEROUS YEAR

The Heads of the Various Boards Report That They Are Free From Debt.

The Presbyterian general assembly this year will hear encouraging news from a financial standpoint from the officers in charge in various parts of the country. The boards in every section closed the fiscal year, March 31, with a fair margin. Official inquiry made by the officers of this section resulted in this encouraging news received yesterday afternoon from sections of prominence.

The Rev. E. P. Cowan, secretary of the board of freedmen, in this city, reported: "I am glad to state that we have closed our fiscal year without debt."

From New York the Rev. Dr. Erskine E. White, secretary of the board of church erection, sent this report: "In answer to your inquiry, I must say that this board will close the year without debt, although the demands upon it have been the largest in its history."

The Rev. Dr. Charles D. Thompson of the same city, whose board received $1,000,000 last year, writes: "We are glad to report that the home board has closed the fiscal year with a balance of almost $5,000 in the treasury."

From Philadelphia the Rev. Dr. Craven, secretary of the missionary board, says that it not only closed the fiscal year without debt, but with a fair balance in the treasury. The same reports were heard from Chicago, and other large centers.

Concerning the ministerial board of relief, Dr. B. L. Thaw, secretary, sent this report: "We are most happy to be able to say that during the last two weeks of March and the first week of April the relief board received such large sums of money that it has been able to pay all the appropriations in full for the year ending March 31, and we shall go before the general assembly out of debt, and with a balance in the treasury, for which we are grateful to God for answered prayer."

The board of foreign missions, located in New York city, does not close its books until May 1, so that an accurate statement could not be had.

AN APPEAL FOR AID.

Arkansas Farmers Destitute Because of Failure of Last Year's Harvests.

KANSAS CITY, MO., April 28.—The Star today prints an appeal for money, food, clothing, or feed for stock from the drouth-stricken farmers of Fulton county, Ark., on the Missouri line. The appeal is from Pilot, Ark., and is signed by J. A. Martin, president of the Myatt Relief society, who asks that all donations be addressed to that association at Mammoth Springs, Ark.

The farmers, who lost their crops during last year's terrific heat, passed a strenuous winter, spring finding them practically destitute, and now they appeal for aid to tide them over till their spring crops shall be gathered.

RAILROADS.

A Tour to Boston Under Personal Escort, via Baltimore, Chesapeake Bay, Norfolk, Atlantic Ocean, and Return via New York and Atlantic City. Under Direction of the Tour Department of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

The Tour Department of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad have arranged for a delightful personally conducted tour to Boston on Thursday, June 12. The tour embraces a trip through the Chesapeake Bay to Newport News, allowing one day to visit Old Point Comfort, and Norfolk; thence an ocean trip of thirty-six hours to Boston; thirty-six hours in Boston; thence a night trip via Fall River Line to New York; two days in New York; two nights and one day in Atlantic City; two days in Washington.

Tickets will be sold at the very low rate of $70 round trip from Pittsburgh, Pa., for train leaving S. a. m. and will cover all expenses as per printed itinerary, from date of starting, June 12, to Thursday, June 26, leaving Washington homeward bound.

Tickets will be valid until June 30, 1902, so that those who desire to remain in Washington at the end of the tour may do so without extra cost, as far as railroad ticket is concerned.

The tour will be limited in number, and application should be made well in advance to secure accommodations desired.

An illustrated itinerary giving details in full can be had on application to Ticket Agent, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

Local News of All Pittsburgh

Three Cities, Forty-Five Boroughs, Twenty-Six Townships. Population, 726,064. Area, Square Miles, 316.22. Fifth in Volume of Bank Clearings. Fourth in Rank Among Cities.

Contagious Diseases—Seven cases of typhoid fever, five of scarlet fever and two of diphtheria were reported to the bureau of health.

Fire at Edgewood—An old house on the Howe estate, Edgewood, occupied by two families, was destroyed by fire on Sunday. The loss is less than $2,500.

Not Satisfied With Whittaker—The name of Whittaker, back of Homestead in Mifflin township, is to be changed to Hays Park if agreeable to the postoffice authorities.

Inquest Will Be Held—The inquest into the death of Mrs. Kate McGory, killed in a quarrel with her son-in-law, Michael Conley, at No. 3520 Butler street, will be held tomorrow.

Grocery Store Robbed—Burglars went through the grocery store of Samuel Goldman, in Sixth street, Braddock, early yesterday morning and took less than $50 worth of goods.

Meat Proved Troublesome—Justice Nicholson of Esplen yesterday sent Mike Sadosky to jail. It is alleged he got $275 worth of meat from H. Mardle, a butcher, by false representations.

Child Drank Turpentine—A 2-year-old child of August Brown of Wilson avenue, West Etna, nearly killed itself yesterday morning by drinking turpentine. A physician saved its life.

Boy's Body Found—The body of Richard H. Cooper, 9 years of age, son of R. H. Cooper of No. 322 East Lacock street, Allegheny, was recovered from the river yesterday morning near where he fell in on Sunday.

Struck by a Train—An unknown Italian was struck by a train of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad at Hays station yesterday afternoon and severely injured about the head and body. He was taken to a hospital.

Copper Wire Missing—Seven hundred pounds of copper wire was reported to have been stolen from the Manor Electric Light Company yesterday, and the police were requested to be on the lookout for it.

New Name Necessary—Sheraden must have a new name. The borough is called Sheraden and the railroad depot Sheridanville. The postal authorities say that the names conflict with the names of other and older postoffices in the state.

Killed at Bessemer—An unknown man, evidently a laborer, was killed by a train on the Pennsylvania railroad near Bessemer station last evening. In his possession were found a Westinghouse check No. 8410, a memorandum book and $4 02.

Few Will Be Graduated—The commencement exercises of the Braddock high school will be held in Carnegie hall, Parker avenue, Braddock, June 3. The graduating class this year will be the smallest in many years, having only eight members.

Church Walls Damaged—It was discovered yesterday that the walls of St. Coleman's Catholic church, Turtle Creek, in course of construction, were damaged by the storm of Saturday night to the extent of nearly $1,000. A large section of the walls will have to be torn down.

Car Cleaner Killed—Stephen Berish, a car cleaner in the Ft. Wayne shops, on his way from his home at No. 612 Kilbuck street, Allegheny, to his work, was killed yesterday morning near Marion avenue crossing. He was 40 years of age and leaves a wife and several children.

Injuries Are Serious—Joseph Phillips, the young man injured Saturday noon by the false wall thrown by the wind from the municipal building, East Pittsburgh, was very low last night and his recovery was not expected. Besides a broken leg and arm, he was badly bruised.

Office Boy Starts Fire—One of the office boys at the wholesale drug store of W. J. Gilmore & Co. threw a lighted match into a keg of alcohol at the store in Seventh avenue at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A fire was the result, which was extinguished with a damage of $25.

Protected His Roll—John Troboobz of No. 2600 Sarah street, who went to a christening with $700 and a revolver in his pocket, was fined $25 yesterday by Magistrate McGarey. He said he did not take the revolver to assist in making trouble, but to assist in the prevention of having his roll taken.

New Braddock Trust Company—Braddock is to have another trust company. Several meetings have been held during the past week by business men of the borough, and it has been decided to organize a trust company. The promoters of the proposed institution are keeping the matter quiet at present.

Lecture in Allegheny—The Rev. John A. Jayne will deliver a stereopticon lecture on "The Flywheel of Society," in the McClure Avenue Presbyterian church, Allegheny, this evening. The lecture is for men only, and is given under the auspices of the Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip of the church.

Family Plague-Stricken—Dr. B. A. Booth, the city physician, was called to see a sick child yesterday in the rear of No. 275 Frankstown avenue and found it and another child and the mother of both suffering from smallpox. They were Miss Susie Walker, Christine, aged 6, and Pearl, aged 7. They were all sent to the Municipal hospital.

Sold Nectar of the Gods—Mrs. L. Davis of Catherine street, McKees Rocks, and six visitors arrested at her house were fined $5 yesterday. The woman claimed that she did not keep a speakeasy, as she only sold a liquor called ambrosia and that she had a government license to sell that. She declared that there were 10 speakeasies near her house.

Fire in a Cupboard—A mysterious fire occurred shortly after noon yesterday in the residence of Joseph Krone in Kirkpatrick street. The fire was found in a cupboard on the second floor and before it was extinguished clothing to the amount of $35 was destroyed. There was no fire on the second floor. It is said, and how the flames broke out in the cupboard is not understood by the police.

Suspect Was Locked Up—Policeman John Kennedy arrested Andrew Foley at the corner of Fifth avenue and Wood street last night and had him locked in Central police station charged with being a suspicious person. Foley, so the officer alleges, was steering G. A. Woods, who was said to be in an intoxicated condition. Woods was also locked up on a charge of drunkenness.

To Build in Braddock—Negotiations have been opened by the Pittsburgh Railways Company for the purchase of the tract of ground adjoining their Thirteenth street Braddock, car barns. The property wanted by the traction company consists of Braddock avenue and is part of the ground surrounding the Old Robinson house, owned by the Robinson heirs. It is stated on good authority that the ground is wanted to erect a large addition to the car barns and to build a general warehouse for the Pittsburgh Express Company. It is expected that the deal will be closed this week and work commenced on the new buildings.

Was Found Unconscious—James Smith, a steamboat captain, aged 43 years, was found unconscious on the bank of the Monongahela river at Water and Ferry streets shortly after 5 o'clock last night. He was brought to the Central police station, where it was found he had inflammatory rheumatism and had been lying on the river bank all day. He was sent to the Homeopathic hospital.

Hurt by a Blast—William Bradshaw of Whitney avenue, Wilkinsburg, is in the West Penn hospital with a fractured skull received by a piece of rock from a blast falling on him. Miss Ellen Rubendale, also of Wilkinsburg, who was with him, was cut on the head by a piece of the rock. They were taking pictures near Stewart station on Sunday and the blast was set off by some men who did not know they were near.

Namesake of Grover Missing—Grover Cleveland Melvin of Kingston, N. Y., is missing, and his parents have asked the assistance of the Pittsburgh police in finding him. The following description of the missing lad was received: Age 17 years, 5 feet 2 inches in height, weight about 125 pounds, dark hair and eyes, with a fair complexion. When he left home he was dressed in a black suit, new shoes and wore a soft white hat.

Stone Quarries Sold—The Pope Cement and Brick Company of this city has purchased from A. G. Morris the blue stone quarries at Dunbar, Pa. The purchase includes 60 acres connected with the Baltimore & Ohio and the Pennsylvania railroads. Much of the product for railroad ballast and concrete work has been contracted for. The new owners will improve the workings to make the output of the quarries 600 tons daily.

Objected to the Tin—Ten tinners employed on the Wall building in Eighth avenue, Homestead, quit work yesterday morning when they were given a quantity of non-union tin to work with. The men have been working on the building for the past week and allege that the tin which was taken to the building to be placed yesterday morning was made by non-union men. The contractor expects to effect a settlement today by securing union-made tin.

Police Waking Up—A reform wave is sweeping over Homestead, and the police of that borough have determined to strictly enforce all ordinances. The change was brought about by the Business Men's association. Yesterday 28 merchants were served with notices to appear before Burgess J. C. Miller and answer to charges of having violated an ordinance in allowing their wagons to stand in alleys over night. The first of the hearings were held last night and the offenders fined.

O. Y. P. C. U. Convention—The spring convention of the Allegheny Presbyterial O. Y. P. C. U. will open this afternoon in the Fourth United Presbyterian church, Allegheny. There will be two sessions. The afternoon session will be given largely to business and the reports of the various officers. William C. Lilley will speak on "Conference of Young People's Work." In the evening there will be a praise service, at which the Rev. Dr. H. D. Lindsay will speak on "The Stranger in Our Midst."

Charged With Cruelty—Mrs Lizzie Bowers, a widow, living in Oakland, has been charged before Police Magistrate John H. Armstrong with cruelly illtreating and abusing her minor child, Mary Bowers, aged 12 years. The information was made yesterday by Samuel P. O'Brien, an agent of the Humane society. It appears that the child is employed as a domestic by a family in Oakland avenue, and it is alleged that the mother collects her daughter's wages and spends the money for liquor. When the mother is in her cups, it is said, she beats and abuses the child.

NIGHT DUEL WITH THIEVES.

Two Policemen Have Five Opponents and Kill One of Them.

CHICAGO, April 28.—In a pistol fight between two policemen and five burglars early today one of the thieves was killed.

Policeman O'Connor saw two men, one of whom he recognized as a thief, standing in front of a store on Archer avenue at Loomis street. When he approached the men opened fire, fleeing at the same time. The officer gave chase, returning the shots. The firing attracted the attention of Policeman Herman Maronde, who came hurrying past the store just as three more men came out of a side entrance. A pistol fight between the trio and the policeman began and one of the men was shot through the head, dying instantly. Neither of the officers was hurt.

Crossing Accident Kills Three.

JOLIET, Ill., April 28.—A Santa Fe passenger train last night struck a buggy containing Mrs. M. B. Mulock, her daughter, Orda, and a young man, Floyd C. Pearce, near Joliet. The young man and young woman were killed and Mrs. Mulock died shortly afterward. The watchman had the gates down, but the horses broke through just in front of the train.

Reliable Dentists.
POINTED FACTS.
When a particular man has a toothache, he goes as straight as he can to the office of the best dentist he knows.
He realizes that the best dentist is more likely to give his tooth proper treatment than the "next best." While a "just ordinary" dentist MIGHT be successful, he takes no chances on that score. He wants certainty. Those are the kind of patients we like to work for. If you want reliable dental work, we are the dentists to see about it. Born here and established 16 years.

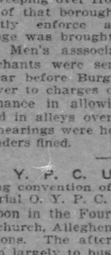
Bottled Health and Vigor



JOHANN HOFF'S EXTRACT is the medicinally valuable part of malt made easy and pleasant to take.

JOHANN HOFF'S is for persons with an impaired digestion or a weak and run-down nervous system. It is a nerve tonic, stomach stimulator, a strength builder, a flesh and blood maker. One dozen bottles contain more nutritious elements and strengthening properties than a whole cask of ale or beer without being intoxicating.

Dr. Thomas Hay, of Cape May, N. J., writes:
"JOHANN HOFF'S EXTRACT is a valuable product, and in my immediate hands it has done much good service. In one case, I believe, it stopped a man, an editor of a weekly paper, from going rapidly to his grave from wearing of overwork. I have prescribed the JOHANN HOFF'S EXTRACT a great deal in my practice, and always with satisfaction and good results."

Dr. James E. Gray, of Rochester, writes:
"I have used in my practice many hundreds of bottles of JOHANN HOFF'S EXTRACT, and continue to prescribe it, and find, as a tonic and appetizer, there is nothing its equal."

Dr. Louis Lewis, of 1733 Arch St., Philadelphia, writes:
"More than 20 years ago, when I was practising medicine in London, I used to prescribe JOHANN HOFF'S EXTRACT with much success in cases of wasting of tissue from tuberculosis, mal-nutrition, etc. I have always had good results from its use and have constantly employed it up to now."

"Insist upon JOHANN HOFF'S EXTRACT and take none of the cheap substitutes offered as "just as good." They have nothing but their cheapness to recommend them.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

Let Them Appeal to the People.

The old organization members of select council, in committing that branch to the appointment of standing committees of select council independent of common council and of the joint standing committees, abandon their contention that the action of the reform members of councils was illegal in organizing the committees in defiance of the attempted limitations of the charter ordinance. In their latest autocratic action they admit the legality of the course of the reformers and assume full responsibility for the obstruction of public business. But there is little real satisfaction in this in view of the circumstance that they cannot be reached in their own persons by popular indignation for nearly a year, unless they can be induced to adopt the heroic course of appealing to their constituents for justification of their acts. Popular resentment may, however, find expression in another way, and the approaching primaries and the subsequent county election afford the opportunities. The oppressive acts of the old organization are directly responsible for the result of the February election and the attempt to continue the same course in select council is inviting a similar rebuke. Popular reprisal at the expense of candidates for county offices may be prevented if Mr. Lambie and other reform members of select council will appeal to the people by resigning and standing for re-election. They can thus ascertain whether the people approve their acts and they would at the same time relieve the candidates for county offices and the legislature of all responsibility for them. They should not permit considerations of the expense to the public of a special election to stand in the way of this, for few if any will object to the cost. It would be the most popular move the obstructionists could make.

Forest Fires.

At this season of the year the number of forest fires on the mountains of Pennsylvania are both numerous and destructive. There is not the slightest doubt that a majority of these have an incendiary origin. It is not necessary to presuppose that the people who are responsible for setting a tract of mountain forest in flames are actuated by a malicious purpose. It often happens that a few patches of mountain are fired to get rid of the undergrowth in order that a succulent sward may spring up later on for grazing purposes. As it happens the superheated air rising from the surface is replaced by a rush of colder air, which creates the current necessary to carry the flames far and wide. This always occurs because it is a phenomenon incidental to forest and prairie fires at all times. Then it may happen that a breeze comes on. Nothing then can save the destruction or practical ruin of a mountain side, which a few days before bursting in all the glories of leaf and bud, is now an unsightly mass of charred stumps, with every vestige of animal life either cremated or driven away. During the past few days a furious sweep of forest fire has been raging in the neighborhood of Williamsport and contiguous villages. The destruction of property has been great and unfortunately it has been attended with loss of life. The weather is usually held responsible for what is the natural and inevitable sequence of cause and effect. If, when a fire was discovered on a mountain side, the farmers in the neighborhood used a little intelligent and co-operative exertion, the fires might be confined to a comparatively limited extent. But this is rarely or never done until the fires have got beyond control and threaten to destroy the villages.

If destruction of the mountain forests of this state continues at the present rate they will become as denuded of living timber in a comparatively short time as the highlands of Scotland. This would be an irreparable calamity. In cutting down forest regions and making very indifferent efforts to safeguard them from fire, the people of the agricultural districts are laying up for themselves inevitable retribution. Nature never forgets an outrage upon her dignity and repays it with compound interest when least expected. The legislature, too, might do a little more than it has to the same end. Forestry laws are sufficiently numerous and strict, but unfortunately up to the present the provision made for executing them is altogether inadequate.

A Disgruntled Organ.

It has been left for the London Globe to read into Secretary Shaw's Americus club speech a meaning that no other citizen of the British Isle would have been able to discover. The Globe is independent in politics and so far as America is concerned nearly always inaccurate. It was this newspaper that put gall into nearly all its references to the United States during the Spanish-American war, and it may be always counted upon to attach a sinister significance to every American utterance that does not bow down and worship the golden calf of British trade supremacy. The prophecy of the secretary of the treasury with reference to the ultimate supremacy of American shipping interests in the Pacific ocean is the special cause of offense to the sensitive nerves of the Globe. This prophecy can hardly be regarded as a government policy per se, but was uttered with a full knowledge of the forces that are already at work to make it a reality without the intervention of anti-English feeling and in spite of the protests of organs like the Globe.

The friendly relations between this country and England will not be jarred, either by the eloquence of the Iowan or the anger of the Globe. The onward movements of events will force acceptance of American prophecy as well as bring in time unruffled submission to American progress when those prophecies have been turned into living actualities.

Evacuation of Cuba.

The return to this country of several troops of cavalry marks the beginning of the end of American occupation of Cuba. For more than two years these soldiers had been on duty in the island, guarding with equal care the interests of their own government and those of the Cubans, and with all the indications of a permanent establishment at the posts to which they had been assigned. On brief notice, however, they gathered together their belongings and equipment, and moved out preparatory to the transfer of the island to the people of Cuba. Other soldiers will follow in due order, and in a short time the independence of Cuba will be an established fact.

This homeward movement of United States soldiers who have been stationed on the island wrested from Spain is in accordance with the terms of the recent agreement between President-elect Palma of Cuba and the authorities at Washington. The promptness with which it has been entered upon demonstrates the intention of this government to fulfil to the letter the terms of that agreement. From time to time prophets of evil have arisen and declared that the occupation of Cuba would be permanent, and was meant to be so, and now they are realizing the falsity of their position and their utterances. Humanity and justice have actuated the United States from the beginning of the Cuban affair, and will do so to the end.

The Naval Program.

Chairman Foss of the committee on naval affairs takes a dispassionate view of the marine strength of the United States. He points out that a great number of the ships on the navy list have no real fighting value. This is true of all navies. Ships become obsolete, because of the improvements made in construction and armament. Competition has been exceedingly brisk in the building of warships, and it is not at all strange to find that other nations have more battleships than we have, and ships more powerful. A few years ago we had no navy worth dignifying by that name, but now our strength at sea is considerable. Leaving out the ships with no fighting value, the United States has 18 battleships, 8 armored cruisers and 21 protected cruisers. The rest of the 138 vessels in the navy would not be of much account in case of war with a first-class power.

The naval committee proposes to add to the list two first-class battleships, two first-class armored cruisers, and two gunboats. The necessity for maintaining a strong navy arises from the fact that other nations have been building warships at a rapid rate. The German shipbuilding program, which began in 1898, for example, is expected by 1908 to give the kaiser's navy 38 battleships, 52 cruisers and 96 torpedo boats. Compared with this the American proposals are exceedingly modest, while our need for a strong navy is quite as imperative as Germany's.

Another Prediction Has Gone Wrong.

It seems only a few months since the aunties were assuring us, with tears in their eyes, that a nation of 80,000,000 souls could not obtain an army of 100,000 men without resorting to conscription. It was simply foolish, they told us, for the United States to expect young men to come forward voluntarily and enlist for service on the other side of the globe, and that we might as well make up our minds to force men to become soldiers, whether they were willing or not. The prophets were wrong. The army has been recruited to the legal strength, and no one has been compelled to join. The branch recruiting stations have been closed, and it is expected that the regular posts will supply hereafter the places made vacant by the expiration of terms of service. More than that, the qualifications for service have not been abated. Recruits are required to stand a stiff examination before they are allowed to put on the uniform. This high standard has been rigidly maintained. The United States has the most intelligent army in the world, as well as the best paid and the best fed.

Sol Smith Russell.

The gentle, genial Sol Smith Russell is no more. For two-score years he had been a figure on the American stage. For the greater part of that time he had been properly classed as a popular favorite. His influence was wholesome. His plays were clean. They were full of human interest and of elevating sentiment. The people liked them and went to see them. They liked the actor, and it came to be more than mere liking. Sol Smith Russell had a firm hold on the affections of the American people. He deserved their affectionate interest. He proved that to succeed it is not necessary to offend against the canons of good taste and good morals. He may not have touched the highest heights in his professional career, but he was always in the sunlight. He will be missed and it will be difficult to fill his place. Perhaps it will not be filled; perhaps it cannot be filled. But his success should be an inspiration to others to give the playgoers clean and wholesome plays, that will not leave a bad flavor on the mental palate.

Of course, Secretary Shaw will feel very sorry about his speech after learning what effect it had upon the London Globe.

Mr. Bryan's declination of the nomination in 1904 must be classed under the head of "important if true."

GIFT FOR SCHLEY.

18,000 Subscribers Present Him With a 100-Piece Silver Service at Memphis, Tenn.

MEMPHIS, TENN., April 28.—The first day of the visit to Memphis of Admiral and Mrs. W. S. Schley opened with lowering clouds and occasional showers, and it was decided to postpone the parade until tomorrow. Many prominent people paid their respects to the admiral and his wife during the morning hours, including Gov. Benton McMillin and Mrs. McMillin.

After luncheon the admiral and his wife were escorted to the auditorium, where a magnificent silver service was presented to Admiral Schley on behalf of 18,000 subscribers. The service is a magnificent collection, consisting of a chest of tableware of 100 pieces, two candelabra of beautiful design, one epergne and a loving cup bearing a bas-relief of the admiral on one side and of the cruiser Brooklyn on the other.

A banquet was tendered Admiral Schley tonight.

Taft Dines With Classmates.

NEW YORK, April 28.—William H. Taft, governor of the Philippine islands, was the guest of honor at a dinner which was held at the Yale club tonight by about thirty of his former classmates of Yale university. The dinner was strictly informal and there were no set toasts or speeches. All those present were of the class of '78.

RAPID EXPANSION OF THE BRONX BOROUGH

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, April 28.

Greater New York's population is increasing at the rate of 2,000 a week. Official figures show that every Saturday night there are 2,000 more persons in the metropolis of America than there were on the Saturday night immediately previous. Immigration helps to do this, but a great many new residents of the city come from other parts of the United States to settle in Gotham. Then there are the new babies, of course. As might be expected, much of the increase is noted uptown, in the residence districts. It is there that people must live, and it is there that the census man catches them to put them in his little list. The vast region above the Harlem river, known as the Bronx, is the part of New York which shows how rapidly the city is growing. The population there increased by 40,000 persons in 1901. The Bronx has an area of 41 square miles, and what used to be wide stretches of waste land or rocky ridges and valleys is now converted into smiling valleys or smooth-surfaced hills, built up with comfortable residences of pressed brick and stone trimmings. In other words, "Flatty Harlem" has spread to the hills and plains above the Harlem river, and Greater New York is stepping along in lively fashion toward Yonkers, and, for all that one can tell, toward Albany itself. The Bronx used to be an unknown land to the New Yorker. He knew there was some country up that way, just as Columbus believed there must be land on the western edge of the mysterious ocean which no one from Europe had ever ventured to cross; but when builders first began to put up buildings in the Bronx and invited New Yorkers to go and live in them, there were many snickers of derision. Then Oscar Hammerstein built a theater in One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, Harlem, and wealthy young men went out to One Hundred and Forty-fifth street to play polo, eventually giving up their polo grounds to the National league for baseball games. The rest was easy. Trolley cars and "L" roads go to the Bronx nowadays, and it was only last week that plans were filed for a hospital for the Bronx that will be one of the largest and handsomest in the whole state. The Bronx is a big and important place, and is getting bigger from day to day.

Theatrical Elopers Look Cheerful.

Putnam Bradlee Strong and May Yohe do not look like naughty children. It was thought by many people that they would come back looking somewhat ashamed of themselves. On the contrary, when they landed in New York today they were as chipper and smiling as the conventional bride and bridegroom are expected to be. The young man said he had lots of money, while the young woman declared that she was going to her mother's beautiful home at Hastings-on-the-Hudson, and all was as merry as a marriage bell. A consensus of their statements, in answer to the interviewers that bombarded them as the ship came up the bay, was that this world, and particularly Yokohama, is full of liars.

Lively Times in Police Force.

The trial of Police Capt. Foody before Commissioner Partridge became a regular row between the captain's attorney and District Attorney Jerome. The way the two lawyers abused each other made the old ructions between Devery and the police on trial look like a pink tea. It is the general opinion that Jerome and the other fellow will be throwing ink stands at each other before the Foody case is settled.

Pittsburgher Getting Many Offers.

John B. Reynolds, the well-known Pittsburgher, has just got back from the Pacific coast as business manager of the Modjeska-James Theatrical Company. Mr. Reynolds reports a splendid season for his stars and says he had a delightful trip. He does not know how he will spend his summer. He has had several offers for the summer season, but has not decided which one he will accept. His plans for the next regular theatrical season are in the same unfinished condition, he having not yet made up his mind which of the several flattering offers he will accept.

New Musical Genius.

New York has a new musical pet. She is Miss Marie Patwin, who gave piano recitals at the Waldorf-Astoria last season and pleased her listeners so much that they invited her to come again. Miss Patwin's home is in Seattle, but she is in New York now to give a concert at the Hotel Majestic tomorrow evening. Many pianists come to this city, mostly from Europe, but an American is always sure of the warmest welcome, provided she can "deliver the goods."

Four Unsolved Murder Mysteries.

New York is full of supposed murder mysteries, and there is a strong sentiment against the authorities for not being able to find the persons responsible for them. Off-hand, one can reckon them up as young John Voekpel, held in the Tombs on suspicion of murdering his mother, who was found dead in her room, with every evidence of having been murdered; Florence Burns, released because it could not be proved that she killed Walter Brooks, found dead in a downtown hotel; McAuliffe, found dead in Sixth avenue soon after being under arrest in a police station; Hattie Bailey, said to have been Hattie La Rocque, who died under suspicious circumstances, and for whose death a Broadway merchant and one of his employes are believed to be responsible. All of these cases have been talked about for the last three or four weeks, and New Yorkers are asking what is the matter with the detectives. Why don't they do something?

No "Canned Goods Candidate."

Senator Plunkett of this city, who is known to fame chiefly from making his headquarters in a bootblack's chair in the court house in Center street, from which there have been many futile attempts by the authorities to dislodge him, remarked this morning that he was "no canned goods candidate." Then he explained that a "canned goods candidate is the young greenhorn that goes after the plums in the spring. I wait till fall, when they are ripe." Having made this rich contribution to the political vernacular, the senator gave his attention again to the work of the bootblack who was shining his "Jemimas."

New Name for Congress Gaiters.

It is possible there are some Pittsburghers who do not know the meaning of the expression "Jemimas," applied to an article of masculine attire. "Tay-pay" O'Connor is authority for the explanation that they are what Londoners call "side-spring boots," which are known in this country as "congress gaiters." Not many of these shoes are worn in New York, but when they are it is customary to refer to them as "Jemimas," if one wants to be smart in his speech.

Stag Hunt in New York City.

Sport is the watchword of upper New York. A fresh illustration of this fact came out today, when several hundred persons joined in a stag hunt in Harlem. There is only one poor stag, but he is at large, and such things must not be, even in Harlem. He was sighted by a policeman early this morning, and the valiant official jumped to the conclusion that the animal had escaped from the Bronx zoo. He enlisted the help of half a dozen mounted policemen and they went after the stag. They were under orders to take it alive, and at last accounts they were still hunting, their immediate purpose being to put some salt on his tail.

The Cruiser Cabman.

There is more trouble over cabs and cab fares uptown in this city. Mr. Seaich, who has a contract with the Waldorf-Astoria, the Holland and other important hotels to supply their guests with cabs and carriages, pays for the privilege of having his cabs stand in certain places near the hotels to the exclusion of all others. The predatory cabmen, with no hotel connections, are in the habit of pouncing upon guests of the hotels, and after bearing them away in triumph charging them anything they please. These rough-and-ready cabmen are known as "cruisers." There is to be a vigorous attempt to drive these guerrilla cabmen away from hotels which are under contract to Mr. Seaich, but there is not much hope that anything will be accomplished in this way. If there is a more independent creature on earth than a New York unattached cabman he has never appeared in this city.

A Canadian Dinner.

A modest social gathering will be the Colonial light dinner of the British Schools and Universities club at the Aldine association rooms in this city tomorrow night. Besides a reading by the Canadian author, Charles G. D. Roberts, "Race Brotherhood" will be the subject of a discourse by the Rev. W. Walpole, D. D. Hudson Maxim will speak on "High Explosives in Modern Warfare," and the Rev. Jean Charlemagne Braco of Vassar college will speak on "Anglo-French Relations in Canada."

Archbishop Corrigan Recovering.

Many were the expressions of satisfaction heard in New York today when it was announced that Archbishop Corrigan, who has been seriously ill for more than a week, was out of danger. A more popular clergyman never lived in New York than the archbishop. Protestants and Catholics alike hold him in the highest respect. One incident that tended to show this was the fact that Andrew Carnegie, John D. Rockefeller and other wealthy men walked to the archiepiscopal residence every day when the prelate was in the greatest danger to inquire in person as to his condition.

Ferry Riding for Pleasure.

One of the popular and cheap amusements of New Yorkers in such fine spring weather as the present is riding on the ferryboats around Manhattan island. Three cents will give you a ride from Twenty-third street down the North river to the Pennsylvania railroad station in Jersey City, two or three miles, or one can spend a nickel and go across the bay to Staten island, having a regular ocean voyage for that sum, with another one back for another 5 cents. The trip from the Battery to South Brooklyn is a pleasant one for a few cents, and there are numerous other ferry routes whereon the fare is from 2 to 5 cents. In the last week the boats have been well patronized by people who ride just for the pleasure of it—a class easily distinguishable from the sober-faced regular trippers who are on the boats because it is their only way of getting to and from their homes to their business in New York. One of the charms of ferryboat riding, particularly to persons who have spent much of their lives in inland cities, is the salt air that one gets in great lungfuls, to say nothing of the big ocean steamships, flocks of seagulls and the statue of Liberty.

Dynamite Zone Growing Larger.

Blasting is one of the visitations of which New Yorkers are in mortal dread; and small wonder. The disaster in Park avenue and the damage done to property in many parts of the city by the construction of the Rapid Transit subway with the aid of dynamite are always uppermost in the thought of persons who live in the "dynamite zone." The trouble broke out in a new place today. There is a ledge of rock under the houses in West Fortieth street, opposite Bryant park, and the other end of the ledge interferes with the excavations for the foundations of the new library building. The contractor is blasting off bits of this ledge, and the persons who live in the houses say that the shock jars pictures from their walls and smashes windows. The contractor makes the same plea for his blasts that was put forth in a memorable way by a young lady in one of Capt. Maryat's stories, that "it was only a very little one." These little ones are causing much damage, however, and there may be an injunction to stop the work altogether. Thus does education have to fight for its very existence in this big city, at least when it forces its way with high explosives.

Last Speaking in the Old Tabernacle.

Miss Ellen Stone probably will be the last person to speak to an audience publicly from the platform of the Broadway tabernacle. She lectured there tonight to a very large assemblage and told in full of her adventures with the brigands of Bulgaria and her rescue through the generosity of her country folk. Miss Stone has a pleasant voice and fluent delivery, and, naturally, her subject was at the tip of her tongue. The Rev. Dr. Jefferson, pastor of the tabernacle, preached at Miss Stone's old church at Chelsea, Mass. It was said that the service in the tabernacle last night would be the last, and that the building, which is at the corner of Broadway and Thirty-fourth street, would begin to come down today. It was spared for 24 hours, however, to give Miss Stone an opportunity to lecture in it. The tabernacle has been a landmark longer than any but the oldest inhabitant can remember.

A Twenty-Story Tepee.

Some of Buffalo Bill's Indians, who had never been in New York before this year, went for a walk along Broadway yesterday. They looked at everything with the stoical indifference of their race until they came in front of the 20-story building on the "flatiron" at the junction of Fifth avenue and Broadway, where the Erie railroad offices used to be in a little shanty. Then, as they locked up at the great steel network which will be a stone-front building when the stone is put in, one of the braves, whom Dexter Fellowes declares is called by his own people "Iron Tail," grunted in astonishment, "Ugh, white man great man, heap build tepee, top tepee to sky. "Tepee" obviously is good, applied to a 20-story skyscraper.

Fulton Travels Under Water.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The submarine torpedoboat Fulton passed Sandy Hook this morning bound for Washington in tow of the Storm King. At 10:50 she was submerged off Long Branch. The Fulton will reach Washington about Saturday.

PERSONALS.

His Eminence, James, Cardinal Gibbons, archbishop of Baltimore, stopped in Pittsburgh for a few moments last night on his way to Peoria, Ill., to attend the consecration of the cathedral in that city and at the same time take part in the celebration of the jubilee of Bishop John Spalding, head of the Peoria diocese. The cardinal was taking a "constitutional" up and down the platform of the depot in company with the Rev. Father McMahon, rector of St. Patrick's cathedral, New York city, when The Gazette reporter approached him. The cardinal said he had nothing particular to talk of. "What are your opinions on the Indian school question?" asked the reporter. The cardinal smiled gravely, and said: "Now, on that question I have given statements frequently," he said. "Really there is no necessity for Catholics to fear any great disaster at a cutting down of government appropriation. The church has ever supported well its own particular work, and in this instance there is a high motive to spur the Catholics to show greater devotion to their religion. After all the proper thing for Catholics is to support institutions of their own making. The Indian mission is one." The cardinal is quite pleased with the progress of this government under a Republican administration. "As I said in the beginning of the campaign," he said last night, 'I tell you now. This is too great a country to be ever seriously impaired in its progress by any party. It is a country of countries. It is good to have two strong parties in a nation such as this. When we get tired of one, the other is given a chance at administering affairs. If it does not do well, the transition comes." Besides Father McMahon, the cardinal was accompanied by Father P. C. Gavan, his chancellor, and Father Connon of New York city.

On Saturday the employes of the general office of the Pittsburgh works of the American Locomotive Company treated their retiring shop accountant, Elmer D. Miller, to a surprise. The bookkeepers and clerks, 25 or 30 in all, assembled in the office, and Mr. Adam Hoffman, who has been associated with Mr. Miller for 25 years, presented him with a handsome diamond stud in behalf of those present. Mr. Miller is quite well known throughout the city, and is leaving this city to enter business in Philadelphia.

Homer M. Craig, a Claysville, Pa., merchant, was a business visitor in Pittsburgh yesterday and was registered at the Seventh Avenue hotel last night.

EXPERIMENTAL SHIP.

Uncle Same May See What He Can Do In Building His Own Vessels.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.—Chairman Foss of the committee on naval affairs today reported to the house the bill making appropriations for the naval service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904. The amount carried by the bill is $77,650,386 63, a reduction from the estimates submitted by the navy department of $27,405,292.

"In view of the fact that there is some public sentiment favorable to building ships in our government navy yards," the report says, "it has been deemed advisable by the committee to insert a provision in the appropriation bill, leaving it to the discretion of the secretary of the navy to build any or all ships in government yards, but making it mandatory on him to construct at least one battleship or armored cruiser in such navy yard as he may designate as an experiment. It is believed by your committee that nothing short of an experiment of this kind will settle the question in many minds, and at the same time will show whether private contractors have been reasonable in their bids, and furthermore, be a basis for future guidance in the continued construction of our navy."

The complete cost of the new ships will be approximately $29,500,000. These battleships and cruisers will be larger than any heretofore authorized by congress.

Mining and Smelting Projects.

TRENTON, N. J., April 28.—The Walker Mining Company, capital $1,125,000, was incorporated here today. The incorporators are mostly Canadians. A general mining business is projected. The Columbia Mining & Smelting Company, capital $1,000,000, was also incorporated by New York state capitalists.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Andrew Blakeley.

Andrew Blakeley, an uncle of Attorney William A. Blakeley of the Pittsburgh bar, is dead at his home in Old Union, near Callery, Pa., aged 84 years. About two weeks ago Mr. Blakeley was injured while handling a colt horse and later was badly injured in a fall which resulted in his death on Sunday. Mr. Blakeley was the second son of a family of 11 sons and one daughter of Lewis and Jane Blakeley, whose parents were pioneer settlers in Western Pennsylvania, removing from Washington and Allegheny counties to Butler county in 1796. Andrew Blakeley was one of the best-known farmers in Butler county and had spent his whole life within two miles of where he was born. With the discovery of oil in Butler county Mr. Blakeley was driven from his farm by oil prospectors and after purchasing land and erecting the house in which he died, he moved to the neighborhood of the old Butler church, for the construction of which he had hauled the stone and heavy timber in his youth. He was a life-long member of the church and until his death occupied the pew formerly used by his father. Mr. Blakeley is survived by four sons, three of whom are farmers in Butler county. The other moved to Carroll county, Md., after the close of the civil war and resides there still. Mr. Blakeley was a prosperous farmer and with his proceeds from his oil wells was able to establish each of his children in comfortable circumstances. About three months ago Mr. Blakeley's wife dropped dead. Mr. Blakeley, during his youth, aided himself with the Whig party and afterward with the Republican party. Mr. Blakeley's oldest son and five brothers served during the civil war.

Egbert Sumner Ward.

Egbert Sumner Ward, 51 years old, for nearly 30 years an active business man of Pittsburgh, died late yesterday evening at his home, No. 76 Roberts street, Eleventh ward. Mr. Ward had been in failing health for some years, owing to a general breakdown due to old age. Mr. Ward was born in Middletown, Conn., March 14, 1821, and 58 years ago married Miss Sarah E. Elliston of New York. Four years later, with his family, Mr. Ward removed to Pittsburgh, where he later became engaged in the drug business, and for 28 years was a member of the wholesale drug firm of R. E. Sellers & Co. of Wood street. After retiring from the drug business he embarked in the manufacture of bakers' supplies with his son at No. 74 Roberts street. Five years ago he retired from business and was succeeded by another son, and the firm name was changed to Ward Bros. Mr. Sellers was a member of Lodge No. 484, F. and A. M. of Pittsburgh, and of Christ Methodist Episcopal church, Center and Liberty avenues. Besides his wife, he is survived by three children, W. F. and R. E. S. Ward, and one daughter, Mrs. Emma L. Beaumont of Mt. Alton, Pa.

Mrs. Catherine Marratta.

Mrs. Catherine Marratta, 66 years old, is dead at the family home, No. 1538 Center avenue, of typhoid fever. She was the widow of Peter Marratta, for many years a well-known contractor in Woodlawn, Beaver county, where she was born. Mr. Marratta retired from business in 1889 and settled on a farm at Woodlawn, where he died five years ago. Mrs. Marratta removed to Pittsburgh three years after her husband's death. She was a member of the Mount Carmel Presbyterian church and is survived by nine children: Dr. Marshall Marratta of Center avenue, Dr. Walter B. Marratta of Philadelphia, Edward Marratta, assistant manager in the carpet department of Kaufmann Bros., and James, Andrew, Harry, William, Martha and Catherine Marratta.

E. W. Crosse.

E. W. Crosse, 56 years old, a veteran of the civil war, is dead at Riverview farm, Beaver county, Pa. He was a son of the Rev. Johnathan Crosse, a former pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, Wheeling, W. Va. He was born in Richmond, Va., and educated in Baltimore and later attended the United States naval academy at Annapolis, Md. During the civil war he was an assistant engineer in the navy, and was attached to the warship Potomska during the engagement which resulted in the capture of Charleston. At the close of the war he embarked in the iron business, and for the past 20 years had been connected with Spang, Chalfant & Co. He is survived by his wife, two sisters and one brother.

John Hufnagel.

John Hufnagel, 79 years old, a well-known farmer of Shaler township, is dead at his home at that place, where he had resided for the past 26 years. He was born in Kurhessen, Germany, and came to the United States 57 years ago. He was a charter member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, Sharpsburg, and is survived by seven children, Henry and Frederick Hufnagel of Shaler township, A. Edward Hufnagel of the East End, Mrs. Margaret Macher of Millvale, Sister Mary Phillippina of Philadelphia, and Sister Mary Ursula of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Mary Jones.

Mrs. Mary Jones, 65 years old, wife of the late Thomas Jones, is dead at her home in Carnegie. She was a native of Wales, and came to this country 55 years ago with her parents, who settled in Johnstown. About 17 years ago Mrs. Jones removed to Carnegie. She was a member of the First Baptist church of Carnegie, and is survived by seven children, Mrs. Sophia Lewis and George Jones of Muncie, Ind.; Mrs. Mary Neal of Carnegie, Thomas, William J., Samuel and John Jones, all of Waukesha, Wis.

Mrs. Mary J. Boggs.

Mrs. Mary J. Boggs, 88 years old, the mother of Russell H. Boggs of Boggs & Buhl, Allegheny, is dead at her home at Evans City, Pa. She was an active member of the Presbyterian church and is survived by seven children: Mrs. Elizabeth Garvin of Butler county, Mrs. Henry Bean of Evans City, Pa.; James Boggs of Butler county, Andrew Boggs of Beaver county, Russell H. Boggs of Allegheny and Mrs. Amelia Clayton and Miss Ella Boggs, who lived with their mother.

Miss Ellen A. Bingaman.

Miss Ellen A. Bingaman, treasurer of the Ladies' Aid society of the Homeopathic hospital, died yesterday morning at the home of her brother, Dr. C. F. Bingaman, No. 5227 Westminster street. She was a native of Chester county, Pa., and had been a resident of this city since 1884. Miss Bingaman was a member of the board of managers of the Soldiers' Home in Allegheny. She is survived by her mother, one sister and three brothers.

Gen. Frank D. Askew.

KANSAS CITY, MO., April 28.—Gen. Frank D. Askew, a pioneer business man, died here today, aged 65 years. He was born in St. Clairsville, O., served with the Fifteenth and Seventeenth Ohio volunteers during the civil war, and was brevetted a brigadier-general.

Mrs. L. H. Donner.

Word was received in Pittsburgh yesterday of the death of Mrs. Anna E. Donner, wife of the Rev. L. H. Donner, formerly pastor of the First German Baptist church, South Side, at Newport, Ky., on Sunday evening. Mrs. Donner was 72 years of age.

Obituary Notes.

Miss Eliza Cochran, 28 years old, a daughter of J. R. Cochran, died yesterday at the family home in Indiana township of pneumonia. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church, Pine Creek.

Herman Stevens, Sr., 67 years old, is dead at his home in Munhall after a brief illness. He was born in Germany. He was employed at the Homestead steel works, and is survived by two sons and eight daughters.

Mrs. Ursula Shoulthise, 89 years old, widow of Joseph Shoulthise, died yesterday at her home, No. 1719 Main street, Sharpsburg. Mrs. Shoulthise was one of the oldest residents of Sharpsburg. She is survived by one son, William Shoulthise.

THREE WISHES.

An infant in its cradle slept.
And in its sleep it smiled—
And one by one three women knelt
To kiss the fair-haired child;
And each thought of the days to be
And breathed a prayer half silently.

One poured her love on many lives,
But knew love's toil and care;
Its burdens oft had been to her
A heavy weight to bear.
She stooped and murmured lovingly:
"Not hardened hands, dear child, for thee."

One had not known the burdened hands,
But knew the empty heart;
At life's high banquet she had sat,
An unfed guest, apart.
"Oh, not," she whispered, tenderly,
"An empty heart, dear child, for thee."

And one was glad she had known care,
She had known loneliness;
She knew God leads us by no path
His presence cannot bless.
She smiled and murmured, trustfully:
"God's will, God's will, dear child, for thee."

YOUNG STRONG AND MAY YOHE RETURN HOME

When Asked If They Are Married He Refers Questioner to His Lawyer.

PROMISES A SENSATION

Declares There Will Be Many Surprised Persons in United States When Their True Status Becomes Known—Will Embark in Business.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, April 28.—Reticent, but anxious to learn what the newspapers say about him and May Yohe, Lord Francis Hope's divorced wife, Putnam Bradlee Strong, son of the late Mayor Strong, with the former actress, arrived in New York today. They came on the steamship Kaiserin Maria Theresa, their names appearing on the passenger list as "Herr Strong and Frau Strong."

Miss Yohe left the Hoboken pier about noon, and Mr. Strong followed an hour and a half later in a cab. It was said at the pier that the pair had gone to one of the big hotels in Fifth avenue, but the manager of the place mentioned denied that any rooms had been engaged for them or that they had been heard from in any way.

Mr. Strong, before he left the pier, was asked if the fact that he and Miss Yohe were registered on the ship's books as "Herr Strong and Frau Strong" meant that they were married. He replied:

"You must see my lawyer, Emanuel Friend, about that. I will say, however, that when the true status is known there will be many surprised persons in the United States."

Miss Yohe and Mr. Strong spent a good deal of the time on the way up from quarantine dodging cameras, and to one man who approached Miss Yohe as if to take her picture, Mr. Strong said:

"If you go near her again I'll throw your camera overboard."

Mr. Strong said he had no further military ambitions, and declared it was his intention to settle down somewhere near New York and go into business. Miss Yohe intimated that the place where they would settle down is Hastings-on-the-Hudson. She said her mother had built a house there. She said she was glad to get home again, and expected to enjoy the summer.

Mr. Strong denied that he came home "broke." He said he had plenty of money, and did not need to worry about business. It was reported some time ago that he made $200,000 in the stock market.

When Lady Hope left the pier in a carriage she was accompanied by a Japanese maid. After they had left Mr. Strong was busy with their baggage, which proved to be a curious lot. In addition to a dozen trunks and bags, the customs officials had to pass on an interesting collection of animals. Among the belongings brought from Japan were two Japanese spaniels, a monkey, two cockatoos, a skye terrier and an English bulldog.

While Mr. Strong and Lady Hope were living in Japan he was reported to have said that they intended to make that country their home. It was not known that they were returning to New York until several days ago, when a cable from Naples said they had sailed on the Kaiserin Maria Theresa.

PHILIPPINE WAR'S COST.

Over 100,000 American Soldiers Engaged, 5,000 of Whom Have Died.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.—With the surrender of Guevarra to Gen. Grant in Samar, the Filipino insurgents have lost their last leader of prominence.

In subduing the Tagalo insurrection, according to the latest official compilation of figures, the United States has employed 3,477 officers and 108,000 enlisted men. Of these 50 officers and 949 men have been killed in action. Twelve officers and 207 men have died of wounds, and 306 officers and 2,120 men of disease. The total number of deaths from all causes is given as 3,493. As these figures were prepared several months ago it is probable that the number of deaths by this time has reached 5,000.

Society.

PING-PONG has finally captured Pittsburgh. For weeks Pittsburgh held out against the invader, but has at last capitulated and now there is scarcely a fashionable house in the East End which has not one ping-pong table.

The club houses were compelled some time ago to install the fashionable English game and, as a consequence, the leisure hours at the club houses are becoming longer or more frequent in order that the players may be more efficient. The new Allegheny Country club house, which will be formally opened May 17, is planned to accommodate the ping-pong players and to have several tables arranged for this fascinating sport. The grill room of the former Allegheny Country club, now occupied by the Brighton Country club, has been set aside for ping-pong tables. They are also to be found at the Pittsburgh club, the Pittsburgh Golf club, the Keystone Bicycle club and the Pittsburgh Press club. To such an extent has the craze grown among the men that billiard tables have in some cases been transformed into ping-pong tables, for no one seems to want to play billiards, but ping-pong is heard from morning until night.

Some of the best billiard and pool players in Pittsburgh have been caught by the English game and will play nothing else. Among the best ping-pong players in Pittsburgh are Starling Childs and Jarvis Geer. Judge Elliott Rodgers is one of the best of the legal ping-pong players. Judge and Mrs. Rodgers gave one of the first ping-pong parties in the city. One of the earliest to become interested in the game, however, was Mrs. Edward Hanna Small, who was captivated by it while visiting relatives in Philadelphia. During the early days of ping-pong in Pittsburgh laundry tables were utilized until a degree of dexterity warranted the purchase of the ping-pong outfit. Now the simple game of ping-pong is followed by progressive ping-pong tournaments.

The debutante set in the East End has taken up the fad, which was slow in reaching Pittsburgh, but now that it is here has caught in its folls both the young and the old. Among the married women the healthful exercise has taken the place of whist to quite a large extent. Among the younger girls Miss Roma Huselton and her sister, Miss Frances H. Huselton, have proven themselves very skillful players. Miss Stella Hays is another devotee of the game, while Miss Romaine LeMoyne, Miss Elizabeth Utley and others of the debutante set have become very skillful with the racquet. Miss Daisy Dauler and Miss Bessie Dauler are also among the most successful players in Shadyside.

In Allegheny, however, ping-pong is almost unheard of in the homes of the smart families. The festivities of Palm Beach, with its golf, trap-shooting, boating, dinners and luncheons left no time for initiation into ping-pong, and those who spent the winter in the south have not learned it since they returned. The short spring season in Pittsburgh, with the early opening of the country season, the middle of May, when the majority of the families who have selected Sewickley Heights for their summer residence will open their country houses, will give new life to the game.

Ping-pong is to be the fashionable pastime this summer. Verandas and wide, roomy porches will be given up to this athletic fad and the games will be played in the evening by electric light and in the daytime with pleasant summer breezes blowing.

The candy man has learned of the popularity of ping-pong and has offered the daintiest candy favors and boxes in the shape of the racquets filled with candies. The chief characteristic of ping-pong is its inexpensiveness. The best table, racquets and balls may be secured at an outlay of $25.

Entertaining a House Party.

A number of out-of-town friends are coming to Pittsburgh for the wedding of Miss Nellie R. Torrance, daughter of David R. Torrance of Baum street, and Lieut. Franklin R. Kenny, U. S. A. Mr. Torrance and his daughter, Miss Bessie Torrance, will entertain quite a house party over the wedding, which will take place at the home tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. Among their guests will be Miss Walker of Butler, Miss Perkins of New Kensington, Mr. and Mrs. William Ellingham of Wheeling, Mr. and Mrs. David Blair and Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Torrance of Indiana, Pa.

This evening Miss Albertina Junker, one of Miss Torrance's bridesmaids, will give a dinner for the bridal party at her home in the East End. It will be followed by the wedding rehearsal. Last night Lieut. Kenny gave a supper attended by his best man, Lieut. Maybach of Fort Terry, Long Island, and several of his former friends in Pittsburgh. Miss Alice Torrance, a younger sister of the bride-elect, will be the maid of honor, and the two bridesmaids include Miss Edna Bown and Miss Albertina Junker.

Meeting of Colloquium.

The program of the Colloquium club meeting yesterday afternoon at the Pennsylvania College for Women was devoted entirely to the discussion of Russia and China. Mrs. Chalmers Martin's paper, deferred from the previous meeting, was read and was descriptive of the personal experiences of Mr. Martin during two weeks in China. "The Russian Chinese Policy" was treated by Mrs. William Anderson; Miss McElveen told of "Transportation in China" and Miss Murdock gave a reading from Kipling's "The Truce of the Bear." The music yesterday afternoon was contributed by a trio consisting of Miss Elizabeth Riddle, pianist; Miss Gertrude Shaw, violinist and Miss Anne Risher, 'cellist.

Miss Jane R. Clark and Miss Janet Brownlee were the hostesses, the meeting being held in the college drawing room. Yellow daffodils filled a large vase on the table. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Fremont Shafer in South Negley avenue, East End.

Praise for Miss Knox.

The Washington correspondent has something to say about Miss Rebecca Knox, daughter of Attorney General P. C. Knox of this city:

"Equestrianism has received quite a boom since Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Alice began to ride so frequently. Last year fashionable Washington traveled in automobiles or behind a span of fleet horses. Now women who have not been on horseback for years may be seen daily taking a gallop. Mrs. Roosevelt is accounted as the most graceful and accomplished equestrienne, not even excepting that noted rider, Mrs. Reber, formerly Miss Celia Miles. In the cabinet set the palm for good riding is given to Miss Rebecca Knox, daughter of the attorney general. Miss Knox inherits her father's love of horses. She is also an expert whip. Miss Root is a skilful equestrienne and possesses one of the finest riding horses in the city."

Dinner to a Pittsburgh Girl.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—At a dinner given this evening by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Drexel Biddle for Mrs. Biddle's sister, Miss Bradley of Pittsburgh, the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelso Cassatt, Misses Ellen Drexel, Paul and Elsie Whelen, Paulina Biddle, Helen Struthers, Josephine B. McIlvaine, Dr. Albert P. Francine, Messrs. T. Truxton Hare, George Brooke, Jr., Benjamin Chew, Harry Hart and Francis Rawle.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement of Miss Edna Maude, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra C. Johnson of Federal street, Allegheny, formerly of Barnsville, O., to Mr. Joseph A. Henderson of Elliott, Pa., is announced. Mr. Henderson has been connected with the music house of H. Klepber & Bro. for 18 years. The wedding will take place in June.

Reading for Charity.

Miss Milne gives a reading this afternoon for the benefit of the Ladies' Association of the Homeopathic hospital. The reading will be given at "Lyndhurst," the home of Mrs. William Thaw, in Beechwood boulevard, East End, and will be a very smart affair. No invitations have been issued, but those who are interested in the reading and the object for which it will be given may secure tickets from Mrs. Vandergrift, Fifth avenue, near College.

Notes of Society.

Mrs. Harry J. Lawrence of Center avenue gave a card party yesterday.

The Tourist club met yesterday afternoon in the parlors of Grace Reformed church.

The last meeting of the Current Topics class was held yesterday at the Twentieth Century club.

THE LACY PEIGNOIR.

These beautiful dressing gowns, demi-toilettes, negligees, made of soft, thin fabrics, either silk crepes or satiny muslins, are heavily embroidered, covered with rich falls of lace and girdled with handsome ribbons, forming the most entrancing and becoming garments of madame's wardrobe. There are many women who are at their best in such garb, which brings out most that is delicate and artistic in their physical selves.

YANKEE JACK TARS IN VENICE PRISON

Receive Heavy Sentences for Starting a Riot in a Cafe—Captain of Marines Included.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

VENICE, ITALY, April 28.—The four members of the crew of the United States cruiser Chicago, arrested for disorderly conduct here yesterday, have been sentenced to terms of imprisonment.

Capt. Robert P. Wynne, commanding the marine guard of the Chicago, son of the new assistant postmaster general; Robert E. Ledbetter, assistant surgeon of the Chicago; Lieut. John S. Doddridge of the Chicago and a marine named Wilfred Langley, were brought before police court today. Capt. Wynne was sentenced to four months and ten days' imprisonment. The other prisoners were sentenced to three months' imprisonment. All the prisoners were sentenced to pay costs and damages.

The altercation took place in a cafe. In the scuffle the cloth was pulled from the table and the dishes struck the floor with a crash. Wynne, Ledbetter and Doddridge immediately interfered in behalf of Langley and were arrested by the Italian guard.

The prisoners admitted they were intoxicated when the disorders occurred, and pleaded that they acted in self-defense when mobbed by the crowd. They denied the charge of rebellion against the police. The public prosecutor demanded a sentence of seven months' imprisonment for Assistant Surgeon Ledbetter and six months for the others.

Two of the injured persons claim $800 each.

A number of windows are alleged to have been smashed by drunken American sailors and there was much resentment in Venice against the Americans. One man is said to have been badly injured in the row that led to the arrests.

The commander of the Chicago, Capt. James H. Dayton, accompanied by the American consul, visited the prefect of Venice and expressed regret at the incident. Capt. Dayton also ordered all the men of the cruiser, who were ashore on leave, to return on board the Chicago. He also took energetic measures to prevent further disorders and threatened severe punishments.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.—(Special.)—Action will be taken by the United States to effect the release of the officers of the Chicago. Official advices confirmatory of the report of their plight have not yet reached the navy or state department, but private information shows that it is true. The American ambassador in Rome will make representations to the Italian government to obtain the liberation of the prisoners. On board their own ship they will be investigated by a court of inquiry, which will be ordered by Capt. Craig, senior officer in command of the European station. If any of the Americans are found to blame they will be court-martialed.

SALARIES RAISED.

Allegheny Select Council Passes Police Ordinance—Municipal Asphalt Plant Advocated.

Allegheny select council met last night in special session. The only measures which caused discussion were the ordinance authorizing contracts for the repaving of the streets with sheet asphaltum and the amended ordinance for the increase in the salaries of the employes of the bureau of police, the clause designating at what time the increase in the salaries shall take effect having been amended to read June 1, 1902, instead of March 1, 1903.

The repaving ordinance caused a long discussion. Morris Einstein led a fight against it. He stated that the city should own its own asphalt plant and do its own repaving.

Wants to Locate Brother.

Recorder Brown was the recipient of a letter yesterday from August Avril of No. 1077 South Pearl street, Denver, Col., asking for information regarding his brother, Henry, whom he believes to be a resident of Pittsburgh. The writer of the letter informed Recorder Brown that he read in the newspapers that a son of Mrs. Henry Avril had been killed in the Knoxville Presbyterian church accident on Easter Sunday.

Storm Killed Thousands of Sheep.

CHEYENNE, WYO., April 28.—Reports from various sections of the state indicate that the storm of last week killed between 12,000 and 13,000 head of sheep, the losses running from 2 to 10 per cent.

PITTSBURGH PEOPLE TO FIGHT BEEF TRUST

Attorney General Has Much Evidence From This City, Including Many Gazette Articles.

Each day sees an increase in the amount of evidence against the beef trust in the hands of the attorney general, and in this mass not a little was supplied by Pittsburgh men. A number of articles published in The Gazette in relation to the freight rebates allowed to the beef trust will figure in the charges of the Pittsburgh packers filed in Washington. Clippings from The Gazette with a copy of the diagram reproduced in Sunday's issue are in the possession of the attorney general and will probably be submitted by him to the interstate commerce commission. This data will be supported by corroborative statements of packers and provision men who say that they have been injured by the discrimination in favor of the western packers.

The week opened yesterday with practically no change in the meat market. Cattle prices at the East Liberty stockyards were about the same as last week, with the exception of the medium grades, which were down 25 cents a hundred. Top cattle sold for $7 to $7 10 a hundred. Hogs sold for the same as the previous week at $7 35 to $7 40 a hundred. The usual grade of hogs were down 5 cents a hundred, selling for $5 85 to $6. The only advance was on sheep and lambs. They rose 20 cents a hundred.

A Reduction Promised.

Yearling lambs sold for $6 70 to $6 90; sheep, $5 85 to $6. Dressed meats remained stationary at the figures of last week. Beef sold for 11 cents, pork for 12½ cents and lamb for 12½ cents.

The local representatives of the western packers have promised the butchers that there will be a reduction in prices by the middle of the week, but the retailers are not very hopeful of immediate relief. They say that there would have to be a marked reduction in wholesale prices before they could afford to reduce the retail prices. This is due to the fact that the butchers have not been able to raise their prices in proportion to the advances made in the wholesale rates.

Many butchers have hesitated to raise the prices to their consumers for fear of losing trade and hoping that something would occur to bring down the wholesale prices. It is a fact that while the wholesale prices have been advanced by the big packers at least 33¼ per cent in the last year the retail prices have not advanced more than 20 per cent. It is estimated that the wholesale prices will have to come down at least a couple of cents a pound before the butchers can make any reduction, as they claim they are losing money now.

The reports from Chicago yesterday stated that there was a slight drop in the price of cattle there, although the receipts were below the average. The receipts of cattle at Chicago yesterday were 13,000, which is exceedingly low for Monday. The fact that prices dropped in spite of the falling off in the receipts is taken as evidence that the consumption is falling off to a marked degree.

Drop at Chicago.

There is proof of this in the local market. Yesterday the sales were slow. Commission men state that the sales have been failing off for several weeks past. Butchers are buying less and explain this by stating that their trade has been cut down. The people are not buying nearly as much meat as they were a month ago. Even the housewife, who was able to buy only boiling meat when prices were lower, is cutting down her purchases one half.

Within the past two weeks the branch house of Nelson Morris & Co. in the East End has been abandoned. The independent packers claim that this is due to the agreement among the western packers. This agreement binds each packer not to exceed a certain tonnage in shipments to points where the territory is divided. Nelson Morris & Co. had six branch houses in Pittsburgh and the immediate vicinity—one in Pittsburgh, one in Allegheny, one in Homestead, one in Braddock, one in McKeesport and another in the East End.

The other western firms made a complaint that Nelson Morris & Co. were getting more than their share of the local trade, and the East End house was ordered closed. Nelson Morris & Co. are looking for a new site for their downtown branch. Negotiations are in progress for a part of the Ritter-Conley property at the foot of Second avenue.

BUTTER BECOMING MORE REASONABLE

Elgin Creamery Has Gone Down Five Cents and Is Now Within Reach.

A decline of 5 cents a pound in the price of creamery butter was made yesterday afternoon by the Elgin board of trade at its weekly meeting, making the wholesale price for Elgin butter in this market now 25 cents for prints as against 30 cents last week. This is the deepest cut which local dealers remember as ever having been made at one time. A week ago the quotations were reduced 3 cents, and, with the present decline, butter is 8 cents a pound cheaper than it was prior to last week.

The reason assigned for the sharp reductions is the improvement in the quantity and quality of milk, and that butter was so high as to curtail consumption. Added to this is the fact that there is more country butter now coming into market. High price of fats is causing oleomargarine to move in the opposite direction, an advance of a cent a pound having been made last Saturday, making a total advance of 2 cents in the last ten days.

Another important household staple which is cheaper is sugar, which went off five points yesterday. This is but a slight reduction, but is in the direction that consumers approve, and they will receive the benefit. Cereals are also getting a little easier, and may be forced down unless the market is strengthened unexpectedly.

The one great drawback to rejoicing over these cheapening products is that potatoes are rapidly advancing, having moved up 20 cents a bushel during the last few days. Dealers are now holding them firm at $1 20 as against the price of $1, which has ruled for several months. The lateness of the spring is expected to hold back new potatoes, and there will be a longer run for old stock than expected, making known supplies seem small.

WAR ON BEEF TRUST.

New York County Republican Committee Will Take Up the Matter at Its Next Meeting.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.—(Special.)—Robert C. Morris, president of the Republican county committee of New York, said tonight that the committee at its next meeting, the third week in May, would adopt resolutions condemning the beef trust for its action in arbitrarily advancing prices of food products. If the exigencies of the situation seem to warrant it a special meeting will be called to take action.

It is the present plan to appoint a sub-committee with instructions to render any assistance in its power to the state and federal prosecuting officials who have charge of the case against the beef trust.

SANDWICHES ADVANCE.

Chicago Restaurants Now Charge 10 Cents for That Delicacy.

CHICAGO, April 28.—For the first time in many years in this city a cash outlay of 10 cents is necessary for the acquirement of one ham sandwich. The price heretofore has been 5 cents, but the restaurants have put up the valuation because of the prices they are compelled to pay for meat. Roast beef sandwiches have been advanced five points, from 10 to 15 cents.

It is estimated that 300,000 ham sandwiches are consumed in Chicago every day, and the increased cost to the public will therefore be $15,000 on the ham proposition alone.

FOOD OF THE CANARY ISLANDERS.

The Canary Islanders are among the most healthy people in the world. They live on gofio, which consists of wheat and corn parched or dextrinized in an iron kettle over a fire, then ground and eaten mixed with water. Attention was first called to this food by an eminent physician visiting the Canary Islands, who was cured of chronic dyspepsia by eating gofio. A prominent Chicago physician lived on gofio for many years, which he obtained from the Battle Creek Sanitarium, where it was formerly used in the treatment of various digestive disorders. By an important discovery a great improvement was made in the preparation, which is now known as Toasted Wheat Flakes, sweetened with Malt Honey, crisp and delicately sweet, its use cures indigestion and chronic constipation.

Big Contract Awarded---After the Encampment

A PITTSBURGH FIRM GETS $570,378 CONTRACT.

LOWER BIDS CLAIMED

Dissatisfaction Expressed in Award for Greensburg Court House.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., April 28.—The county commissioners this evening awarded the contract for the superstructure of the new Westmoreland county courthouse to the Lindsey Construction Company of Pittsburgh. It is to be built of Troy granite and the bid was $570,378.

The Lindsey company, it is claimed, was not the lowest bidder and the action has created a great deal of discontent. It is claimed one bidder offered to erect the building of Troy granite for $100,000 less, and another for $38,000 less than the Lindsey people. Judges Doty and McConnell have yet to approve of the award.

Messrs. Smith & Co. of Pittsburgh were awarded the contract for the heating and ventilating for $51,954, the lowest bid.

FATAL SHOOTING IN OHIO.

Jealousy, Hard Cider and a Game of Cards End in Death by a Bullet.

MARIETTA, O., April 28.—(Special.)—As a result of jealousy, a jug of hard cider and a game of cards, Douglas Whitefield lies dead, while his slayer, William Goins, is in the Athens county jail. Whitefield was jealous of Goins, who, it is said, had shown a liking for the former's wife, but it was not thought that a tragedy would result, as the men were seemingly on good terms.

Sunday Goins and Whitefield engaged in a game of cards, one mile from Broadwell. The dispute occurred at Whitefield's home, and the old question of the jealousy between the two men was brought up. Goins pulled his gun and shot Whitefield dead.

Goins shortly afterward gave himself up, and was taken to Broadwell. Later it was thought prudent to remove him to Athens for safe keeping. The community was much excited and a lynching was narrowly averted.

TO MAKE LUBRICATORS.

Device to be Manufactured in Altoona for Use on Westinghouse Airbrakes.

ALTOONA, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—Peter Beahm, a machinist of this city, has invented and been granted a patent for an automatic lubricating device to be used on the piston rod and air cylinder of the Westinghouse air brakes. Pennsylvania Railroad Mechanical Engineer Vogt has approved of it and General Superintendent of Motive Power Atterbury has announced that it will be put in service immediately.

It is the only device of the kind yet perfected, and Mr. Beahm, backed by local capitalists, will erect a plant for its manufacture at Bellwood, a suburb of this city.

BODY WAS IDENTIFIED.

Man Who Died in Fifth Avenue Yesterday Said to Be Frank Snyder of Philadelphia.

W. T. Lauch, a florist of Carrick Postoffice, called at the morgue last night and identified the body of the man who dropped dead at the corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street at 8 o'clock yesterday morning as that of Frank Snyder of Philadelphia.

Lauch stated to Coroner McGeary that Snyder came to his home about three weeks ago seeking work, and he gave him employment in his greenhouses. Lauch said that Snyder told him he came from Philadelphia, where he had lived for some years.

Before leaving for the city yesterday morning Snyder had a hemorrhage of the lungs and said he would come to Pittsburgh to consult a physician. He was evidently a consumptive, for he had several similar attacks in the three weeks he worked for Lauch. Snyder stated to Lauch that he had several houses in Philadelphia and had traveled all over the world. He came to Carrick from Canada.

As Snyder was passing the corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street early yesterday morning he fell to the sidewalk. Policeman William McClintock rushed to his assistance and Snyder died in his arms.

The body was supposed to have been that of Herman Schmidt of Washington, D. C., from newspaper clippings found in the pockets. The authorities of that city were communicated with, however, by the Pittsburgh police, and no word was received last night. He had a package of flashlight and X-ray photographs when found.

An effort will be made by the authorities to locate the dead man's relatives in the Quaker city today.

MAY BE MURDER.

A Negro at Carnegie Slashed With a Knife by a Jealous Rival.

As the result of a fight among negroes in Carnegie yesterday afternoon, Frank Smith, colored, of that place, was cut in the abdomen and is likely to die at any minute. It is alleged that he was cut by Major Johnson, also colored, of Pittsburgh, and the Pittsburgh police were last night asked to arrest Johnson and Sarah Ashton, who is believed to be at the bottom of the affair.

The trouble between Smith and Johnson is said to have been caused by jealousy over the Ashton woman. Among the negroes who met in Harry Douglas' shanty in Jane street, Carnegie, yesterday afternoon were Smith and Johnson. After a heated argument the rivals went outside the shanty, where, it is claimed, Johnson slashed Smith across the stomach with a penknife. Johnson and the Ashton woman escaped.

DANGER NEARLY OVER.

Archbishop Corrigan's Condition Very Much Improved—Cardinal Martinelli Visits Him.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The condition of Archbishop Corrigan has greatly improved and he passed a peaceful day. His physicians report that the pneumonia is now thoroughly broken and that the only danger now lies in the patient's weakened condition owing to his long and severe illness. His condition tonight when Dr. Keyes left the archiepiscopal residence was so far improved that it was considered unnecessary to issue the customary nightly bulletin.

Cardinal Martinelli called on the archbishop this afternoon, having come earlier from Philadelphia. He was admitted to the sick chamber, but was only allowed to remain for a few minutes.

WILDCAT HAD POSSESSION OF AN EXPRESS OFFICE

CHARLESTON, W. VA., April 28.—(Special.)—For several hours this morning a wildcat stopped all business of the United States Express Company, held up the employes and had undisputed sway over the office in this city.

The animal was received at the office of the company Sunday evening, consigned to a point requiring a transfer here. The box containing the feline was deposited in the office by Agent Wickerstine, who thought no more about it until this morning when he was opening up for business. The startling discovery was made that the animal had clawed its way out of the box during the night. The cat was finally dispatched with a rifle.

ENGINEER CHOSEN FOR NEW CAPITOL

Working Plans for Building Have Been Approved by Commission.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, PA., April 28.—Bernard R. Greene of Washington, D. C., was selected by the capitol commission today as consulting and supervising engineer in the construction of the $4,000,000 capitol. Mr. Greene will also act as personal representative of the commission in the selection and approval of material to be used in the building. He was the engineer in charge of the construction of the congressional library and is one of the trustees of the Corcoran art gallery at Washington.

The working plans of the capitol were submitted by Architect Josepf M. Huston of Philadelphia and approved by the commission with minor changes. After these changes have been made another meeting will be held to again examine and approve the plans and arrange for a contractor. It is expected that work will begin during the summer and that the building will be in shape for occupancy by the next legislature.

The buildings now occupied by the secretary of internal affairs and the old executive building will be torn down to make room for wings for the new building. The offices in these buildings will be temporarily located in the main building.

ELKIN LOSES GREENE.

Delegate to the State Convention Will Go Uninstructed for Governor.

WAYNESBURG, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—The Greene county Republican convention was held in the courthouse here today. J. M. Ferrell of New Freeport was chosen chairman and L. Gwynn of Carmichaels, Charles Garrison of Pine Bank, and A. L. Grimes of White Cottage secretaries. The following ticket was placed in nomination:

For congress, Daniel S. Walton of Waynesburg; state senate, Capt. J. Teagarden, Waynesburg; assembly, N. P. Rogers of Jefferson; county commissioner, W. L. Ingram, Franklin township; county auditor, T. R. Stockdale of Nettle Hill. T. S. Crago was re-elected chairman of the county committee and L. W. Sayers secretary.

W. D. Cotterell was elected delegate to the state convention and was not instructed for governor. Mr. Walton, the congressional nominee, and Capt. Teagarden, the senatorial nominee, each addressed the convention. They were given the privilege of naming their own conferees.

TUNKHANNOCK, PA., April 28.—Wyoming county Republicans held their convention today and elected H. Stanley Harding a delegate to the state convention with instructions to support John P. Elkin for governor. William I. Avery and A. G. Gregory were selected congressional conferees for the Fourteenth district. The candidacy of C. Fred Wright was indorsed.

FISHERMEN PAID FINES.

Lawrence County Officers Arrest Two Men From Youngstown, Ohio.

NEW CASTLE, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—Fish Warden Houk and Constable D. W. Cover of Mahoning township made a raid yesterday on a party of Youngstown fishermen who were fishing in the Mahoning river. The party numbered nearly a dozen, but all escaped from the officers but William Washington and James Brown.

They were brought here and fined $25 each and costs by Alderman Cubbison. They secured the money for their liberty by using the telephone lines to Youngstown. Fishermen have been draining Lawrence county streams of fish recently, and war is to be waged against them.

Girl Scalped in Machine.

LATROBE, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—Miss Elizabeth Bennett was scalped in an accident at the Latrobe steam laundry today. She is employed as a washer, and in some manner her hair was caught in the hot rolls and before help could be secured she was dragged into them and her entire scalp torn from her head. Her skull was crushed and she is not expected to recover.

Saw His Own Lungs.

ALTOONA, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—Madison Walls of Duncansville is the only known man in this section who ever saw his own lungs. During an accident Walls fell against a circular saw, resulting in being cut from below the left shoulder to the hip. He was conscious and plainly noticed his lungs. In operation. The wound has healed and he will recover.

GRAND ENCAMPMENT MAY BE HELD AT GETTYSBURG.

DECISION NEXT FRIDAY

Gen. Miller and Brigade Commanders Have Subject Under Advisement.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, PA., April 28.—The division encampment of the Pennsylvania national guard is almost certain to be held next summer on the Gettysburg battle field. Col. William F. Richardson, quartermaster on Maj.-Gen. Miller's staff, has made an inspection of the field and is confident it is available for a camp. Adjt.-Gen. Stewart is in communication with Gen. Miller and the commanders of the three brigades, and he expects to hear from all of them by Friday.

Should they agree to locate the troops on this historic field, and it is believed they will, general orders will be immediately issued announcing its selection. The division encamped at Gettysburg during the second administration of Gov. Pattison and once during the administration of Gov. Beaver.

The location of the camp, if it is held at Gettysburg, will be on the long level stretch of ground over which Pickett made the famous charge. It is capable of accommodating the entire division, and would form as fine a parade ground as there is in the state.

Purchased Ohio Oil Lease.

FINDLAY, O., April 28.—(Special.)—James Leslie, Dr. Vanscoy and Robertson Brothers, all of Bradford, Pa., have closed a deal whereby they become owners of the Sol Snyder lease, east of this city. The lease has a daily production of 50 barrels and the price paid for it was $20,000.

Guffey Buys Big Coal Tract.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., April 28.—(Special.)—J. M. Guffey of Pittsburgh added to his West Virginia holdings today by the acquisition of a coal tract in Preston and Barbour counties of 11,000 acres. He paid $11 an acre and the purchase aggregated $132,000. Mr. Guffey has not less than $1,000,000 invested in coal lands in this state.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

WALLER SAYS SMITH ORDERED THE KILLING

Major Testifies That Drastic Measures Were Necessary in Samar.

AMERICANISTS ARE SLAIN

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

MANILA, April 28.—The trial by court-martial of Gen. Jacob H. Smith on the charge of "conduct prejudicial to good order and discipline" was resumed today. Maj. Littleton W. T. Waller of the marine corps testified to receiving from General Smith the orders to "kill and burn" and render Samar "a howling wilderness." The natives of Samar, said Major Waller, were more treacherous and implacable than the tribesmen of the Soudan. Without General Smith's drastic measures the war there would not have been ended yet. General Smith never intended killing women or children.

Corporal Pritchard of the Ninth infantry, who took part in the fight at Gandara, testified that he saw boys of 12 years of age fighting and slashing with bolos.

Sergeant Bonicastle of the Ninth infantry testified regarding Captain P. K. Schoeffel's fight in Dapdap province, Samar, against Dios Dios fanatics. He saw a soldier attacked by two boys, under 15, one armed with a bolo and the other with a dagger.

Private Nanjot of the Tenth cavalry told how Americanists (natives friendly to the Americans) were butchered in cold blood. Sergeant Brumly of the Ninth infantry, a survivor of the Balangiga massacre, described that disaster, including the mutilation of the American dead by the Samar natives.

Five men of the constabulary have been ambushed at San Juan Del Monte, near Manila. One of the party was killed and one wounded. The Filipino band consisted of thirty Ladrones, nearly all of them carrying Mauser rifles. A force of constabulary is scouring the neighborhood for the bandits.

OHIO LINES JOIN FORCES.

New Traction System Will Connect Toledo With Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, April 28.—A $5,000,000 traction company will be organized May 7 at Hamilton, O., when the stockholders of the Southern Ohio Traction Company and of the Cincinnati & Northwestern railroad meet to ratify the action of their directors in consolidating the two companies.

Pennsylvania Railroad Summer Excursion Tickets.

On May 1, 1902, the regular summer excursion tickets, via all-rail routes to all the principal summer resorts east of Pittsburgh and Buffalo, will be placed on sale at ticket offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Summer Excursion Route Book for 1902 will be issued, as heretofore, on June 1.

THE MINISTERIALISTS REMAIN IN CONTROL

RIOTERS TERRORIZE RUSSIAN LANDLORDS

Soldiers Unable to Prevent Incendiarism and Plundering.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 28.—Persistent reports are in circulation to the effect that the czar will shortly issue a rescript giving Russia a constitution similar to the scheme for administrative reform drawn up by the late Gen. Loris-Melikoff when he was minister of the interior, and which was sanctioned by the late czar, Alexander II.

The rioting continues to spread in South Russia. The military thus far has been unable to prevent incendiarism, terrorism and plundering. The landed proprietors throughout the government of Poltava are seeking refuge in the city of Poltava.

Prince Obolensky, the governor of Kershon, is apprehensive of a rising in that government. The police forces in many cities have been increased in strength, notably in Irkutsk and Archangel.

Baischaneff, the assassin of M. Sipiaguine, the late minister of the interior, is now reported to be very sick, due to voluntary starvation.

SANTO DOMINGO IN REVOLT.

New Revolutionary Disturbance Led by Vice President Vasquez.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, HAITI, April 28.—It is reported that another revolution has broken out in Santo Domingo. Telegraphic communication between that republic and Haiti is entirely interrupted.

Advices received here from Porto Plata, a seaport on the north coast of Santo Domingo, say that Santiago is the center of the revolutionary disturbance which is directed by Vice President Horatio Vasquez. It is believed here that the revolution will probably be suppressed by the Dominican government forces.

Chinamen to Be Canonized.

ROME, April 28.—The claim for the beatification of the Chinese Catholic convert, Joseph Khang, has been before the Congregation of Rites, under the presidency of the pope. The result is not announced but if approved Khang will be the first Chinaman to be canonized.

To Buy Embassy Building.

ROME, April 28.—The senate today passed, without discussion, a bill providing for the purchase of a building in Washington to be occupied by the members of the Italian embassy. The purchase of this building was approved by the chamber of deputies April 19.

Carnegie Library for Binghamton.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., April 28.—(Special.)—Andrew Carnegie has offered to this city $75,000 for the building of a public library on the usual conditions.

NATIONALISTS GAINED BUT SIX DEPUTIES IN FRENCH ELECTIONS.

PREDICTIONS DISPROVED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, April 28.—The minister of the interior today made public the results of 574 elections, which give the ministerialists 243 seats, sub-divided as follows: Republicans, 89; Radicals, 92; Radical Socialists, 41; Socialists, 21.

One hundred and seventy three rebollots, of which 122 are favorable to the government and 51 are unfavorable, are necessary.

The Temps says: "The elections have disproved the predictions that the extreme parties, Nationalists and Socialists, would gain heavily at the expense of the moderate Republicans."

SIX MONTHS AMONG THE BRIGANDS

Miss Stone's Own Story

Only an inkling of this memorable affair has reached the public. Here for the first time it is set forth in all its terrible detail by the only one who can tell it completely. You will be held breathless in the spell of these amazing experiences, surely the most astounding that any living woman has endured. The sudden onslaught and capture of the missionaries; the slaying of the chance witness; the wild flight over the Bulgarian mountains by secret paths; the cruelty, not wanton but inevitable, of the forced marches; the constant menace of death; the silent escapes where life hung on the break of a twig—all these make up a human document more thrilling in its simple truth than are the wildest reaches of the imagination.

ALL OVER PITTSBURGH!

There are people with "bad backs" everywhere—Backs that ache from kidney ills—Backs that are lame and weak—Backs that have stitches and twitches—Backs that have cricks and twinges. Ills of the kidney and bladder are serious ills, don't neglect them. Neglect the kidneys when they're sick and poisonous uric acid circulates through the system causing Rheumatic pains—Diabetes—Bright's Disease.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Cure every disorder of the Kidneys and bladder. If you suffer from Backache, Urinary troubles or any kidney ill, it isn't safe to experiment with some untried remedy—get a medicine endorsed by people you know.

PITTSBURGH PROOF:

John Harris, No. 52 South Thirty-third street, says. "I thought for a long time that it was rheumatism that caused the terrible pains in my back and shoulders. I suffered so that I could not sleep at night or work in the daytime. My urine was discolored and unnatural. I suffered almost constantly. Finally I became satisfied that my kidneys were out of order, and that the uric acid in my blood was causing all the trouble. I got a bottle of Doan's Kidney Pills at Fleming's drug store, on Market street, and felt relief after the first few doses. It was a very short time until I was completely cured, and since then there has been no return of the pain at all. I cannot praise Doan's Kidney Pills enough."

SEVENTH AVENUE.

Mrs. William Armour, who has a grocery store at No. 528 Seventh avenue, suffered for several years from kidney trouble, and would have been suffering yet had it not been for the work of "The Little Conquerer." "It began with a pain across the small of my back," she says, "and gradually grew worse until I was scarcely able to go about my work. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and I got a box. The first few doses helped me wonderfully, and before the box was finished I was completely cured. I was so rejoiced that I sent a box to my sister, who lives in Leechburg, and who has suffered a great deal from kidney trouble. She was as greatly benefited as I was, and never gets tired talking of the wonderful merits of Doan's Kidney Pills."

CAUTION Get what you ask for. Get DOAN'S. Don't accept something "just as good." Most druggists sell Doan's Kidney Pills and will give you what you call for. Some may endeavor to substitute an article they make more profit on. Insist on having the genuine. Price 50c.

CITY OFFICIALS WERE PLACED ON WITNESS STAND

Water Investigating Committee Had Busy Session Yesterday.

M'CANDLESS' TESTIMONY

The Director of Public Works and Supt. A. B. Shepherd of the Water Bureau Furnished Important Details as to City's Water System.

For nearly two hours yesterday the water investigating committee listened to details of the water system of the city, the location of various pipes, the size of the pipes, the capacity of the various reservoirs and other data. Some interesting statistics were brought to light, but nothing that would fasten on any one any responsibility for the recently threatened water famine. Director J. Guy McCandless of the public works department and Supt. A. B. Shepherd of the water bureau were on the stand during the session of the committee. Chief Engineer H. E. Fernauld of Brilliant station, W. H. Cochran, watchman at Highland reservoir, and G. W. Emery, assistant engineer of the water bureau, will be present at the meeting on Wednesday.

The oaths were administered to the two witnesses by Chairman W. S. Woods, who conducted the examinations in the main, each of the members of the committee also asking questions at various times. The reform members of the committee—W. S. Woods, Dr. J. P. Shaw and J. C. Wasson—sat close together and conferred at various times, while W. J. Zahnizer and John Upperman, the machine members, occupied seats at some distance, although they closely watched the proceedings.

Officials on the Stand.

Director McCandless was on the stand but a short time. He answered a number of questions with reference to the water bureau; said the details of the bureau are better known to the superintendent, and agreed that the text of the proclamation given in the investigation resolution was his own. He was questioned as to where he obtained his information concerning the scarcity of water and the threatened famine, and said by personal observation at Brilliant station and at Highland reservoir, and from reports that were made to him by Supt. Shepherd.

Supt. Shepherd was on the stand the greater part of the time and the course of the questions led him over the entire ground of the city water supply and finally to the threatened famine of March, although nothing was developed that would show the cause except the statement, made at various times by Supt. Shepherd, to the effect that the sand, gravel and the like in the water prevented the pumps from doing good work, and the water in the reservoir consequently grew low. Mr. Shepherd also said that the inspectors at that time had found some mills that were using city water without permission, and said this was at once stopped.

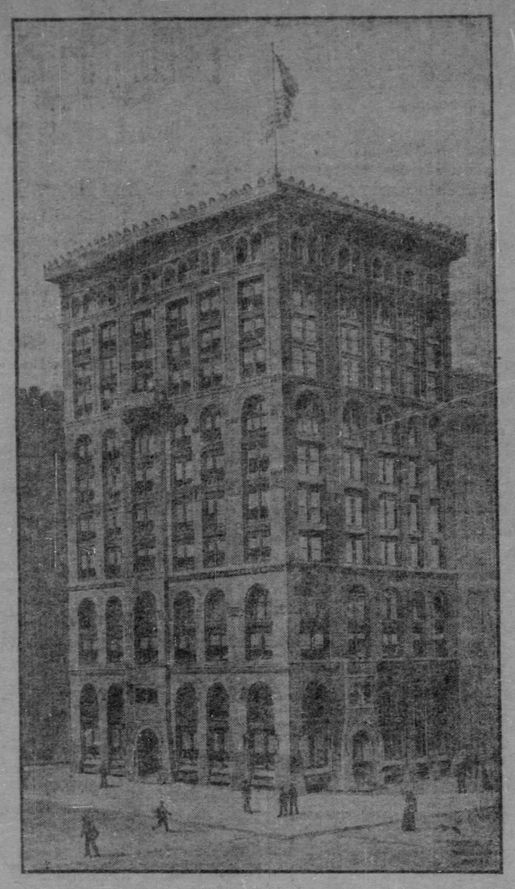
Some Mills Had Permission.

He said he also gave certain mills permission to use city water during that time for a certain number of hours, and that water bureau inspectors were on hand to see that the water was shut off when the time was up.

There was an exhaustive discussion of the water system in the downtown district, the size of the pipes and the date when they were placed in the ground being brought out. One of the important matters adduced was the statement of Mr. Shepherd that he believed that there was at all times all the water in the down-town pipes that the fire bureau needed or could handle. Mr. Shepherd said, however, that the system needs improvement and ought to be improved.

Another fact that interested the committee was the statement of Mr. Shepherd that the daily consumption of water is practically all that the pumps are able to furnish. He said that four new engines had been contracted for and that the first was to be in the plant by June 15, 1903, and the others thereafter. He also said that the daily consumption of water in the city, by the date mentioned, will undoubtedly exceed the amount that the pumps will be able to furnish.

There is a great deal of data that the committee requested of Mr. Shepherd, which will be taken from the records and presented at the next meeting of the committee. Supt. Shepherd promised to give the committee a list of the mills that were using city water during the month of March, when the famine was threatened, also those that were using city water at the time without the consent of the department.



WESTINGHOUSE BUILDING NOW HAS TWELVE STORIES.

The finishing touches are being put on the work of transforming the Westinghouse building into a 12-story structure. When the building was erected in 1887 it was nine stories high and covered an area of 98x100 feet. It was the last of the office buildings to be erected in the city before steel construction came into use and was one of the most costly buildings west of the Alleghanies.

In the alterations the ninth floor was removed and three new floors were added. The building now contains 100 offices, each being supplied with electricity, hot and cold water, gas for laboratory work and compressed air. These extra conveniences have been provided especially for professional men, a large number of whom have sought offices there. The building is heated throughout by steam, the temperature of each room being regulated automatically by the Johnson regulator system. Electric light is furnished by three dynamos driven by Westinghouse gas engines.

A new elevator plant supplied with all modern safeguards and the Armstrong system of signals has been installed and a refrigerator plant keeps the offices in cold water. The original cost of the building was $620,000 and the additional stories have cost $250,000. The work of remodeling the building has been done under the direct supervision of Architects Hawley and Wharton, who designed the original structure.

LIVELY STRUGGLE FOR COADJUTORSHIP

GERMANS AND IRISH-AMERICANS EACH HAVE A CANDIDATE.

The Rev. Father Martin Ryan and the Rev. Father Suehr are Most Prominently Mentioned as Assistants to Bishop Phelan in This Diocese.

What promises to be a lively and interesting clerical struggle is now being engaged in by the priests of the diocese of Pittsburgh. The coadjutorship of the diocese of Pittsburgh, which will carry with it the right of succession as head of the diocese immediately on Bishop Phelan's death, is the bone of contention.

Since Bishop Phelan announced in The Pittsburgh Gazette last January that he proposed to petition Rome for a coadjutor to lighten his work there has been a steady, quiet, but none the less vigorous contest between the German and the Irish-American priests in this diocese. The latter, almost to a man, as stated heretofore in The Gazette, have unanimously agreed upon the Rev. Father Martin Ryan, pastor of St. Brigid's, as their choice. The German element, it is said, were divided between the Rev. Father Goebel and the Rev. Father Suehr, but have finally agreed upon Father Suehr. The latter is one of the most cultured priests in the diocese and has qualities that are even acceptable to the Irish-American element.

Priests Approve the Plan.

The meeting of the entire clergy of the diocese last Thursday afternoon developed a vigorous interest in the coadjutorship, and some stirring speeches were made by priests in expression of their opinions. It was stated yesterday that the committee which will wait on the bishop will simply carry this message: That the priests desire a coadjutor from this diocese; that he be one having rare administrative qualities as well as being a spiritual man, and that he be whomsoever the priests of the diocese unanimously agree upon.

In the meantime the petition favoring Father Ryan grows stronger, and at the same time the German priests are losing no ground. The priests are aware that the bishop himself has great influence as regards the selection of his coadjutor, for, besides having the necessary qualities, the coadjutor would, of course, have to be one whom the bishop could take entirely into his confidence, and, for this reason, one to his liking. Whether or not the bishop would favor a German for the place is not known. He has asked the clergy to name their choice, and will probably support the priest named by them.

Preparing an Address.

The committee is now forming an address to be read to the bishop which will express the consensus of opinion among the clergy. This committee will probably meet the bishop some day this week. It is understood also that they have been instructed to ultimately name Father Ryan as the choice of the priests.

The Rev. Father Suehr, whom the German element is bringing out prominently, will probably get the support of the Polish and other foreign priests in the diocese. He is pastor of St. Peter and Paul's church, East End, one of the finest Catholic churches in the two cities. He is a bit younger than Father Ryan. He refused yesterday to discuss the question of the coadjutorship. Father Ryan, too, still persists that he will not be named.

AFFILIATION CHANGED.

Locals of International Association of Sheet Metal Workers Want to Join Alliance.

The Sheet Metal Workers' alliance, combining the organization of the five most important cities in the country and launched here in February, is being called upon to take in several of the local organizations of the International Association of Sheet Metal Workers. The alliance has, through the creation of a defense fund, established important prestige. Its constituent organizations are the locals in Pittsburgh, New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Chicago.

Albert D. Sheriff, president, and John N. Puchta, trustee, of the local No. 65 of the international, Cleveland, O., arrived here yesterday and held a conference with M. O'Sullivan, second vice president of the alliance. As a result, it is expected that the Cleveland organization will swing its affiliation to the alliance. Members of the Cleveland organization are to come here under a contractor of their city and will work under the rules of the alliance.

TWO SHORT STRIKES.

Men on Farmers Deposit Bank Building and at E. P. Roberts & Sons Quit.

There were short-lived strikes on two downtown building operations yesterday. Structural workers on the new Farmers Deposit National bank and all trades employed on the new place of business of E. P. Roberts & Sons in Fifth avenue were on strike for less than an hour.

On the Roberts work Business Agent J. J. Zimmer of the electric wiremen scaled the steel enclosure and called the men out, it being alleged that non-union tile-layers, steamfitters and ornamental ironworkers were at work. As soon as Zimmer and other business agents secured access to the building there was a capitulation, and all but union men were discharged.

At the new bank building a structural ironworker injured recently had been put at other work, and in his last pay was given the wage of a laborer. The structural ironworkers quit for a half hour, when the contractors arranged to hold the injured man at the wage of the structural workers' organization.

STRUGGLE WITH POLAR ICE NOW ON IN EARNEST

RELIEF PARTY IS READY

Will Sail From Tromsoe July 1, and Expects to Meet the Explorer on His Return Journey Near Alger Island—Coal for the America.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, April 28.—Explorer Baldwin, who is in the far north searching for the pole, is supposed to have reached the crucial period of his desperate enterprise and the middle of June will decide the fate of the expedition. By that time he should have reached that hitherto inaccessible point, if his plans have not miscarried.

The relief party, which is expected to meet him on the northern side of Alger island upon his return journey, has practically completed arrangements for the expedition and will leave New York shortly for Tromso, whence they will start on their northward journey. The steamship Frithjof, which, with the America, conveyed the Baldwin party to Franz Josef Land, has been chartered for the work and will depart from Tromso on July 1.

The auxiliary expedition will be in charge of W. S. Champ, secretary to William Zeigler, who will sail for Europe on the steamship Cymric May 28, and the remainder of the party will leave on the steamship Pretoria June 7. Mr. Champ and all of his assistants have had experience in the Arctic regions. The Frithjof will again be commanded by Capt. Kjeldsen, whose work in the Arctic has been conspicuous.

The Frithjof will go from Tromso to Camp Zeigler on Alger island, which is in 80 degrees and 24 minutes north latitude, and there secure the last instructions left by Baldwin. It is believed here that Baldwin has worked to the northward of Alger island and that the America is fast in the ice. When the America is found an effort will be made to refill her bunkers with coal and work her out of the ice pack. It is thought that Baldwin used the America for winter quarters and worked north with sledges, establishing caches preparatory for the dash to the pole.

Baldwin's associates here are of the opinion that Baldwin began his northern movement for the pole about the middle of February and that he will reach the highest point about the middle of June, Frithjof expedition being timed to meet him upon his return.

Baldwin has always believed that he would find a drift that would take him out by way of Greenland, but his associates are of the opinion that his return will be across the ice toward Franz Josef Land. Mr. Champ's plan after releasing the America will be to establish a patrol with the hope of picking up the Baldwin party. It is planned to cover a stretch of 150 miles east and west across the route most likely to be taken by Baldwin.

WRIGHT GETS LICENSE.

Candidate Who Holds Unorthodox Belief About Adam and Eve Passed by Presbytery.

ELIZABETH, N. J., April 28.—The Elizabeth presbytery met in adjourned session in the Second Presbyterian church today to take action on the application for licenses to the ministry of Filbert Lovell and Harrison K. Wright, both of whom at the last session of the presbytery proclaimed that in their opinion the story of Adam and Eve was mythical.

Candidate Wright, who was called today, said he would not take his views regarding Adam and Eve into the pulpit with him, but if it was to save a man for Christ he would tell him what he believed in regard to that matter. He qualified his statement of two weeks ago that he believed the book of Genesis was allegorical and not essential. He said today that the book, he believed, was written by an inspired man, who was not a historian.

The members of the presbytery then voted unanimously to grant Mr. Wright a license and he will be ordained for foreign mission. Mr. Lovell, the other candidate, is sick in bed and is about to undergo a surgical operation. The presbytery adjourned until May 12, then it will act upon his application.

KILLED BY AN UNKNOWN.

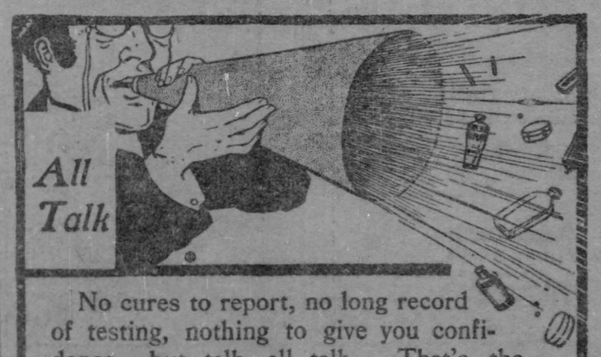
M'COOK, NEB., April 28.—Dr. J. Walter Rowland of Herndon, Kan., was shot and killed by an unknown person today in a small room adjoining the store of G. W. Dull. He had been talking with Mr. Dull, who stepped out of the room. Hearing revolver shots, Mr. Dull returned and found Dr. Rowland dead, shot through the head and stomach. Suicide is declared to have been an impossibility, and the authorities are entirely at sea.

Dr. Rowland was widely known in Southwestern Nebraska and Northern Kansas, where he had lived for years. He was a prominent Mason.



No cures to report, no long record of testing, nothing to give you confidence—but talk, all talk. That's the truth about nearly all cough medicines.

But there's a record of 60 years of cures back of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. And physicians endorse it, prescribe it for colds, bronchitis, and coughs of all kinds. Probably your own doctor does. Ask him. He knows all about it—has the formula.

"I know from personal experience that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best medicine in the world for quickly breaking up a heavy cold that has settled on the lungs."—D. C. SNEDEKER, Pine Hill, N. Y.

League Games Today.

St. Louis at Exposition park.
New York at Brooklyn.
Boston at Philadelphia.

The champion Pirates are back home again. They were a little weary after a night ride from Chicago and were glad that Uncle Nick Young had scheduled them for a day of rest. Today the players promise to be in proper trim for a go at Patsy Donovan's St. Louis Cardinals, and they are looking for the Mound City boys to give them a good run for their money.

The team got in yesterday morning, and there was not a sick or an injured player in the bunch. When they reported at headquarters two familiar faces, those of Zimmer and Conroy, were missing. The chief had been given permission to go over to Cleveland to see how his cigar factory was getting along, and Wid went to Milwaukee on business, he said, but his fellow players think there is something more attractive that causes Wid's mind as well as body to wander back to his old stamping ground. He does not deny the soft impeachment himself, so that invitations may be looked for next winter.

Looked Like Pirate Rooters.

Secretary Pulliam was quite enthusiastic over the pitching of Deacon Phillippe on Sunday. Harry says the deacon had all his benders in fine working order, and it was worth two admissions to see young St. Vrain, the Chicago pitcher, at the bat. The youngster had been struck out twice, and was so anxious to get a swipe at the ball the third time up that his actions much resembled those of a man chopping wood. The secretary was much pleased over the big turnout to see Sunday's game, and says that Selee's youngsters are the whole show over in the Windy city.

The secretary reports that he took over to Chicago on Sunday a number of those pennant buttons, and his experience was one he will not forget in a hurry. He had with him about 500 buttons, and as there were nearly 17,000 spectators at the game, there was not one who did not demand a souvenir. He says the display of pennant buttons made the crowd look like a lot of Pittsburgh rooters. He also got an idea over there on a wind-proof fence which he explained to President Dreyfuss, and one may be erected at Exposition park. The new idea is a sort of a double fence and is anchored on each side.

When Manager Clarke arrived at headquarters he found there a copy of the Louisville Post, which had been sent along by a friend, Bill Schreyer. The paper contained a marked notice which read: "Billy Clymer is a second edition of Fred Clarke. He looks like him, walks like him, plays like him and kicks like him." There was a pencilled note on the paper from Popper Bill which read as follows: "Tell your gang to get a gait on them, as we are pulling for your team." All of which shows that Popper does not forget his old love.

The Cardinals Arrived Early.

Manager Donovan and his crowd of Cardinals got in from Cincinnati early in the morning and took up headquarters at the Monongahela house. The players were in good humor over their two wins from the Reds and say they are going after a game or two from the Pirates. During the afternoon the Cardinals paid a visit to Exposition park and put in a couple of hours at practice. The only absentee was Left Fielder Barclay, who was given permission to visit friends in Greensburg, where he played ball a couple of seasons ago.

Manager Donovan, as usual, is modest in speaking of his team, and is not looking for wonders from his players, but says as soon as they get going right they will make some of the league teams hump themselves for a victory. His players, besides being new, were handicapped by lack of training, having done their preliminary stunts at home. In today's game it is likely that Yerkes, who made such a good showing against the champions in the opening game of the season, will be called on to do the pitching, while it is Chesbro's turn to twirl for the Pirates.

FATAL BASES ON BALLS.

Mularkey's Wildness Defeated Boston at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—Mularkey's wildness in the fourth and seventh innings caused Boston's defeat by Philadelphia today. He gave six bases on balls in these two innings, which resulted in the four runs scored by the locals. Attendance 1,961. Score:

O'BRIEN HAD THE POINTS.

Jackson Slugged the Hardest, but Could Not Count.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—"Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien outpointed Young Peter Jackson tonight in their six-round go before the Washington Sporting club. The fight was a fast and fast one from beginning to end. In the matter of hitting Jackson had a little the better of it, there being more power behind his blows. He, however, failed to land on a vital spot and O'Brien's cleverness more than offset the heavy punches of his adversary. Both men were very tired at the finish.

GETTING READY FOR LOCAL MEET

SHADYSIDE ATHLETES HAVE COMMENCED TRAINING WORK.

Some Very Fast Youngsters Are Trying for Places on the Team—Will Be Strong in Long Runs as Well as Bicycle Events.

With double the active candidates that were available last season, and with James Darsie, the fastest quarter miler among the local schools, training, Shadyside academy is confident of making a strong showing in the championship interscholastic meet, which is to be held this year at Schenley park, on May 31. Active training has commenced with the announcement of standards for all members of the team.

Last year at Washington Shadyside was second to Kiski, with 31 points to the Saltsburg school's 62. This year Shadyside hopes to fight for the honors, and while there is improvement in every quarter the only serious loss is that of Howard Armstrong who, last year with his brother Will, counted nearly all the points. Armstrong is now at Princeton.

Armstrong a Star Member.

Armstrong, who is captain, is the star performer this year. He is showing strong at both the mile and the half and in both the low and high hurdles. He is also training for both the high and broad jumps, and has done 21 feet in the broad. Armstrong will also throw the hammer. James Darsie, who did not run last year, is out training and is a tower of strength to the team. He will run in both the half and mile races and the 120-yard hurdles, and has gone the quarter in 53 1-5 in training. Thomas is showing up well for the mile and Schmertz for the half and mile.

Shadyside will not be so strong in the dashes as in the runs, but Curry, the new boy from the St. Paul school of Long Island, should score heavily in the 100. Ahl is also training for the 100-yard. J. K. Scott is doing well for the quarter, and for the weights the academy has Scritchfield and O'Brien in addition to Armstrong. The pole vault MacCready and Byram are training.

Williams Fast on Bicycle.

In the bicycle races Borntraeger and Hall will compete, but Shadyside is banking most on Williams, who several years ago was the star boy rider in the Schenley park meets, and is showing up some speedy pedal pushing for Shadyside.

The following schedule of standards for the track team has been adopted by the academy and a boy must do pretty fair work to even gain a position on the team, if he does well will get a letter:

100-yard dash, 11 2-5 seconds; 220-yard dash, 25 2-5 seconds; 440-yard dash, 60 seconds; 880-yard run, 2 minutes 20 seconds; mile run, 5 minutes 20 seconds; 120-yard hurdle, 16 seconds; 220-yard hurdle, 28 seconds; high jump, 5 feet; broad jump, 18 feet; pole vault, 7 feet 6 inches; hammer throw, 85 feet; shot put, 32 feet; 2-mile bike, 5 minutes 30 seconds; 1-mile bike, 2 minutes and 40 seconds.

Note—One or more of these must be equaled before the man is on the track team. These standards are subject to change at the discretion of the captain and timer.

THE BILLIARD TOURNEY.

Local Cue Experts Make a Fair Start in Their Play for Cash Prizes.

The 14-inch balk line tournament in the Great Northern billiard hall opened yesterday afternoon with a game between Rayner and English, both scratch men. Neither player displayed his true form, and as a result the performance was a disappointment to the majority of the spectators. The highest run made by either player was 19, whereas in practice both have been running from 35 to 84 in almost one inning. The contestants in the evening game, the former playing 200 to the latter's 170. The game this afternoon will be Phillippi vs. Powers, the former playing 200 to the latter's 180. The evening game will be between Roberts and Marshall, also scratch men. The following is the result of yesterday's games:

W. U. P. DENTALS BEATEN.

The High School Team Played a Great Game.

The High school team yesterday afternoon defeated W. U. P. Dentals by the one-sided score of 15 to 2. High school put up a fast fielding game, not having an error charged against them. Hollis pitched a steady game throughout, while the infield work deserves special mention. Hollis was well supported by Bacon, who caught a pretty game, having no stolen bases against him, while H. S. stole 18 bases. High school's hits came at opportune times, with men on bases. Score:

Will Build New Clubhouse.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., April 28.—(Special.)—A circular has been issued by the Beaver Valley Cyclers of this place to its members, soliciting subscriptions to stock for the purpose of raising funds to erect a handsome club house at this place this summer, the present quarters of the club being entirely inadequate to its present needs. The B. V. C. is one of the most prominent social organizations in the Beaver Valley, and is principally made up of business and professional men.

Four Games for Homestead.

The H. L. A. C. baseball team will have four games at home this week. On Wednesday the Winter A. C. will play at Homestead; Thursday, Pittsburgh college; Friday the Iroquois, and Saturday the Westinghouse A. C. will play at Steel Works park. Manager Risher will try Shaw, a new man, against Pittsburgh college. Jones will oppose the Westinghouse team.

THE NEW COLISEUM.

Work Started on the Big Bicycle Track—Many Big Events Intended.

Work was started yesterday on the new Coliseum bicycle track, which will occupy old Recreation park in Allegheny, and in less than a month Pittsburgh can boast of one of the finest bicycle racing tracks in the country.

The stakes for the new track, which is to be a six lap affair, were driven yesterday by a force of men under the supervision of Tim Hurst, who is to have full charge of the new affair. Mr. Hurst stated yesterday that the work will be pushed rapidly as there is now no occasion for delay of any kind, unless the weather conditions should prove unfavorable. It is the intention of the promoters to use the big coliseum for various things besides bicycle races.

Among other things to be promoted is a horse show, which will be run by the same people who manage the big affairs in Madison Square garden each year. There will also be military tournaments, athletic tournaments and in the winter season Mr. Hurst will conduct the place as an open air skating rink. The new building is to be elaborately fitted up and rages will be held by electric light as well as during afternoons.

McCloskey and Zang Will Meet.

James Mason, the manager of Frank McCloskey, and the backer of Eddie Zang, met last night and quickly came to terms for a match on May 19, before the club offering the best inducements. They will go 10 or 12 rounds to a decision.

Among the Amateurs.

The Harvard A. C. is without a game for next Saturday, and would like to arrange a game with any strong team having grounds. Address Harry Weiss, Suffolk street, Allegheny, Pa.

The Joker A. C., second team, defeated the Mt. Oliverys by a score of 10 to 5. The Joker A. C. challenges all 6 and 7-year-old teams. Address Hiefer's grocery store, Mt. Oliver street, Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh College having canceled, Company C is without a game for next Saturday, May 3. Any good amateur team having grounds desiring a game for above date, address E. N. McGregor, 63 Miller street, city.

The Allentown A. C. would like to hear from some 18 or 19-year-old out-of-town team for two games on Decoration Day and July 4. Address John H. Waigeman, Manager, care American Tin Plate Co., Star works, city.

The Edgeworth A. C. has signed a new shortstop, second baseman and left fielder, which strengthens the team considerably. They would like to hear from any 15-year-old team for a game on May 24. H. F. Pearce, Edgeworth, Pa.

AQUEDUCT RACES NOT EXCITING

THE EVENT OF THE DAY WAS THE WOODHAVEN STAKES.

Was Won by Hedge After Blue and Orange Had Made the Running—Rosetint Has Won Five Straight Victories. Honors Were Divided.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 28.—Favorites and second choices divided the honors at Aqueduct today. The Woodhaven selling stakes for 2-year-olds at five furlongs brought out only an ordinary lot of 2-year-olds. Blue and Orange made the running to the eighth pole in the stretch, where Hedge took command and won by half a length. Rosetint, by winning the second race, made it her fifth straight victory, easily defeating the favorite, Alan. Summaries:

First race, 6 furlongs, selling—Malster, 110, O'Connor, 8 to 5 and 7 to 10, won; Bounteous, 107, Brennan, 8 to 1 and 3 to 1, second; Baseto, 100, J. Martin, 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:14 3-5. Westminster Has Strong Players.

NEW WILMINGTON, PA., April 28.—The baseball squad of Westminster college has been at active pratice for some time and the preliminary work for the season of 1902 is well advanced. Manager Neville has almost completed the schedule of games and the season will be opened here on Saturday, May 3, with the New Castle team. The most promising men thus far for pitchers are Porter, '02; Tennant, '05; and Sewall, '05. For catcher, Fulton, '02; Cleland, '05; Crooks, '05 and J. C. Campbell have been making a good showing. Infield candidates are, in addition to Capt. Breaden, Moore, '04; Degelman, '02; Williams, '02; Miller, '02; and Stranahan, '05, all of last year's second nine, and Hunter, Perkins, '04; Tweedie, '04, and Elliott, '05. Candidates for outfield places are Calhoun, Smith, T. Kennedy, Briceland, Davison, Freetly and W. Moore.

AFFECTS MANY PLAYERS

Three Players Ordered Back to Philadelphia National League Club. Special American League Meeting Called

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, April 28.—The preliminary injunction granted last week restraining Napoleon Lajoie, second baseman of the Philadelphia American Baseball league, from playing with any other than the Philadelphia National league club, was today made permanent by the court of common pleas. Permanent injunctions were also issued against Pitchers Frazer and Bernhard, formerly of the Philadelphia National league club, who are at present playing with the local American league team.

In the original suit against the three players the court of common pleas decided that the contracts were unjust and declined to issue a restraining order.

The officials of the National league club appealed to the supreme court, which reversed the decision of the lower court. A temporary injunction was granted Thursday, and today's proceedings were the result of an effort to dissolve the injunction.

Not Against the Sherman Act.

The court decided in the matter of Lajoie that there were no new points to be argued and that as the supreme court had expressly declared Lajoie's contract to be valid, a permanent injunction must be issued. Counsel for the American league club argued that the constitution of the National league was in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, as it retained a players' services for all time, but the court did not agree with that view.

President Ban Johnson of the American league and other witnesses were called to prove that neither Bernhard nor Frazer were players of exceptional ability, but the court decided that the decision of the supreme court applied to them, and accordingly issued the permanent restraining order.

Must Amend the Bill First.

Although today's decision of the court practically makes the injunction against the players permanent, technically the restraining order will not be made permanent until the National league amends the bill of complaint to cover the season of 1902. The original bill on which the decision was rendered covered only last year. President Ban Johnson, before leaving for the west tonight, issued a call for a special meeting or the American league to be held in Cleveland on Wednesday. A full attendance is expected and the whole situation will be gone over and a line of campaign mapped out. Mr. Johnson would not divulge his plans.

Lots.

DEVENNY'S LOT SALE.

Big Bargain in the Choicest Lots in East McKeesport—Lots Right in the Center of the Town—Cheaper Than Those Outside the Borough.

I have about 150 of the choicest lots in East McKeesport that I am going to close out this season. These lots are in the central part of the town; nearly all level, and are on the most prominent streets in the borough. The quick buyer will get the choice of location. I will sell every lot at last year's schedule price. A number of them are worth double that amount. Every purchaser of East McKeesport lots has made money, and the present season will witness the biggest boom in the history of the town. The United Traction Co. is building a viaduct across the P. R. R. at Wilmerding which will be completed by the first of next July, and will give a 5-cent fare from East McKeesport to Braddock. If you can spare a few dollars a month to pay on a lot, come and see me.

STEEL COMBINE IS IN PERIL OF BILLET FAMINE

Fails in Negotiations at Home and May Have to Import Raw Material.

NOT WAITING FOR BONDS

Corporation Going Ahead With Many of Its Projected Improvements, Which Will Require Long Time.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, April 28.—The United States Steel Corporation has now on its books 7,000,000 tons of business. As the volume of its business grows the combine finds itself getting shorter and shorter of raw material, and the indications are that if present conditions continue long it will be at the necessity of importing billets on a considerable scale.

It was learned today that the United States Steel Corporation, after having negotiated unsuccessfully with an independent company for a large amount of billets, intimated that if terms could be made it would undertake to use the entire output of the independent concern for a given period. No agreement has yet been reached.

Not the least peculiar of the many aspects in the present iron and steel situation is that the new concerns in the field are unable to get the structural steel they need with which to construct plants. It happens, therefore, that the increased production of iron and steel awaits the time when existing companies can provide material with which to build new plants. Owing to this anomalous situation it will be a matter, perhaps, of two years before the full increase of production involved in new projects will be realized.

Pittsburghers With Consciences.

An official of the United States Steel Corporation drew attention to this today in support of his assertion that there are no present indications of over-production. Independent prices continue to move upward, although the United States Steel Corporation is selling its product at scheduled prices, the latter being far below those quoted by independents.

A representative of one of the largest independent steel and iron companies returned to New York today from Pittsburgh with the information that his mill has just sold a large quantity of billets for $33 a ton. He said the contract might have been closed at $34 a ton, but that his company was ashamed to exact that price. His concern, he said, could sell all the steel it could undertake to produce for delivery during the last three-quarters of this year at the most extreme prices now prevailing.

Not Waiting for Bond Money.

The United States Steel Corporation, it was learned today, is going ahead with many of the improvements on which $25,000,000 of the $50,000,000 fresh capital is to be expended. The money is not yet available, of course, but the work is proceeding, nevertheless, and payments may even occur before the bonds are realized on; but in this event the outlay will be carried into book debts, to be liquidated when the money becomes available.

The reason this work is being urged in advance of realizing the necessary fresh funds is that progress at best is bound to be slow, owing to the fact that all the plants are badly crowded with business, and it will take a considerable time to complete the improvements contemplated. Officials of the combine say that the economies resulting from these improvements will go a long way toward enabling the corporation to maintain earnings at the current rate in times of decreased production.

Heinze's New Copper Combine.

The United Copper Company, which is a combination of the Heinze group of copper mines, was incorporated under the laws of New Jersey today with a capital stock of $80,000,000, of which $5,000,000 is preferred and $75,000,000 common. It is officially stated, however, that only $45,000,000 of the common stock will be issued. The papers of incorporation were filed by the law firm of Carey & Whittenberger.

The new stock of the United Copper Company appeared for the first time in the outside securities market today. The first sale was at 33. The most important property of the United Copper Company is the Montana Ore Purchasing Company, which was incorporated nearly 10 years ago. Its business is the purchasing and smelting of copper, silver and gold ores. The copper turned out by the mines owned by the controlling interests of the company is purchased and treated by the Montana Ore Purchasing Company. The company owns a smelting and concentrating plant at Butte, Mont., which, it is said has a capacity of 60,000,000 pounds of copper a year. Its chief mines are the Rarus, Johnstown, Snohomish and Tramway, forming the eastern continuation of the Anaconda.

The authorized capital stock of the company is $2,500,000, of which $2,000,000 has been issued. Since 1893 the company has paid considerably more than $2,000,000 in dividends. The company has a bonded debt of $1,000,000 6 per cent first mortgage bonds. An official of the company some time ago stated that the earnings of the current year would reach $3,000,000. The directors of the company are: F. A. Heinze, J. MacGinness, A. P. Heinze, S. P. Gifford and Otto C. Heinze. It was said today the United Copper Company probably would be formally organized this week and officers and directors elected.

Pocahontas Changes Hands.

It was officially announced today that Kean & VanCortlandt, bankers and brokers of this city, had purchased the entire capital stock of the Pocahontas Collieries Company. This company is said to be the largest independent company operating in the Pocahontas coal fields, being one of the first to locate there. It owns practically the entire city of Pocahontas and all its public works.

The company has been turned over for operation to a New Jersey company recently organized. The securities consist of $1,500,000 6 per cent cumulative preferred and $3,000,000 common stock, and $1,250,000 5 per cent sinking fund bonds. The stock has all been underwritten and it is not likely that it will come on the New York market.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 28.—A dispatch from Grand Forks, B. C., notes that negotiations are proceeding for the consolidation of the Dominion Copper Company and the Snowshoe Gold Copper mines, limited. The properties of the Snowshoe are in Phoenix camp and include the Brooklyn and the Stemwinder. If the deal goes through a smelter will be erected in the Kettle river valley to treat the ores of the mines.

Twenty-five men are blocking out ore in the Johnny at State Line, Utah. A drift has been run on the 100-foot level for 140 feet through solid ore. A 16-stamp mill is to be erected this summer.

Scotch capital has become interested in the Giant at Rossland, and the Bevint Basin and the Lavina in the Lardeau, B. C., and extensive operations are to begin at once.

A strike has been made in the Owl at Gold gulch, near Central, N. M., which averages $50 gold and 2½ ounces of silver. The claim is located upon an old Spanish mine which was worked centuries ago.

Several claims in the immediate neighborhood of the Congress mine of Arizona are showing good values. On the Granite Bear group ore assays from $10 to $150 to the ton. Eastern persons have bonded a number of claims in this district.

The Mary McKinney recently shipped two cars of high-grade ore which brought $240 a ton, or $18,440 for the lot. This is one of the richest shipments from Cripple Creek in several months.

On condition that Sumpter, Ore., will give a site and mining men of the district will contribute $5,000 in cash or ore, capitalists will put in a 400-ton sampling plant and a 100-ton smelter. There is every prospect of the deal being accomplished.

The recent strike in the Tucker at Central City, Col., is holding out well. It carries values of $100 a ton. This mine was acquired from owners about two weeks ago.

After a close examination of conditions in the district California capitalists have decided to build a pyritic smelter at Empire, Col. At present large quantities of refractory mineral, carrying from $5 to $10 in gold and copper, are valueless,' owing to the impossibility of reducing them to a pay shipping form by wet concentration.

The Gold Bug at Mount Reuben, Ore., has closed for a thorough overhauling and to receive an equipment of new machinery, including 40 more stamps, air drills and compressors. The mine is now opened to a depth of 750 feet.

The Metal Market.

At London and New York prices for tin were considerably higher. London closed 15 shillings higher for the day at £129 15s for spot and £125 15s for futures. New York closed about 35 points higher, with spot at $28 15@28 35. Copper was weak and lower at New York, wike lake on spot at 11⅞@12c; electrolytic, 11¾@11⅞c; casting, 11⅝@11¾c; standard copper on spot and for June and July delivery was quoted at 10⅜@11¼c. London copper closed 2s 6d lower at £52 7s 6d for spot and futures. Lead was steady here at 4½c and London was 3s 9d higher at £11 13s 9d. Spelter ruled steady at $4 42½ at New York, while London was 2s 6d lower at £18. Iron from the local furnace was steady and unchanged. Pig iron warrants continued nominally in price; No. 1 foundry northern, $19 00@20 00; No. 2 foundry northern, $18 00@19 00; No. 1 foundry southern, $17 50@18 00; No. 1 foundry southern soft, $17 50@18 00. The English markets were higher, with Glasgow at 54s and Middlesboro at 48s 6d.

STOCK MARKET LACKS ACTIVE LEADERSHIP

Movement of Prices Was Spotty, Halting and Uncertain.

MANY GAINS WIPED OUT

Attitude of Anthracite Operators and Miners Creates a Disagreeable Impression of Impending Hostilities. Wide Advances in a Few Issues.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, April 28.—Speculative interest in stocks showed a considerable falling off today and the full day's transactions scarcely reached a million shares for the first time in two weeks. The feverish activity which has characterized the recent leadership of the market was decidedly lacking, if the rather large dealings in Reading be excepted. The tone of the market was halting and uncertain and the movement of prices was not uniform. The predominant movement, while it failed to embrace the whole list, itself changed a number of times during the day. The failure of the conference committees of the anthracite miners and operators to agree upon terms on Saturday was a disappointment, and the tone of the comment of the parties to the conference created a disagreeable impression. The result was free selling of Reading in the opening dealings, which affected the whole market. This weakness was overcome by strong advances in some of the high priced coalers. The part played in the market by the high priced stocks, of which the floating supply is very small, was notable and their wide movements resulted from a light volume of transactions. As the upward flight of Delaware & Hudson and of New Jersey Central rallied the Readings, so did the spurt in the Chicago & Northwestern stocks give some strength to the grangers and the Pacifics.

Were Constant Relapses.

St. Paul was lifted 2 points over last night and there were gains of 1 to 2 points amongst the southwesterns. The gains were not well held, however, and there was constantly relapses after the market was allowed to become quiet. New York, New Haven & Hartford was another of the high-grade stocks to move, but it saved only a point of its 7-point advance. Among the industrial specialties there were large advances in Amalgamated Copper, International Power, American Express, Pressed Steel Car preferred, Railway Steel Spring and some others which are even more seldom active. The cotton oil stocks, Chemicals, Tobacco preferred and American Agricultural Chemical, were advanced on talk of consolidation. There were stocks of a number of small railroads which were bought on reports of the large activity of local traffic on the railroads, which is calculated to benefit especially this class of roads, and the demand resulted in wide advances in some of the preferred and closely-held common stocks.

Railway Reports Good.

Reports of railroad earnings received during the day were generally favorable and included net earnings for March of a number of systems. Colorado Fuel and Tennessee Coal were bid up late in the day as the local tractions had been earlier but relapsed again without much effect on the general market. The varying movement in the grain market was reflected from time to time in the stock market, but not in a decisive way. The usually active industrials were quite generally heavy. The reduction in the Calumet & Hecla dividend depressed Amalgamated Copper. Sugar was affected by lower prices for the refined; United States Steel seemed to reflect disapproval of the bond issue and United States Leather was affected by realizing. The firmness of foreign exchange reawakened discussion of probable gold exports, but the money market was unaffected. The market closed dull and easy.

The bond market was moderately active and strong. Total sales, par value, $4,045,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

Cattle.

Cattle receipts at the East Liberty stock yards were heavier today than on last Monday. Offerings were cleaned up at prices which varied little from those of Saturday, except that fair to common were 10 to 20 cents lower. Choice to prime cattle were steady. Local Stock Market Was Quite Dull, With an Irregular Tone

PRESSED STEEL CAR MARKED UP SHARPLY

Common Advanced $4 to $46 and the Preferred Was $2 Higher at $88.

WINDOW GLASS ACTIVE

The Steel Stocks Were Very Dull and Rather Heavy—Airbrake Advanced and the Electrics Declined—Fire Proofing Shares Quiet but Firm.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday, except in one or two securities, was very dull and quite irregular in tone. A feature was the continued advance in Pressed Steel Car Company issues, which followed the Wall street market very closely and finished the day locally at the highest prices in months. The preferred was the more active, selling 785 shares, but for a time its price was decidedly irregular. It opened at 86, went to 86¾, then to 87⅛ and 87¼. At that price it halted and next sold at 86¾. Within the last hour it jumped up again to 88, where it closed firm and $2 higher than Saturday. The common sold only 30 shares but they brought 46, an advance of $4, and 45½ was afterward bid for regular lots without offers. There was no apparent reason for either advance, except that Wall street was also taking the issues at higher prices. In the remaining sales the chief interest centered in American Window Glass common. It was very dull until about the noon hour, when one house sold two large blocks, one of 500 and another of 1,000 shares, which swelled the day's total to 2,425 shares. The closing price was at the highest, 62⅝, and a gain of ¾ for the day. Afterward there were offers by one house to trade either way at that figure. Several large blocks offered at 62½, but were withdrawn when the stock went to 62⅝. The preferred was dull and unchanged at 94 for 100. Pittsburgh Plate Glass common was very dull, but sold a small lot at 155⅛, a gain of ¼. Regular lots, however, offered afterward at 155. The steel stocks were dull and rather heavy. Crucible common sagged to 22⅜ and the preferred was steady at 86¾@87. United States Steel sold 100 shares at 42⅜ and more offered at that price, which was a loss of ¼. The preferred did not sell and was only nominally quoted.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales; the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers:

South Side Trust was quoted at 112⅞ bid, 114 asked.

United States Fire Proofing 6s were quoted at 100 bid.

The last trade of the day was 20 and $9 Pittsburgh Coal preferred, which Whitney & Stephenson bought at 90¾; they also bought 2,000 Pennsylvania warrants, 5-16.

At noon R. C. Hall bid 36¾ for 500 Pittsburgh, Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad cons. 5s.

Shortly after 2 o'clock 1,000 American Window Glass common was offered at 62½ by R. C. Hall.

The directors of the New York Corn Exchange bank have voted to purchase the Eleventh Ward bank at Avenue D and Tenth street, subject to ratification by the stockholders at a meeting, May 12. The stockholders of the Eleventh Ward bank meet the same day to vote upon the proposition. With this addition the Corn Exchange bank will have 12 branches.

Frederick L. Kent of the First National bank of Chicago, was a visitor at the Pittsburgh clearing house yesterday.

It is said an effort is being made to have Attorney General Knox investigate the Sugar trust as he is the beef trust.

A. C. Wettengel sold 200 Monongahela Water at 41 to Sproul & Co.; this is the largest single trade in the stock in some time.

The fusion forces in New Haven was on rumors that the New York Central and Pennsylvania will jointly control the road.

The first trade of the day was 300 Crucible Steel preferred, which John Harbour, Jr. bought from A. J. Lawrence at 86⅞.

Cotton Oil and Virginia Chemical are again strong, and Wall street regards the merger as a foregone conclusion. The dividend on the latter is to be increased.

Preston, Watt & Schoyer sold Cosmopolitan National bank at 105½ and Hall bought and wanted more; these were initial trades on the Pittsburgh stock exchange in the stock.

Hall bought of 400 American Window Glass common at 10:30 at 62¼; despite the fact that Mr. Miller is a prominent bull on the stock, he occasionally gets big orders on the bear side and sold 1,000 at 12:30 at 62⅜ and sold 1,600 at 62½. McMullin bought 1,100.

George Ayres of Henry Sproul & Co. has returned from a trip to Pasadena, Cal., greatly benefited in health. Mr. Ayres will resume his work with Messrs. Sproul & Co. in a few days. He was given a cordial welcome home.

The Pennsylvania dividend is due this week and there is no probability of a change. The known policy of the road is to keep on a 5 per cent basis and pay the dividends on the earnings allow. Stockholders have done wonderfully well on the matter of rights in the last few years and the recent buying seems to indicate speculative possibilities.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of Pittsburgh chapter, A. I. B. C., will be held in the U. P. Assembly room, Ninth street and Penn avenue, this evening at 8 o'clock. The subject, "How to Keep Ahead of Your Position," will be presented by Frederick I. Kent, president of Chicago chapter. An informal reception will be held from 8 to 8:30 o'clock to afford the members an opportunity of meeting Mr. Kent in a social manner.

There is a large class of people who want to speculate without large margin or risk, and therefore they scan the market for stocks that sell at a few dollars per share. Hence every day we observe activity and rising quotations for some of the low-priced stocks which (as was wittily said recently by a financial writer) are "specialities" if one owns them, but otherwise called "cats and dogs."—Watson & Gibson.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Receipts were somewhat heavier than the average of recent days, but reports from the west were of strong markets and local quotations did not change. The bulk of the large receipts was hay, and not much of this was of higher grades.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 54 cars hay, 10 cars corn, 10 cars oats, 6 cars straw, 1 car wheat, 1 car hay and straw, 1 car feed, 1 car flour; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 6 cars hay, 2 cars oats; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 11 cars hay, 2 cars oats; total receipts, 105 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, millfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Straw—Oat, $7 00@7 50; wheat, $7 00@7 50; rye, $8 00@8 25.

Groceries.

The development of yesterday was the coming of the expected decline in the price of refined sugar, all grades going off five points. Raw sugars have been very weak for some time, and it has been freely predicted that refined would be lower, the only uncertainty being as to the extent of the probable cut. Other lines are unchanged. Wheat was a trifle weaker, but flour was not affected.

Fleischmann's Yeast Foods' spring patents, $4 15@4 25; fancy winter patents, $4 10@4 15; straight winter, $3 60@3 85; bakers', spring, $3 90@3 95; rye, $3 60@3 75; graham, $3 25@4 00; cornmeal, bbl, $3 40@3 50; 10-lb cotton bags, 18@19c.

Fruits and Produce.

Holders of potatoes are very firm, fancy stock bringing $1 20 on track yesterday, potatoes being sold from store as high as $1 25. Of course there is the usual cry of a corner, but there seems to be little reason to doubt the present advance in prices is other than the natural result of a stiff demand, occasioned largely by the high price of meat. Tomatoes and spinach are weaker.

Apples—Choice and fancy, $2 50@5 00; California, per box, $1 25@1 75.

Potatoes—On track, per bu, $1 20@1 25; carlots, in bags, $1 15@1 20; from store, $1 20@1 30; Jersey sweets, fancy crates, $1 75@2 00.

ASKS SETOFF OF $85,000

Suit Is a Sequel to Corner in Northern Pacific—Lathrop Bacon & Co. Want Specific Performance of an Alleged Agreement.

An affidavit of defense was filed yesterday in common pleas court No. 2 by James H. McCutcheon in the equity suit brought against him and others by Lathrop R. Bacon & Co. The action was brought for the specific performance of an agreement whereby McCutcheon is said to have indemnified the plaintiff for losses sustained in stock transactions carried on at a period when Northern Pacific was cornered last May.

McCutcheon says he is not indebted to the plaintiff in any sum, but on the contrary the firm is indebted to him. He denies that a demand was made upon him by the plaintiff for the payment of $67,257 30, and goes into details about the transactions to show that upon May 8, 1901, the plaintiff was indebted to him in the sum of $32,000. He declares, however, as the result of the Northern Pacific deal when it was cornered, the plaintiff claimed he owed the firm $70,000. He speaks of the settlement of $150 a share arrived at by the brokers of the stock, at which time he refused to carry out the agreement mentioned.

McCutcheon declares the firm was negligent in its duty in not making a settlement, and alleges that it has no right to sue and harass him, as it was the duty of the plaintiff to protect him against any false, fraudulent and fictitious transactions in Northern Pacific stock. In conclusion McCutcheon alleges the firm owes him $85,000.

EASTERN CASES DECIDED.

Superior Court Finishing Up Appeals in Allegheny County Issues.

Judge W. D. Porter in superior court yesterday handed down a number of opinions in cases mostly from the eastern district. They were: Price & Clark against M. K. Beach, Tioga county, judgment reversed; Hanford L. Spaulding against Charles E. Bullock, Bradford, judgment reversed; John A. Neuls against the city of Scranton, Lackawanna, judgment affirmed; H. C. and George G. Gibbs against Dewiton Sweet, Lackawanna, judgment affirmed.

The following cases from Allegheny county were heard yesterday:

Quarter sessions court—Appeal of C. F. Baxmeyer in a road case.

Common pleas No. 2—John Hopkins and others, appellants against J. T. Stonerod and others, an action over drainage.

Common pleas No. 3—Andrew Fyfe against the borough of Turtle Creek, appellant, an appeal from the report of a board of viewers; George B. Sloan, appellant against Daniel J. Johnson, an action on an account.

GRAND JURY MEETS.

Number of Bills Returned, but No Cases Will Be Heard This Week.

The grand jury met yesterday morning and will be in session all of this week. On account of the license court being in session no criminal cases will be heard this week. The jury for criminal court ordered for yesterday was told not to report until May 5.

The following bills were returned:

True bills—Robbery, J. McNellis, John Flaherty and Patrick Gavin; entering a building, etc., Nicola Araglia, James Fleming et al., William Howard, Frank Layton, Frank J. Sramek, Harry Vaugh (2); larceny, Clarence Byers, Frank Frey, Carl Hummel, Mike Ondik, Frank Trousee, E. T. Whittler et al., Frank Wilson, George Wilson, W. Walney, Tom Walton; assault and battery, George Combs, Robert Woods; aggravated assault and battery, John Enright; felonious assault and battery, John Hughes; false pretenses, Stanislaus Karpans; embezzlement, C. D. Tittle, L. T. Lohr, Christian W. Reckley; carrying concealed weapons, Joseph Ott.

The grand jury also affirmatively recommended the erection of a bridge over Douglass Run, Elizabeth township, and that it be built at the expense of the county.

Mrs. Schenley to Testify.

Petitions were filed for authority to take the depositions of Mary E. Schenley in the matter of the proceedings to quash the ordinance for the vacation of Fort street. These depositions will be taken by Frances William Frigout, deputy consul general at London, Eng. The questions to be answered by Mrs. Schenley are generally upon the authority given to John W. Herron to sign the petition.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

The account of the trustee of Mary Oliver, deceased, shows a balance of $28,256 55.

By the will of Betsy Pickersgill a small estate is left to her husband. Attorney C. C. Lee represents the state.

A libel in divorce was filed by Ada Almenda Hookey against her husband, Jacob. Cruel and barbarous treatment is alleged.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by Theodore J. De Haas, a merchant of Tyrone, showing liabilities, $6,271, and assets, $3,468.

William S. Ferree entered suit against A. Hassman to recover $10,000 for the alleged alienation of the affections of his wife, Florence Feree.

In the register's office William McCracken filed a caveat against the probate of any paper purporting to be the will of Stewart McCracken.

W. L. Mellon, through Attorneys Knox & Reed, filed a petition for the satisfaction of a $700 mortgage placed upon Mifflin township property in 1843.

Mrs. Bella Foreman of Glassport, Pa., took out letters of administration on the estate of Charles C. Foreman. The administratrix is represented by Attorney John A. Emery, Jr.

In the equity suit of James B. McDowell and others against Judge S. Klinefelter and others for specific performance of contract, Judge Shafer refuses to modify his decree.

Z. N. Muzina entered suit against the Provident Trust Company for $5,000 damages for alleged disgrace suffered by reason of the defendant's refusal to honor a check made by him.

An affidavit of defense was filed in the case of Herman Stein against Samuel and Max Markovosky, involving a partnership. The defendants say that when a dissolution was made the plaintiff was indebted to them.

Executions were issued as follows: George M. Frice vs. David J. Morgan, $700; W. O. McNary vs. W. S. Seaburg, $105; T. Tully vs. A. H. Anderson et al., $135; A. K. Stevenson, use, vs. the Oakland Homestead Loan and Trust Company, et al., $5,421.

In the partition proceeding of John W. Campbell against W. C. Caughey and others, Judge Shafer yesterday set aside the master's sale of the property involved in Lawrence county. The property was sold for $1,180 and another person now agrees to bid $1,500. As the sale was not confirmed by the court, Judge Shafer says the first purchaser cannot object.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by Herman G. Scott, a dealer in builders' supplies, of Pittsburgh. His schedule shows liabilities of $16,548 and assets, $29,814. Of the latter $5,000 is in real estate, $2,694 stock in trade, $2,275 in horses and other stock, $6,609 debts due on account and $10,000 insurance. The bankrupt says that he has about 110 creditors.

The following decrees in distribution were made: Estate of James Torrence, $815; F. Boos, $616 20; Ellen D. Means, $15,345 36; Ada McMillen, $5,750 70; George McKeever, $760 50; James F. Callahan, $237 60; Maria Weisley, $518 75; John Halligan, $760 11; Sophia Matthias, $3,008 44; John W. Wheeler, $24,320; James H. Porte, $426 76; the Rev. R. L. Miller, $9,387 34.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed against the Druggists' Sundry Company of Pittsburgh by creditors, who allege that while insolvent it paid certain claims to the Pennsylvania Trust Company and N. M. Hill Brass Company, with intent to prefer them; that the company admitted its inability to pay its debts and its willingness to be adjudged a bankrupt. A restraining order was made prohibiting the sale of the company's property.

A petition was presented by Mrs. F. K. Hulings in the case against the steamboat F. K. Hulings, setting forth that she owns two-thirds of the boat. She says that the boat has several contracts for towing, which cannot be fulfilled while the boat is in the hands of the United States marshal. An order was made releasing the boat upon the filing of a $10,000 bond by Mrs. Hulings for the return of the boat to the marshal in time for its sale.

TOO LATE NOW TO INSPECT THE BRIDGES

Chamber of Commerce Notified That the Amendment Cannot Be Included This Season.

The members of the rivers and harbor committee of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce, who were anxious to have congress provide for an inspection of the bridges hereabouts with a view of determining whether or not they were an obstruction to navigation, are very much disappointed to learn that it is probable that the measure cannot be passed this session.

The resolutions passed by the board of directors at the meeting last week, in which Senators Quay and Penrose and Representatives Dalzell and Graham were requested to urge the insertion of the measure in the river and harbor bill then before the senate were promptly forwarded by President Logan, but both senators and Representative Dalzell have written, informing the chamber that, as the bill has passed the senate, it is now too late to have the amendment inserted.

Capt. W. B. Rodgers, chairman of the committee of the chamber of commerce, said yesterday that he had hopes that the matter might yet be favorably acted upon, and that he had written to Senator Quay urging the importance of the amendment and asking that another effort be made before the bill becomes a law. It is feared by rivermen generally that the secretary of war will not recommend the expenditure of money for any of the proposed locks and dams on the Allegheny unless the bridges are raised to a height which will permit steamboats to pass under them when the slack-water improvements are completed.

The regular meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held Thursday, and it is probable that the report of the rivers and harbor committee on the subject of the bridges will receive considerable attention.

William M. Kennedy, chairman of the committee on greater Pittsburgh, expects to call the committee to gether at an early date, possibly on Friday. It is understood that the attorneys who have been in charge of the legal questions involved in the proposed consolidation will probably be ready to report at that time and the remainder of the work can then be decided upon.

The chamber has received a number of communications from commercial bodies throughout the country in regard to consular reform legislation and requesting copies of the resolutions recently passed by the chamber on this subject. One of these letters comes from the secretary of the national committee on consular reorganization, who states that they are now trying to persuade Speaker Henderson of the house of representatives to have the Adams bill called up for early consideration, and that Senator Lodge has promised to attend to the bill in the senate.

NO SETTLEMENT IS IN SIGHT AS YET

General Manager of the Bell Telephone Company Met Linemen but Refused to Sign.

General Manager M. H. Buehler of the Central District and Printing Telegraph Company, the Pittsburgh Bell concern, yesterday had a conference with William Boate, president of the United Labor league of Western Pennsylvania, and R. E. Collier, leader of the striking linemen, in reference to a strike settlement. Mr. Buehler explained that he could not see his way clear to enter a wage agreement with the linemen at this time. The strike leaders anticipate further developments looking to a settlement in a few days.

An effort to repair the damaged telephone lines out Second avenue was frustrated yesterday by the strike pickets. Men sent to the work were drawn off.

Edward Rinehart, one of the men who came here to take strikers' places and who was held in $500 bail for court by Alderman Anderson, is said to have left the city. He came here from Baltimore and strike leaders say that he petitioned them to give him any sum from $5 to $25 and his railroad fare to Baltimore to leave. He is alleged to have said at the same time that the Pittsburgh & Allegheny Telephone Company owed him $45, but he was willing to drop this to get away. The strike leaders believed that they were being tricked to aid Rinehart to jump his bond. R. D. McRoberts, one of the strikers, had Rinehart arrested on a charge of assault and battery.

BESSEMER ROAD GAINS BY STANDARD CARS

BUTLER BUSINESS TO GO TO THE BESSEMER

Every day many carloads of structural material for the big works of the Standard Steel Car Company at Butler are leaving the Edgar Thomson works at Braddock. The freight is being sent over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie to Rankin and thence over the Bessemer & Lake Erie to Butler. There is about 6,000 tons of this material. Nearly half is now delivered.

The construction of the Standard's plant at Butler will prove a great producer of revenue to the Bessemer, with which road the new company will have close traffic arrangements. Cars leaving the plant will be sent over the Bessemer in either direction to connect with lines leading to all points. Few empty new cars will be delivered to the railroads owning the new equipment. The cars will be loaded with material from this district, rails, coal, etc., for their start to the railroad for which they were built, and thus save the expense of hauling them empty.

There are many hundreds of men at work now at Butler and the plans of the company in the way of shops are becoming very evident already. It is expected to have the greater portion of this construction work completed in four or five months. Orders for enough cars to give the company a good start are already on the books.

At first the switching will be done by the Bessemer. Switches will be built and an engine furnished to serve this plant alone. It is expected later, however, to have a terminal railroad belonging to the company.

P. R. R. President Here Tomorrow.

President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad is expected to arrive in Pittsburgh tomorrow morning on a special train on which he is making, with the other officers of the road, the regular spring inspection of the system. The train left Philadelphia at 8 p. m., yesterday, and the officials stopped over at Altoona for the night. It was expected that Mr. Cassatt would reach here today, but he has been detained.

In Pittsburgh also much attention to improvements will be given, for the Pennsylvania is making here betterments costing over $10,000,000. The exact time for the itinerary over the lines west of Pittsburgh is not yet announced. While here, President Cassatt will make a thorough inspection of the new offices in the Union station, which have been occupied since his last visit here.

Deny Purchase of New Haven.

President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad and President Hall of the New York, New Haven & Hartford, unite in denying that any foundation whatever exists for the recent reports of Pennsylvania control of the latter road. The reports were given their latest circulation by the announcement of plans to connect the two roads by means of a bridge at Ward's island. The traffic relations of the lines have been very close for several years, and officials state that no nearer connection is now desired.

Work on Train-Shed Started.

It has been finally decided to push work ahead at once on the big rainshed at the Union station. The work has been delayed for nearly a year by various causes, the strike of the structural steelworkers having been the first reason. Men started yesterday morning making preparations for the erection of the mammoth traveling crane around which the structural steel shed is to be built. Three weeks will be required in completing this crane alone. The material for the ironsence has been completed for several months and is lying in the yards of the Pennsylvania about the city.

W. P. LAWLOR GIVEN FAREWELL PRESENTS

His Friends Among Pittsburgh Freight Men Unite in Expressing Their Good Will.

Fully 100 of the freight men of Pittsburgh gathered in the offices of the Southern Pacific and allied lines in the Park building at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon to take part in and witness the presentation of five gifts to William P. Lawlor, the retiring chief clerk in the city freight offices of the Baltimore & Ohio. As exclusively announced in The Gazette, Mr. Lawlor was recently appointed contracting agent of the Mexican Central at New York. He left this city to take up his duties last night.

The gifts are a handsome gold watch from his fellow employes in the city freight office of the Baltimore & Ohio, an equally handsome chain and diamond-studded charm from the Pittsburgh freight agents of outside lines, a traveling suit case, and, last of all, a dollar watch and a key to the Bowery from Fred W. Salisbury of the Canadian Pacific.

The gifts came as a surprise to Mr. Lawlor, and the kindly feeling toward him shown by those who gave the presents overcame his usually ready wit.

The watch was presented by J. H. Eppelsheimer, contracting freight agent of the Baltimore & Ohio, the chain, charm and traveling case by J. E. Corfield, contracting agent of the Union Pacific. Mr. Corfield also made the presentation of the watch and key from Mr. Salisbury, which the latter stated in a letter were given only on the promise that "Bill" Lawlor would go away from Pittsburgh and stay away.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The freight officials of the Pennsylvania system, who were in session in this city for two days last week and then went to Chicago, have returned.

Today the executive offices of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh will be installed upon the ninth floor of the new Union station building.

President Ramsey of the Wabash, who was expected to stop off in Pittsburgh on his return from New York to St. Louis yesterday, did not do so, the pressure of business at headquarters not giving him the time.

Arrangements have been practically completed, it is said, by which the Baltimore & Ohio will obtain the charter and rights of way of the East Liverpool & Canton Railroad Company. This will give the Baltimore & Ohio an entrance into the rich manufacturing district along the Ohio river in the vicinity of East Liverpool.

ASKED ABOUT THE VISIT OF BIDDLES

JUDGE FRAZER PUT MANY QUESTIONS TO WELLER.

Proprietor of a Roadhouse Out the Perrysville Road Had to Tell About the Visit to His Place of Mrs. Soffel and the Convicts.

The Biddle case was in court yesterday in a manner not expected. Christ R. Weller was an applicant for a license for his place out the Perrysville road, and it was there that the Biddles and Mrs. Soffel stopped on the night of January 30, after the escape of the morning before.

Weller was very closely questioned by both Judges Frazer and Rodgers about the visit. He told of how Edward Biddle purchased six sandwiches, and was a little surprised when asked about the bottle of whisky which was sold after hours. He explained the sale by saying he did not think it any harm in view of the long journey before the visitor.

Weller claimed not to have known of the visit of John Biddle and Mrs. Soffel until the following morning, when, he said, his wife told him. He denied having had any trouble, and said he did not run a dance hall in connection with his house.

The matter of supplying kegs of beer caused considerable questioning. Weller said that they were left by the brewery wagons for some of his neighbors, so that they could get them when they wanted them, and that really he had nothing to do with them. His cellar was simply a depository for the convenience of his friends.

Speakeasies at North Star.

There was a remonstrance against Louis Drugomund, applicant for a license at North Star. The usual objections were urged. Drugomund said North Star was "full of speakeasies."

"Can you name some of them?" asked Judge Frazer.

"Yes, sir," was the reply. The applicant then gave the names of three proprietors of alleged speakeasies, which the court ordered recorded.

William and Thomas Redman, who ask for another license at the Cliff mines, had a hard time. One of the men had been before Judge Frazer charged with selling liquor illegally, but was acquitted by a jury. Judge Frazer, however, informed him yesterday that he was so positive at the time that the jury had erred that he had put three-fourths of the costs on the defendants. The remonstrants against the place claimed that the house was kept in a filthy condition and that women and children were sold liquor.

Paul Welsenberger, who applies for a license on Neville island, was remonstrated against. One of his witnesses, a man named Moffatt, said that he thought the saloon necessary, as it would do away with some speakeasies.

Reports from Neville Island.

"Are there speakeasies there?" asked Judge Frazer.

"I'm looking at one every day," replied the applicant, "and I know of several others."

"Don't you think, as a good citizen, that it is your duty to report what you know to the proper officers?" asked Judge Frazer.

The witness said that it had been done, but no action had been taken in the matter. He said that County Detective Robinson had been notified.

"Well, will you give us the names of the proprietors of these places and we will see that they are shut up," said Judge Frazer.

The witness was at first willing to give names, but could only think of a man named Murray at lock No. 2. Judge Frazer told him to report the places to Constable Frank Patterson and the court would see that he returned them to court.

Fifty cases were heard yesterday and this leaves 57 regular cases and a number of postponed cases yet to be heard. It is hardly probable that they will be completed today.

HONOR FOR THE DEAD.

Veterans of Spanish-American War and Duquesne Greys Will Parade at Funeral.

Camp Lieut. Friend W. Jenkins, No. 16, Service Men of the Spanish War, the Duquesne Greys and the Philippine War Veterans of Pittsburgh will form an escort to receive the remains of Private John Heaps, who met his death in the Philippines, when they arrive here at Union station Thursday.

Private Heaps met his death in the Philippine struggle about a year ago. He was a son of George Heaps of 127 Fourth avenue.

A military funeral will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Peter's Episcopal church, in Sixth avenue. The burial will be at Mt. Lebanon cemetery.
